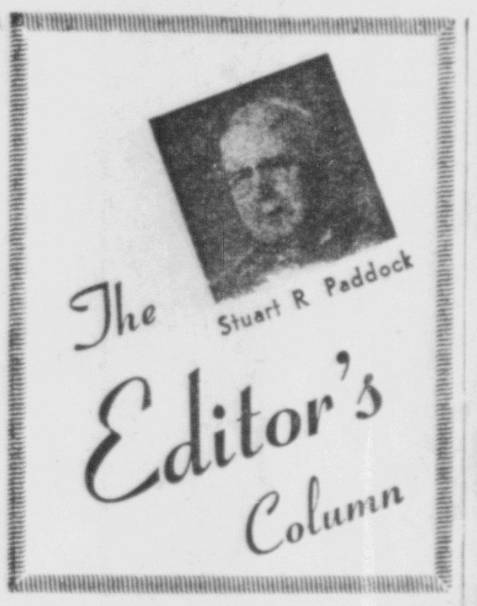
School District Merger Proposed



The Editor's Column

Twenty years ago last week, fire broke out in the Paddock Publications plant resulting in severe damage to building and printing equipment. We did not miss a single issue. Brother publishers offered their aid.

It was a really lucky fire because it forced us to a new location. We are not casting any reflections on present day builders, but within two months after ground was broken, the new building was completed.

That was how they did things back in 1938.

A phone call received this week severely criticizes us because an editorial published in one of our editions last week favored a school bond issue at Roselle. The bond issue carried. The critic claimed we had not published both sides of the story.

It is the policy of this paper to give both sides of any public question. Perhaps the school group did too good a job selling their side of the story to the editor.

Arlington Heights business interests are happy over the report that a new location for the present Illinois Bell warehouse and material yard on S. Evergreen st. has been found and offered that company.

The business area needs the expansion that would result if that company accepts the new location.

The railroad promises commuters faster rides to Chicago. The highway department warns us that speed limits on the highways are to be reduced.

While commuters will welcome the reduced time, the autoists who are accustomed to getting to their jobs in nothing flat are not going to be very happy.

Anyway, the commuters have the satisfaction of knowing that the North Western president, through the press, has issued an apology to its riders because of delays and mixups occasioned when the new schedules were put into effect. He has at least promised to do a better job in the future.

Suppliers of the village of Palatine have again been asked by Mayor Olsen to refrain from making Christmas gifts to village employees. We presume the order also applies to the mayor himself and other officials.

Thus, there can be no expectations of vicuna coats, the acceptance of which by Sherman Adams cost him his job, and greatly embarrassed the Republican party.

That is not saying that some of the fellows are not deserving of recognition for the excellent way they are handling their municipal jobs.

The late H. C. Paddock when he told his readers in 1908 that a new Potter press would be ample for the next 100 years (see Way Back When) had no idea what would happen circulation-wise concerning the papers he was then publishing.

If last week's edition was published on that Potter press, it would have required 240 hours of press running time — 10 days. Fifteen tons of paper were used in the Dec. 3rd edition.

Your postmasters and a score of carriers suggest we ask city delivery mail patrons to keep their walks cleared of snow. Their job this Christmas season is difficult. Fighting snow makes it more so.

While talking of snow we want to compliment the municipal employees who have done such an excellent job in snow removal.

Paper Pickup

The Boy Scouts of Arlington Heights are conducting a paper drive on the north side of the village Saturday, Dec. 13.

Scouts have asked village residents to cooperate with them by placing tied bundles of paper (or boxed) at the curbs in front of their homes.

Boards Discuss Plan on Jan. 20

The board of education of Forest View school district 56 has proposed what amounts to a gamble — consolidation of the district with that of Arlington Heights district 25.

In a letter to the Arlington board, district 56, and area adjacent to and immediately south of Arlington Heights, requested a meeting to effect the merger which would almost double the present size of district 25's boundaries.

The gamble is — what is the future of this large unincorporated area? At a meeting of the Arlington board Tuesday night, members agreed to a discussion date with district 56 on January 20 to weigh the merits of this gamble.

DISTRICT 56 is bisected by the Northwest toll road, and it is possible that, if Arlington Heights agrees to the merger, only the northern part would be joined, with the southern half possibly merging with Elk Grove school district. At a meeting of the Intergovernmental council, December 3, village fathers discussed the possible annexation and expansion of the village limits southward to the toll road, roughly along the same boundaries of school district 56's northern section, a natural route of village expansion. With this a likelihood, and if the school districts merge, both district 25 and the village would enjoy the same southern limits.

If the board agrees that the merits of combining the districts outweigh any disadvantages, Supt. Ralph E. Claubaugh said, the merger may come about by annexation or consolidation.

OPPONENTS of a merger may point out that:

—The area may stay, as it is now, one of low assessment, or be developed into a community of low-income-type homes with many children, thus resulting in a burden on taxpayers in other areas.

—Many residents there now might object to rezoning present land for industry which would hike the combined school district's income, and thus prevent such zoning.

—The tax rate would be lowered, and create a financial crisis in the school district. (The school code provides that in consolidating, the district's authorized tax levy would revert to the minimum of .90 per cent of assessed valuation for educational funds, and .25 per cent for building and land procurement).

ON THE OTHER hand, proponents of a merger, may state:

—The area, when annexed to the village, could be rezoned to permit some industry, and thereby help alleviate the tax burden for school support that now falls on the shoulders of Arlington Heights home owners. This is a very real possibility.

—The interests of planning and good local government would be best served by having village and school districts coordinated.

This latter point was emphasized by Claubaugh to the school board.

"Most of us have seen, while driving along a highway, a sign saying you are leaving the village limits, only to come upon another sign a few blocks later saying that you are once again in the same village. This shows a lack of planning, something that has afflicted many rapidly growing communities," he said.

Mail for Santa Claus Is Pouring into North Pole

Santa is in for rough sledding this year — and not for a lack of snow.

Mail has been pouring into "North Pole Santaquarters" from area post offices in greater quantities than ever before, and, according to a recent statement by Mr. Claus, he is getting more requests for certain items than he may be able to fill.

Another of Santa's headaches, and a serious one, is a labor shortage is his cryptography department. The deluge of mail, quite a bit of it from youngsters who haven't been to school yet, makes the reading of this mail a difficult problem. One Palatine youngster, who signed his name "Tommy," asked for "an arplan, and a trane," and Elaine from Buffalo Grove asked for a "dol."

These were relatively simple for Santa, but he is having trouble with one letter postmarked from Arlington Heights signed ".,c;." The letter reads in part, ";,cb,-'."/¾.-/:$;&." But don't worry, .,c;., Santa will have your letter deciphered in time for Christmas.

THE MOST POPULAR toys, as requested in the avalanche of letters from northwest suburban boys and girls, are electric trains, bulldog tanks, Zorro sets, ice cream making machines, various dolls. Pom Pom guns are also making a fine showing.

According to Santa, Jack, of 501 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, will get a "two gun holster," and Kevin Blythe, 734 E. Lincoln st., Palatine, will get his electric train this year, and there will be a toy for his new baby brother. Santa asked Kevin to understand that the reason he didn't get his train last year was that there were so many requests for trains that he couldn't fill them all.

Bonnie Little, a 4½-year-old who lives at 914 Prospect Manor, Mt. Prospect, who is "trying" to be a good girl, asks for an electric organ, a Shirley Temple doll, an ice cream making machine, a doll house, and a fire engine "for girls." Santa promised to get Bonnie some of these things, but cautioned that by the time he gets over Mt. Prospect he may be short a few items. He did say he'd be looking forward to the cookies and milk, Bonnie.

BILLY WEIDE, with the aplomb of an advertising copywriter, requested "the exciting new U.S. army bulldog tank, authentic copy of army mobile . . ., Zorro dashing TV adventure watch . . .," and a few other items.

Gayle, at 107 S. Phelps ave., Arlington Heights, asked for "a big 24-inch Toodles doll," and Carolyn Towers, 3502 Wren lane S., Rolling Meadows, sent Santa a 16-item list headed by "a carriage, dollie bath, tea set, and high heels."

Santa thanked Danny Soper, 6, of 2200 W. Sigwalt, Rolling Meadows, for the fine crayon drawing of his elf, and is giving serious consideration to his request for a Zorro suit and bulldog tank. Danny's older brother and sister will have a surprise in store come Christmas morning, too.

Michael Limberg, 3200 Owl dr., Rolling Meadows, wants a "choo choo train set," and a few other items, and 7-year-old Stuart Morgan, 321 Drury lane, Arlington Heights, just might get his arsenal, including a "six-in-one invader gun." He is, as he said, "a good boy."

SANTA THINKS he can handle the Mr. and Mrs. Potato Head requested by Jimmy, but that three-speed record player might be another matter. They're as scarce as bad boys and girls around Christmas time, Jimmy. Jimmy's sister might very well get the Tiny Tears doll, too.

Seven-year-old Tommy Quinn sent a 12-item list for Santa's perusal, a list which includes the prices. Tom-boy, you're getting up in the money, and Santa thinks he'll have to trim the list a bit. But don't worry, you'll be surprised at Christmas.

Mike Strentz, 3105 Falcon ct., Rolling Meadows, may just get those snow pants along with some equipment for his railroad, and 4½-year-old Keith and 2-year-old sister Karen are going to get most of the things they requested.

Kathy, a "good" 4-year-old, and her little brother have both asked for chairs, and Kathy wants a doll crib in addition. Paul Garbisch, 219 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, has asked for a telescope, and Ricky Steingraber, 314 S. Drury lane, wants some train equipment. O.K., fellows.

AND KEVIN Middleton, of 2415 Jay lane, Rolling Meadows, your list is in Santa's hands. He thinks he can swing that royal Bengal tiger (but not a real one), the colored pencils, and a few other items. Thanks very much for your letter.

Santa's schedule should bring him over the area sometime early Christmas morning, providing he doesn't run into some bad weather on the flight down. He thanked all the boys and girls for their letters.

THE FIRST HEAVY snowfall of the season blanketed Arlington Heights this week and brought seasonal problems to officers of the police department. Here, Officer Ira C. Melbourne writes out a warning to parking meter violator at commuter parking lot off Vail st. One difficulty brought on by snow and ice, says Melbourne, is that parking meters freeze up and it's hard to tell a violator without sometimes beating the meter. Fellow officers, on seeing Melbourne enter from the cold, have noted his flushed face and dubbed him, "The Purple People Meter-Beater."

Santa's Helpers To Assist Blind

DON'T BE BLIND. GIVE LIONS

SANTA CLAUS RUDY BORN, an Arlington Heights Lion, runs through a dress rehearsal of the role he will be playing through the pre-Christmas season. The Lions club appeal is to help the needy blind of the area by providing leader dogs, books in Braille, and recording equipment.

Certain Lions will be hiding their identity behind long white beards and red suits as Santa's helpers starting December 12 and continuing every day until Christmas except Sundays.

THE PURPOSE of the Yule get-up, says Harold ("Red") Best, Arlington Heights police officer and a director of the Lions club, is to raise funds for the needy blind of the area. The Santa-dressed Lions will appear during normal shopping hours at local business centers in an appeal for funds. They will be accompanied by alms-pots suspended from tripods.

The Lions are dedicated to helping the blind in a world-wide program, says Best. They provide leader dogs so the blind can move about freely, Braille typewriters so they can communicate, recorders so they may listen to music and learn the texts of great books. Lions are helping to create educational facilities so the blind may learn, become self-sufficient, and enrich their lives.

"CAN YOU imagine Christmas without Santa Claus, gay trees, lights, colorful store windows, smiles on children's faces, the image of Our Lord on his birthday?" asks Best. These are pleasures the blind are denied, he says.

"When you see this Santa Claus on the streets the next two weeks, please give all you can. The Lions club of Arlington Heights will guarantee that all funds collected will be used to provide a Christmas gift to be used by the local blind all year 'round," Best said.

Carolers from the junior high school on December 12, and from the high school on the 19th, will cluster around the Santa's at the centers.

Christmas Hours

Arlington Heights post office is now operating under its special Christmas holiday hours.

The post office will be open week days from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Two Saturdays—December 13 and 20—the hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and two Sundays — December 14 and 23—hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. On December 23 and 24, the post office will be open 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 8:30 to noon respectively.

Park District Boundaries Cause Headaches to Towns

Years ago, when many acres of land separated Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect, a group of men studied a map and said:

"We'll draw a line right here. Everything east of the line will be under the jurisdiction of the Mt. Prospect park district, and everything west will belong to the Arlington Heights park district."

So a line was drawn, and in those days, it was easier to arrive at such decisions by following section lines already logged on maps.

Now, with cornfields disappearing overnight, a problem has arisen.

MT. PROSPECT wants a parcel of land north of the railroad tracks where it can build a park and eventually install a swimming pool. But rapid growth in that section of the village has made it difficult to locate the ideal spot.

The possibility now arises, however, that the Mt. Prospect park district may wind up with a park and swimming pool inside the Arlington Heights village limits.

This unprecedented situation developed in the last few weeks.

Site of the proposed park is near the Prospect high school on Foundry rd.

THE MT. PROSPECT park district asked the high school to release a part of its 60 acres for park purposes, but this request was denied on the grounds that the school needed all of its land for future expansion.

Then Mt. Prospect turned to a parcel of land that adjoins the high school on the west. This property has been a farm, but recently the Stoltzner Construction company acquired an option to purchase the property and is asking Arlington Heights to annex the land.

Mt. Prospect learned of this turn of events and wrote a letter to the Arlington Heights village board which, in essence, went this way:

"If you annex this land, we want 5 or 6 acres of it for park purposes. And officials of the Stoltzner Construction company have promised they will dedicate (give) enough land for a park."

THERE HAS BEEN an exchange of letters on the subject and a consensus of opinion has developed that here is an unusual problem that needs further study.

"Growth . . . rapid growth caused this," said Mayor Edward Carlisle of Arlington Heights.

"We're not encroaching," said Ed Broddy of the Mt. Prospect park district. "That land is inside the boundary of our park district and if Stoltzner gives up land for a park district, we should have it."

Mayor Carlisle added:

"Guess Arlington Heights wouldn't object too much if Mt. Prospect builds us a park and swimming pool right inside our village."

Caucus Committee To Meet Dec. 15

Bob Bogan, newly-elected chairman of the Arlington Heights Caucus, announced this week the appointment of a committee to draft permanent by-laws which will be presented for discussion at the next public meeting.

The Candidate Recommendation committee is accepting names of qualified candidates to fill public offices vacated next April.

THE CAUCUS was organized two years ago to promote "the office seeking the man, rather than the man seeking the office."

"There are many village residents qualified for public office, but who hesitate to come forward. We are anxious to consider all those who are qualified and again remind all voters to submit the names of those whom they feel qualified to Candidate Recommendation Committee Chairman Victor Meyer, 644 S. Lincoln lane. All people whose names are submitted will be contacted and interviewed," said Bogan.

The names of those qualified will be presented at the next public meeting in late January or early February, and a slate will be elected by a vote of all those present at this meeting.

Safety Instructions Needed For Bicyclists: Klamm

Safety instruction for bicyclists is a must for youth in Arlington Heights, according to Edward Klamm, president of the Arlington Heights Area Traffic Safety Council.

Citing a report by the National Safety Council, Klamm stated that between 400 and 500 bicycle riders are killed each year on our nations streets and highways, and another 25,000 suffer disabling injuries. To date, Arlington Heights has been very lucky, Klamm said, since we have had no bicycle fatalities. However, there have been 21 accidents involving bicycles and motor bicycles in Arlington Heights since March 1 according to the Arlington Heights police department. Of these 14 involved injuries.

MANY BICYCLISTS have been noted riding on the wrong side of the street against traffic, traveling at night without lights, and weaving in and out of traffic, Klamm stated. Compaints have been received from both motorists and pedestrians about hazardous cycling habits in Arlington Heights. The many "near misses" reported testify to the need for better instruction for bicycle riders.

The first step in cutting the bicycle accident rate, Klamm said, is to inform parents of the need of properly instructing their youngsters before allowing them on the streets with bicycles. In Illinois the law regards bicycles as vehicles, and laws regarding stopping, turning and signaling apply to cyclists as well as drivers of automobiles.

"Parents who wouldn't think of letting a youngster drive the family car alone regularly let their children venture on to dangerous streets on bicycles with little or no instruction about traffic laws or safety rules. Most bicyclists are minors, and parents are legally responsible for the actions of their children and morally responsible for their safety. Parents with bicycle riding children should find out the local laws regarding bicycles and then see to it that their children receive thorough instruction," Klamm said.

Klamm passes these tips along to bicyclists:

1. Learn and obey all traffic regulations.
2. Keep your bicycle under control - no weaving or stunting.
3. Ride on right side of the street - move with traffic and stay close to curb.
4. Give proper hand signals when turning or stopping.
5. Don't carry riders. They block your vision and throw you off balance.
6. Come to a full stop at stop signs and red traffic lights.
7. Stop, look and listen before entering street from sidewalk, driveway or alley.
8. Never hitch onto moving vehicles - a "free" ride may end up at the hospital.
9. Avoid riding after dark. If you must, wear something white and turn on lights.
10. Slow down at intersections. Get off and walk bike across

SIDELIGHTS OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Outdoor Decorations Contest Is New 'Coffee Pot' Topic

As unwelcome as the big snow may have been to the poor soul on the business end of a shovel it nevertheless gave a mighty boost to the Christmas spirit. Suddenly at even the most informal of gatherings around the coffee pot, holiday plans are discussed and one of the chief subjects seems to be the Junior Chamber of Commerce campaign for outdoor decorations at every local home. If early rumored plans materialize, Arlington Heights might well be one of the brightest towns at Christmas time.

Several recent returnees from vacations in snow-free parts of the country failed to appreciate the beauty of the sudden snowfall here. Among them were the Paul Blacks, 701 S. Chestnut, who came home from three weeks in Tucson Sunday, and Monday wondered why they did. They nevertheless enjoyed their stay in Tucson which included a family Thanksgiving there with Mr. Black's parents, the M. E. Blacks, and his sister, Mrs. Josephine Robinson and her sons.

ALSO reluctantly returning to midwest weather were Mr. and Mrs. Harding Miller, Jeff and Becky, who came home to 1008 N. Dunton Saturday after 2½ weeks in Texas. They visited in Dallas with Mrs. Miller's sister and family, the R. S. Kimballs, and spent Thanksgiving with the senior Mrs. Miller in Longview.

Heading for the west coast last weekend was Mrs. P. J. Mors who left 118 S. Evergreen to make her future home with her son, Clement, and his family in San Mateo. Last Thursday, Mrs. Mors was guest of honor at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Emil Schubert, 317 S. Evergreen, where she said goodbye to eight local friends of many years and received a group gift to remember them by.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, 1201 N. Dunton, celebrated their December 8 silver wedding anniversary by attending the Saturday night performance of "My Fair Lady" after a festive dinner at the Shangri-la in Chicago. Last Thursday Mrs. Taylor received the congratulations of neighbors at an afternoon party in the home of Mrs. Ernest Poulos, 1225 N. Dunton.

The guest of honor arrived at the Poulos home expecting only a casual cup of coffee with another neighbor and found a definite party atmosphere, a tiered bridal cake, a group gift and a medal presented with tongue-in-cheek for "conspicuous bravery above and beyond the call of duty." Sunday afternoon the much neglected groom received his share of congratulations and good-natured abuse when neighbors called at the Taylor home to celebrate the anniversary and Mr. Taylor's birthday, also on December 8.

KAREN ROBERTS became a teen last Friday and celebrated with a dinner party for eight school friends in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts, 506 S. Chestnut. Color movies and games entertained the young ladies.

Twelve neighborhood women who enjoy a once-a-month social evening together were guests Monday night at a Christmas party in the William Logue home, 925 N. Ridge. A grab-bag gift exchange and games and refreshments with a Christmas flavor filled the evening that was also coincidentally the hostess' birthday.

Local Iowa university alumni who get together a few times each year had their annual holiday party last Saturday night at the Raymond J. Krekel home, 401 N. Derbyshire lane. Games, dancing and late refreshments for 12 primed everyone for the Christmas rush ahead.

FORMER ALBION, Mich. college mates also met for a pre-Christmas party Sunday at the William Griffiths', 3 E. Hawthorne. Here for the day were the Frank Bryant family from Lake Forest and the Emil Lenkey family of Lombard.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Henry of Westgate were dinner guests Friday evening at the home of their daughter and family, the Alan Cooks, 611 S. Walnut, in celebration of Mrs. Henry's birthday.

A neighborhood group of eight women converted their regular bridge session into a Christmas party last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. H. T. Lemmons, 624 S. Walnut, with a grab bag gift exchange and a party atmosphere that made the cards more fun.

The Arthur Komareks, 802 S. Evergreen, hosted 23 couples at a pre-dance cocktail party in their home Saturday evening.

The David Robinsons, formerly of 535 W. Euclid, are now settled in a new home in Streamwood. Before their departure last month, five couples said goodbye to the Robinsons at a farewell party at the J. R. Walshes, 509 W. Euclid.

Texas in Color Next Film Stop

The plains, cattlelands, farms and seacoast, as well as the excitement and drama of oil country and booming cities of the second largest state in the Union will be shown by Robert Davis in his film "A Yankee Spy in Texas." The travel and adventure series film will be shown in the theatre of the Prospect high school at 8 p.m. Tuesday, December 16.

Davis is well known to his local audiences for the superior color films he produces, and their excellent accompanying musical backgrounds. He has appeared on the local series in other seasons with his films on Sicily, the Canary Islands, and Iceland. A number of visits to the Lone Star State were necessary for the completion of this excellent color record of an outsider at work with his camera in the fabulous state, which Davis recommends as "the place where Alaskans should spend their winters."

Single admissions are available for the lectures on the evening of the performance, and season registrations for the remaining seven lectures will also be accepted at the door on the evening of the performance. (ACM

Cite Error In Bill to Disconnect

Not 210 acres, but 96.5 acres are involved in the lawsuit filed by Barrington Woods, Inc., in Circuit court because the county board refused to rezone the tract in Palatine township for a 150 home subdivision.

The bill did report that 210 acres are involved, but this was in error, said Attorney James Haffner. The company, headed by Don C. Maxon, does own 210 acres, but the blanacs is across County Line rd. in Lake county, Haffner said.

THE 96.5 ACRES extend 2,665 feet along the south side of County Line rd. and 1,329 feet along the east border of the village of Barrington.

Refusal by the county to rezone the tract from farming to R-4, for 10,000 square foot lots, is attacked as "arbitrary, discriminatory, and unconstitutional" in the suit. It also asks the court to declare the farm classification in the zoning ordinance invalid.

Beauticians Aid Victims of Fire

A desire to help the youngsters injured in the parochial school fire in Chicago last week prompted a Mt. Prospect beauty parlor to open Monday, usually the employees' day off, and donate all proceeds from the day's business to a special fund for plastic surgery.

Alfred Martin, of Martin's Hair Fashions, 23 S. Main st., expressed the hope other business firms will follow suit. The fund will be set up through Mayor Daley's office, and contributions will go toward the plastic surgery so many of the fire victims will require.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the project was made in local churches Sunday, and all six employees of the beauty shop who volunteered their services were kept busy.

'It's a wonderful feeling to do something for others," Martin commented. For years one of his annual projects has been to take all his employees to the Lutheran Old Folks home in Arlington Heights to give the women residents a special beauty parlor treatment. The event will take place in February, during National Beauty Salon week. (B8

High School Toy Drive Is Slated

Arlington high school students plan to conduct a "toys for tots" drive this Christmas season.

The forgotten and unfortunate child will benefit from the drive.

Parents or older children who have excess — but usable — toys about the house are urged to place them in a container and drop them off at room 109 at the high school.

THE DRIVE WILL start Dec. 11 and continue through Dec. 18. Hours for delivering the toys to the high school will be 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Students backing the drive are asking one other favor—if anyone knows of a needy family or orphanage, they would like the address. They don't want to overlook anyone when distribution starts.

"PEOPLE WHO FLEE the dusty, crime-ridden city for suburban tranquility will find a time limit on Utopia," declared Dr. Curtis D. MacDougall in an address last week before the Opportunity Council, Inc., community social study group. Urging the council to expand its activities, Dr. MacDougall said that social reform always originates with volunteer private agencies rather than with government. Willis J. Jensen, council president, is shown congratulating Dr. MacDougall (right), professor of journalism at Northwestern university and former chairman of Cook County Housing authority.

FBI Leader Heads '59 Scout-O-Rama

RICHARD D. AUERBACH

One of the nation's top FBI leaders has been appointed general chairman of the executive planning committee for the 1959 Scout-O-Rama sponsored by Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America.

He is Richard D. Auerbach of Park Ridge, special agent in charge of the Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

More than 10,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their adult volunteer leaders are expected to participate in the Scout spectacular April 10 and 11. It will be largest of any Scout-type show ever staged in Chicago.

The exposition will be held in the T-6 building, formerly the Douglas Aircraft assembly plant, at O'Hare International airport.

A SCOUT-O-RAMA is a booth-type exposition depicting the various Scout skills, hobbies and crafts.

A continuous stage show will feature Indian dancing and pageantry, Cub Scout pantomimes, Explorer and Senior Girl Scout square dancing, and band music.

Auerbach has been active in scouting for many years. He was graduated from the University of New Hampshire, Harvard law school, and Boston University law school and holds A.B. and LL.B. degrees. He was a practicing attorney in Boston, and after four years employment as a senatorial administrative assistant at Washington, D. C., he entered the FBI in 1940. He has been assigned all over the United States and abroad during World War II by the FBI.

For three years, Auerbach was administrative assistant to the Director of the FBI as a national supervisor at the seat of government, Washington, D. C. He has been assigned as agent in charge of the Chicago division since August, 1957. (B8

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it all right to type social letters?

A. This is quite all right. Typed letters should be written on a single sheet, with only one side of the paper used. And be sure that your signature at the end of the letter is written by hand.

Q. When eating prunes, should the fruit be cut from the pit in the dish or may the whole prune be taken into the mouth, and then the pit removed to the saucer with the spoon?

A. It is much better taste to cut the prune in half and leave the pit on the plate.

Q. Must a woman always acknowledge any courtesy due her with a "thank you?"

A. Certainly. This rule applies whether her escort has held a door open for her, or a complete stranger has retrieved her dropped glove.

She can't see a thing but...

Now — Pilot Brings to Your Home
The Stereophonic Sound That
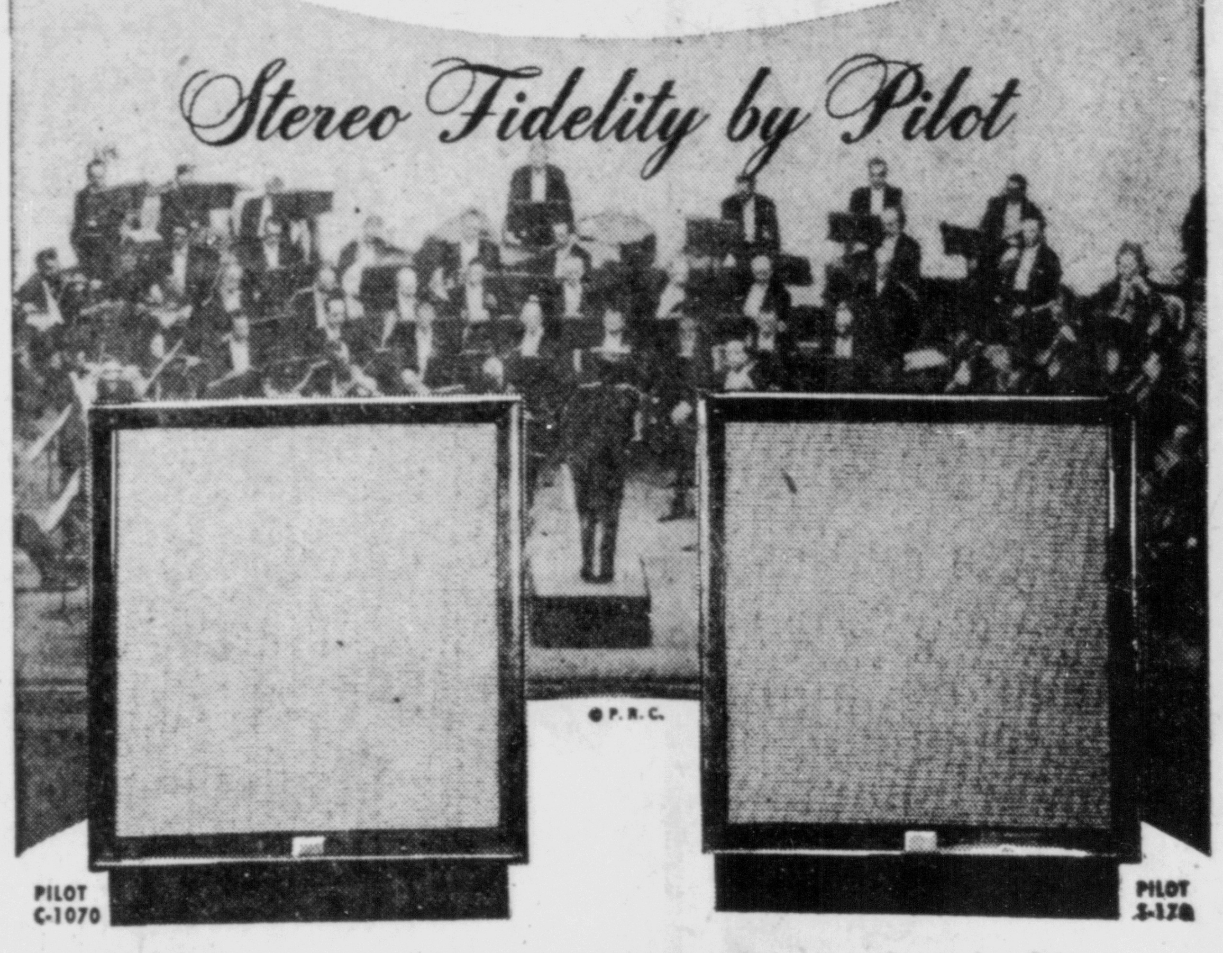
Thrills You in the Theater!



YOU HEARD the amazing sound panorama created by stereophonic sound from the motion picture screen — in Cinemascope, Cinerama and Cinemiracle. You were enveloped and surrounded with music as the orchestra came to life. Each tone seemed to originate from the exact location of the soloist — and with ensemble passages you experienced a broad, vivid circle of sound in which you were the center. Now, with the wonderful new stereophonic records and Pilot Stereo Fidelity instruments, you can re-create that same, thrilling panorama of sound in your own home — with all of its richness, breadth and dimension. Even your present records will seem to acquire a new depth and scope beyond anything attainable with a single speaker system.

Visit us today for a demonstration and side-by-side comparison. Let your ear be the judge and you will recognize the superior quality the world has come to expect from Pilot for almost 40 years. We do not think you will accept anything less than Stereo Fidelity by Pilot. Pilot stereophonic component-consoles available from $199.50 to $1050.

County Announces New Speed Limits in Area

Palatine road will have five changes of speed limit and three different speeds in 6.1 mile from Algonquin to Cedar road, Palatine, according to the first list covering 142 miles and 52 roads under county supervision approved by the county board and forwarded to the state highway department for final okay.

Action is expected any day which will permit posting of the new signs by the county, 12 to a mile, before the end of December, according to Edward Whiston, county traffic engineer.

Additional sections of the 650 road miles under county jurisdiction will be covered in later recommendations to the county board by the county highway department, at the rate of about 100 miles a month until completed, according to Board President Daniel Ryan.

AUTHORITY FOR the county to fix limits on county roads subject to Springfield approval, was granted in 1957 legislation.

So far the County's experience is similar to that of the state on its own roads, which was that speed limits had to be raised in 760 urban and 407 non-urban areas, lowered in only 19 urban and four non-urban, and not changed in 466 urban and 153 non-urban sections, according to William J. Mortimer, county highway superintendent.

The reason given for this result is that previous limits fixed by villages and townships, without much legal authority, were too low for modern traffic conditions in most cases. They averaged 20 miles per hour in business zones, 25 in residential, and 35 in the outer edges of communities.

The new law requires that restrictions lower than 30 miles per hour in urban and 65 in non-urban areas be justified by engineering studies. Urban is defined as having an occupied building less than every 100 feet for at least two blocks.

"This isn't a case of the new speed limits being high, but of the old ones being too low," said Mortimer.

THE PALATINE road speed limits go from 55 miles per hour in the 3.7 miles from Algonquin road to Roberts road, to 45 miles per hour in the 0.4 mile to Ela road, back to 55 in the next 0.8 mile to Roselle road; then 45 for 0.7 miles to Quentin road, and a slow 35 miles per hour for the 0.5 mile from Quentin road to Cedar road, Palatine.

Even greater variety will hold on north-and-south Quentin road, with five changes and five speeds in the 5.3 miles from Algonquin road to Lake-Cook road.

For the first 2.4 miles, to Palatine road, the limit is 35 miles an hour, with 15 miles an hour recommended on curves; in the next 0.6 mile, to Northwest highway (Colfax ave.), it is 45 MPH, then goes down to 40 MPH for 0.4 mile to Baldwin road, back to 45 MPH for 0.8 mile to Dundee road, and 55 MPH for the last 1.1 mile before the Wisconsin border.

Local Churches Have Special Rate Tickets for New Film

"Mark of the Hawk," a powerful drama concerning overseas missions, was produced by the United Presbyterian church with the assistance of the Methodist church, under the name of "World Horizons, Inc."

Starring in this new picture are Sidney Poitier, acclaimed for his performance in "The Defiant Ones" and "Porgy and Bess," and Eartha Kitt, currently appearing in "Anna Lucasa."

It will be shown at the Woods theatre in the Chicago loop for three weeks. The engagement began December 5.

THIS FILM has received excellent reviews from the New York critics when it opened there earlier this year. Recently it played successfully in St. Louis and Washington D.C. and has been shown in more Oklahoma theatres than any other picture ever has. This picture is endorsed by the National Council of Churches.

Protestant leaders believe it will deliver a strong Christian influence and prove deeply inspirational.

Members may obtain tickets through their churches at a special rate and many churches plan to have organized groups attend the "Mark of the Hawk."

Along the Camp Fire Trail

by Dorothy Schomburg CLearbrook 3-7017

Arlington Heights

The regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights Camp Fire district committee was held December 2 in the home of Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg. Discussion covering the annual fund drive to take place on Sunday, Jan. 25 was forecast on the committee's agenda. A. B. Condon, chairman of the drive, will meet with area captains in the near future to plan this year's drive. Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups will display handicraft items and various group projects in the community's many store windows a week or two before the drive.

Theme for this summer's Camp Welasi was made known at this time by Mrs. M. R. Kephart, camping chairman. "Echoes of Nature" was aptly chosen by day camp representatives at a recent council day camp meeting. Arlington Heights district will hold its 4-day summer camp on June 15-18 at Busse Woods.

Mrs. Weir Swanson, community service chairman stated that the majority of the district's groups were taking full advantage of the many worthwhile Christmas service projects available at this time. Chicago Tribune Good Fellows, Chicago Area Council's world-wide mitten tree, American Friends Overseas school-kit project as well as many local community projects are among the many charitable services the more than 300 Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds are working on at this busy time of year.

DISTRICT COMMITTEE representatives and Camp Fire and Blue Bird leaders made up the total of 22 women attending a pre-Christmas luncheon at Old Orchard country club December 3. A drizzling rain fell upon the ground but inside, enjoying a delicious meal of chicken with all the trimmings were Mesdames Gerald C. Beckman, Claude E. Chapin, Robert S. Currier, Peter B. Eriksen, John Flodin, George Hawkins, Fred Heiden, Charles Johnson, Donald Knutsen, William Lauterburg, Stanley Luczak, Claude V. Markstrom, Robert Nicol, E. W. Nielsen, William Norris, Gayle Oberlin, Owen Oliveson, George Owen, Robert Roth, Roger Seng, George Sidor and James Stoll.

ELEVEN GIRLS from the Lelataki Camp Fire group passed their trail seeker rank at the November 22 court of awards. They are: Ronda Aagaard, Susan Belcher, Kathy Carlson, Cindy Flodin, Judy Galyon, Susan Harding, Kathy Knutsen, Alicia Martin, Linda Nicol, Linda Lee Shipp and Jeanne Zizlavsky. Another member of the group, Jan Nelson, was passed by the committee of awards December 5. At the group's December 2 meeting, the girls began work on Christmas gifts for their parents.

Elukocita Camp Fire Girls, at their December 4 meeting, decided to clean up the Forest View school grounds by giving one half hour of service each week for a 4-week period. The girls also made Christmas presents for their parents. Faith Best served a birthday cake in observance of her December 5 birthday.

A COOKIE BAKE December 5 was the first of a busy December schedule for the Firefly Blue Bird group. Mrs. Gayle Oberlin and Mrs. Fred Heiden, co-leaders of the group, will accompany the girls to Lake Zurich December 12 for a Christmas party at the missionary school and home when the girls will distribute the results of their baking talents as well as a small gift and candy to each child in the home. The group will also sing Christmas carols and play games while visiting the school.

Tohekohani Camp Fire Girls held a mothers and sponsors Christmas party December 8 in the home of Mrs. M. R. Kephart. For many of the 23 guests, the Christmas council fire was a "first." Using a Christmas tree as the theme, white styrofoam balls representing work, health and love. Girls received seven craft honor beads, fly-up honors, and enjoyed a special pinning ceremony as their mothers gave them their new Camp Fire pins.

The 20 girls and their guests played games, sang songs, and devoured punch, cupcakes and fudge prepared and served by the girls. Climax to the party was the presentation of Christmas gifts made by the girls for their mothers. Candle holders made from inverted juice glasses and filled with Christmas greens, holly berries, and gold balls that had been sprayed with gold and glitter, were topped off with tall thin wax tapers.

Ribbon-Snipping Opens New Federal

The snip of a foot-wide gold ribbon opened the handsome new Williamsburg Colonial nome of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association this week.

The scissors wielded by Edward G. Carlisle, president of the Arlington Heights board of trustees, opened a five-week grand opening celebration of the savings and home-financing institution in its new home.

He was joined by other northwest suburban civic officials and business leaders, as well as executives of the Federal Home Loan Bank, in heralding the association for its rapid growth which, in less than six years, has attained a savings capital of $8,500,000 from over 7,000 savers. Total assets of the association have now reached $11 million.

DURING THE five-week grand opening period, the Federal Savings institution will give away prizes and gifts worth $2,000 to visitors. Men, women, and children visiting the new Association quarters will each receive an opportunity to win such prizes as a Magnavox Stereophonic high-fidelity instrument, a G.E. portable television set, a Bell and Howell 8 mm. movie camera, a Polaroid Land Camera, and a G.E. transistor radio.

In addition, 16-piece sets of stainless steel tableware will be premiums to those who open new accounts or add to accounts in the amount of $100 or more.

Christmas Mail Volume To Top Record

Postmaster Virginia Dodge said today that she believes the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, exceeding the 3,000,000 pieces of mail handled in the preholiday season of 1957.

The Postmaster expressed her thanks for the excellent response to her "Mail Early" appeal thus far, but warns, that only by stepping up all mailing of Christmas packages and greeting cards immediately, can this year's record mail load be processed and delivered before Christmas.

SHE WENT ON to say, "It's later than you think! We all have a tendency to wait until mid-December comes before giving our Christmas mailing plans much attention; whereas, by taking a little extra care with Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time."

The postmaster asks your special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipients address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages and to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label on your packages to prevent defacing in transit.

PARCEL POST size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Be sure to ask about them when you go to the post office to buy stamps.

Speaking about stamps, the postmaster said, "Use four cent postage on all your Christmas cards. In this way, they will be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelopes." Christmas cards sent by First Class mail enable you to include handwritten messages; thus, making your Christmas greetings more personal, and by including your name and address on each Christmas card envelope, both you and your friends can keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

BE SURE TO separate your Christmas cards into two bundles, using free labels that you can get at the Post office which read, "All for local delivery" and "All for out of town delivery."

The Postmaster asks the cooperation of all business firms to postpone the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25 to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

Beginning Monday, service windows at the post office were open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Avoid standing in line by mailing your packages and buying your stamps before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Try to mail your Christmas cards for out of town destinations several days in advance of those for local delivery. Those for nearby points should all be mailed by at least a week before Christmas.

Mail your gift packages for distant destinations by December 10 and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15.

Recent house guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brune of 1110 N. Dryden ave., were Mrs. G. B. Snaadt, mother of Mrs. Brune, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Krueger an aunt and uncle of West Point, Iowa, during the week of Thanksgiving. They were also on hand to help 9-year-old Tom and 8-year-old Joyce Brune celebrate their birthdays.

Besides the family party, Joyce entertained a number of friends at an afternoon party November 30. Guests included Carol Metzel, Christine Green, Lyn Whiting, Colleen Williams, Susan Cook, cousins Peggy and Sally Kruse of Houghton, Iowa, and Mary Beth Reichelt of West Point, Iowa, also their house guests.

A TOTAL OF $132.30 was donated by residents of the Greens early last week for the Queen of Angels school fire victims' fund and a check in that amount was sent to Jim Moran by the Arlington Greens Community association.

December games of the Arlington Greens round robin bridge tournament were played last Friday evening. Hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLean, Mr. and Mrs. John Mundell, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Kalkhoff, Mr. and Mrs. William Lebsock and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lockhart. Because one group had not completed their game, the top three scores will not be available until next month.

Celebrating her birthday December 6 was 7-year-old Joyce Gran, 1146 N. Hickory ave., who observed the occasion with an afternoon party for several friends. Included were Jeff and Laura Reed, Debbie Coughlin, Glenn Shannon, Bonnie and Heather Gerrard and Jimmy and Kathy Josetti.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Haldeman, 716 E. Oakton ave., attended the wedding of Miss Carol Schmidt, sister of Mrs. Haldeman, to George Altman, last Saturday evening. The ceremony at Mount Olive church, Chicago, was followed by a dinner and reception at the Grand Manor.

Jehovah's Witnesses Discuss Recent Chicago Assembly

Local members of Jehovah's Witnesses have returned to their home congregation after attending the final meeting of their 3-day circuit assembly in Chicago's Senn high school auditorium.

William Narve, presiding minister of the Arlington Heights congregation, expressed enthusiasm over the key talk given November 30 by Andrew K. Wagner of Brooklyn, New York on the subject, "The Watch Tower Society in God's Purpose."

NARVE QUOTED Wagner as saying, "The Watch Tower Society is widely known as publishers of the two most widely circulated religious magazines in the world—The Watchtower and Awake—the combined circulation of which is 12,700,000 copies each month in over 50 different languages."

According to Narve, 53 new ministers symbolized their dedication to do God's will by water immersion on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 29. Jehovah's Witnesses now constitute over 780,000 ministers world-wide.

"We feel this 3-day assembly," said Narve, "has given us much Bible instruction which will help us to apply Bible principles more fully to our everyday living.

Check the new official price labels for Edsel's new, low prices

The new law says that every car must have a label showing the manufacturer's suggested retail price—and Edsel Dealers are even happier about it than the public! Because Edsel prices didn't go up this year—they went down! The 1959 Edsel is now priced with the most popular three—and the price labels prove it!

Edsel's four new high-efficiency engines prove something else important—real gas economy. They include a thrifty six with a great test-track record—and a new, economy V-8 that uses regular gasoline!

Edsel's new size makes sense, too. Six-passenger room inside—less length outside. And less useless car weight. So it's much easier to handle than long, bulky cars.

Try the car that's proud to wear its price—proud to prove it makes sense! See your Edsel Dealer!

Lessons in English

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Elephantine; heavy; clumsy; ponderous. (Pronounce ell-ee-fan-tin, accent third syllable). "His elephantine wit amused only the dullest of his listeners."

Instintively; involuntarily; by natural impulse. "Animal mothers instinctively protect their young from harm."

Festoon (verb); to form in, adorn with, or connect by, garlands or wreaths. (Accent second syllable). "The hall was festooned with flowers of all kinds."

Sophistry; deceptively subtle reasoning or argumentation. (Pronounce sahf-iss-tri, accent first syllable). "No amount of sophistry will make me think differently."

Cynic; one who believes that human conduct is motivated wholly by self-interest. "The life he has led has turned him into a cynic."

Seraphic; angelic (pronounce see-raff-ick, accent second syllable). "His dream was of seraphic beings moving about him."

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Frugality; strict economy; thrift. "She saved a great amount of money because of her frugality."

Ulterior; beyond what is manifest or avowed; undisclosed. "Their activities betrayed ulterior motives."

Impelling (adjective); driving or urging forward. "A sense of duty was the impelling force that aroused him."

Tentative; of the nature of an experiment. "While we are waiting for further instructions, we must make some tentative arrangement."

Insistence; the act of demanding with persistence. "The insistence of the people required immediate action."

Retentive; having the power to retain. "A retentive memory is a requisite of wisdom."

by W. L. GORDON

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "Would you do that if you was me:" Say, "Would you do that if you were I"?

"Dear Mr. Jackson" is considered less formal in the salutation of a letter than "My dear Mr. Jackson."

The world alibi should not be used loosely to mean any excuse. Its real meaning is "in another place." Properly speaking, it is the plea that when the alleged act took place the accused was elsewhere than at the alleged place.

The word number is singular or plural, according to usage. Thus: "The number was increased to fifty," and, "A number of men were present."

Speak of the science of grammar, and the art of speaking correctly. "Science" is systematized knowledge, "art" is skilled in performance.

Do not say, "Each of the boys have their own car." Say, "Each (singular subject) of the boys has his own car."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Decantation. Pronounce dee-kan-tay-shun, principal accent on third syssable.

Fecund. Pronounce feh-cund, accent on first syllable.

Contiguous. Pronounce kahn-tig-yu-uss, accent on second syllable.

Romance, Accent second syllable, not the first.

Exuberance. Pronounce egg-zyu-ber-ans, accent second syllable.

Wagner (German composer). Pronounce vahg-ner, accent first syllable.

Chief Warns Motorists Of Hazards

Arlington Heights police reported this week that the automobile accident rate is increasing with the onset of winter driving conditions, and cautioned motorists to exert greater care in driving during the winter months.

Since December 1, there have been 11 accidents on village streets, the height of the accidents coming December 3, when four separate crashes occurred.

POLICE CHIEF L. W. Calderwood also cautioned pedestrians, with this warning:

"When crossing icy streets, do not depend on the driver's ability to stop. It's always best to stay on the curb until you are sure it is safe to cross. Remember, the law may give you the right-of-way at a crosswalk, but your safety on slippery streets cannot be guaranteed by anyone but yourself."

Indians make wampum

Although December 5 was the actual date of Steve's fifth birthday, his parents, Nancy and Don Raymond, 1337 N. Race, waited until last Saturday to entertain his friends, Michael Wiley, Ralph Menick, Mike Griffith, Tommy Green, Jeff and Ronnie Jensen, Jeff Kirby and Steve's brothers, Mike and Dave, at lunch. Included were birthday cake and ice cream and an afternoon of viewing cartoons.

Phyllis and Charles Marshall, 1114 N. Race, acquired the festive spirit early in the season and held a combination open house-cocktail party last Sunday for some of their friends and neighbors.

With Bob away on a long business trip, Jeanette Wetmark, 1252 N. Chicago, invited her grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Garvey, of Dubuque to celebrate Thanksgiving with her and the six children. Mrs. Garvey stayed on for an extended visit, enabling Jeanette to begin the understandably mountainous Christmas shopping.

ELAINE AND BILL Petrucci, 1115 N. Wilke, held a family dinner December 7 in honor of their daughter, Roxanne's, fourth birthday. The guests included Roxanne's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Petrucci and Mr. and Mrs. M. Ellison, all of Chicago; great grandmother, Mrs. B. Barone, Berwyn; godmother, Mrs. Backus and her husband, Cicero; godfather, Nick Petrucci and his wife, Cicero; and Roxanne's brother, Kenny.

November 30 Maureen Elizabeth, daughter of Jane and James Coleman, 1411 Clarendon, was baptized at St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Emile Hilaire, Jane's mother, and James Coleman stood in proxy as godparents for Jane's sister and brother-in-law, who live in Pennsylvania. A dinner was held for the immediate family, which included Maureen's sister, Colleen, who had been visiting her grandparents, the Colemans, Chicago, since the baby's birth. Mrs. Hilaire, who had been here for over 2 months, flew home to Bethlehem, Pa., the next day.

Gianna and Gordon Riefstahl, 1224 N. Race, spent an evening in Chicago recently as the guests of Gordon's uncle, Gustaf Dahlen, Ironwood, Mich., who entertained them at the celebrated Lobster House, Morrison hotel.

SUSAN, DAUGHTER of Ellen and Bob Wiley, 1329 N. Race, celebrated her seventh birthday December 7 at a family gathering. Included were her grandparents and sister and brother, Mary Anne and Michael.

For Donna's first birthday, December 4, her parents, Harriette and Frank Moore, 1401 N. Illinois, entertained Donna's brother, Allen, and Gordon and Joy Barse at an afternoon party. Each child was given a balloon, hat and favor, after individual cupcakes and ice cream were served. Harriette reports that Donna promptly smashed her cupcake with her fist.

Kathleen, whose sixth birthday was December 9, was given a party for her playmates by her parents, Eileen and Raymond Brown, 1504 W. Oakton. Joining in the fun were Mary Jo Burkhardt, Leslie Yates, Ann Frisbie, Kathleen and Sally Jo Lennon, Eileen Dunne, Mary Catherine Talaber, Jill Turner and Jimmy and Barbara Brown. Felicity Frisbie and Kathleen's sister, Marianne, assisted Eileen in direction of the games and serving ice cream and cake.

Preceding the Wilson Kindergarten dance at Old Orchard country club December 5, Carolyn and Bob Parkin, 1511 W. Clarendon, entertained Dorothy and Bill Henneman, Laverne and Bud Reichert, Betty and Jeff Warner, Pearl and Dick Trummer and Audrey and Jim Ostler at cocktails.

While the kindergarten dance was profitable, it was particularly so for Joan Stevens, 1681 W. Oakton, who held the winning tickets for both the camera and electric fry pan. Betty Gumz, 1248 N. Chicago, held the ticket for the hour clock.

Patty Jo Westmark, 1252 N. Chicago, celebrated her seventh birthday December 7 by having her neighborhood playmates in for ice cream and cake. Wishing her a happy birthday were Jimmy and Roger Gumz, Joey and Susan Perry, her sisters, Judy, Cheryl Ann and Kathy, and brothers, Bobby and Gary.

News Commentator Slated For Talk Before Joint PTA

Mrs. Clifton Utley, well-known television and radio political analyst, will speak at the South junior high school gymnasium next Tuesday night, Dec. 16, at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Utley's address, "The Impact of World Affairs on Our Children's Future," will be delivered at a joint PTA meeting of the Westgate and Park schools. An invitation to the public is being extended, and especially to Utley fans, according to Mrs. William Franck, general program chairman.

"SCHOOLS, SPACE and Society Education for What?" is the theme for PTA programming in Arlington Heights this year. In developing this theme, the members of the program committees of Park and Westgate schools expressed a need "to know something more about the world in which we are rearing our children. Can we project present domestic and international political trends to show a glimpse of the world in which our children will be citizens? Is it possible for us as parents to do something to insure a brighter future for our children in an age when we seem to be heading toward push-button warfare and mass destruction? What can our educational system do to increase our children's understanding of other peoples and the roles they play in the world neighborhood?" the committee asked.

FRAYN UTLEY

These are but a few of the questions uppermost in the minds of many parents today as they seek to prepare their children to be good adult citizens, said Mrs. Franck.

In seeking someone to guide thinking along these lines and to present an authoritative outlook on world affairs, the name of Frayn Utley was accepted with enthusiasm.

MRS. UTLEY is a noted news commentator on NBC radio and television, and is director of the Institute of International Education, a not-for-profit private organization which administers educational exchange programs between the United States and 80 foreign countries for private and governmental groups. As a member of the institute and the National Association of Foreign Student Advisors, she travels frequently to visit foreign students enrolled in American schools. Her interest in education has been manifested by her service on school boards and committees, notably her membership on the Chicago board of education for nine years. She has also been active in civic affairs and has served on numerous committees serving hospitals, universities, and welfare groups.

Mrs. Utley is the mother of three sons, 24, 18, and 15, and during the war years, she was also mother to two French girls and a French boy brought over by the Unitarian Service committee. (A

Santa Claus Reigns At Westgate Center

Santa Claus will greet young visitors to Westgate shopping center in a giant 47-foot house trailer Thursday through Christmas Eve.

He will be "home" from 5:30 to 9 p.m. until Saturday and from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. from Monday through December 24 at the shopping center located at Campbell st. and Wilke rd., Arlington Heights.

Santa's arrival at Westgate is in conjunction with a celebration being observed by Westgate Walgreen drugs and Four Seasons sporting goods, both of which recently moved into larger and more modern headquarters in the Westgate center.

Free candy will be given to all the children and special gifts and prizes will be awarded at both of the newly-relocated stores. The celebration continues through Saturday.

FOUR SEASONS has moved into a store three times as large as their former store. Decorated in warm tones with striking modern ceiling lights, the new store's focal point is a handsome Trojan speed boat, a new addition to Four Seasons line of sporting goods.

If finding the right gifts for men on the Christmas list proves a problem, a gift nook featuring unusual and distinctive items is designed to help out lady shoppers.

A large selection of cold weather jackets, hunting accessories and leather goods is available, as well as a wide display of name-brand fire arms of every type. Ammunition, rifle cases, holsters and maintenance equipment are also carried in a complete stock.

Winter outdoor enthusiasts will find toboggans, skis, and skates are well represented at Four Seasons.

In addition to everything in athletic wear, Four Seasons is now carrying better men's wear, slacks and jackets, and dress shirts.

A REFILL STATION for aqua lungs will be initiated at Four Seasons this spring. The store carries all types of water sports equipment in addition to this service.

A large selection of sports equipment is featured, including everything from ping pong tables to footballs.

Engraving service on the premises, to be available shortly, will offer not only trophy inscriptions but engraving service on any reasonable item.

An experienced and friendly staff is on hand to aid the shoppers in making the best selection for their individual needs.

SELF-SERVICE is keynoted in the new location of Westgate Walgreen drugs. Each group of merchandise is designated numerically and these numbers are prominenitly displayed, making it a simple matter for shoppers to find the desired product.

Westgate Walgreen Drugs is continuing with the same lines of merchandise as it carried in its former location but on a much larger scale, particularly in the prescription department where facilities have been greatly improved to meet the demands of the public.

"Wonderful customer acceptance has necessitated this move," said Marshall Mlodinoff, Bernard Rosenblom and Stewart Scher, owner-pharmacists of the store.

Many features have been added to aid shopper convenience. Shopping baskets are available and aisles are roomy and well-lighted. All merchandise is arranged on spacious shelves so that shoppers can see immediately all the types and brands of any item.

The store has improved facilities for refrigeration of beverages and handles both liquors and soft drinks. The stock and selection of the liquor department has been enlarged.

All types of Christmas needs and accessories are now being displayed at Westgate Walgreen drugs. Gift wraps, cards, tinsel, ornaments, centerpieces and indoor and outdoor decorations are on hand.

DRYDEN: The play "Christmas Everywhere," portraying three children's search for the true meaning of the Christmas spirit, will take place on two evenings. All odd number classes including K-1 will take part Tuesday, Dec. 16. Even-number classes including K-2 perform Wednesday, Dec. 17.

Each child will take part in the presentation the same each night even though different classes participate. Three mothers are helping with the music and dialogue direction: Mrs. L. N. Varnado, Mrs. A. S. Dunham, and Mrs. R. E. Down.

RIDGE: Ridge school's Christmas program will be Tuesday, Dec. 16. All kindergarten children will sing familiar carols. All fifth grade children will participate, some in readings and others singing choral music. In all other grades there will be limited participation, with singing and the presenting of short plays.

WINDSOR-MINER: Two identical programs Tuesday and Wednesday nights are operetta-type programs entitlee, "The Spirit of Christmas." Two boys, having traveled in many lands in search of the spirit of Christmas, stop to ask an old toymaker. His answer is dramatized in five scenes by children of first through fifth grades. The program has been organized and written by Mrs. Hazel Peterson, music teacher in the Windsor-Miner school, with the assistance of the staff. December 16: grade 1, section 1 and 2; grade 2 section 1; grade 3, section 1; grade 4, section 1; grade 5, section 1. December 17: grade 1, section 3; grade 2 and 3, and section 2 of grades 3, 4 and 5.

NORTH: "One God—The Ways We Worship Him," a film portraying the differences in the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish religions, is to be shown at 8:15 p.m. A high school singing group, the Choraliers, and a brief talk by Robert Miller, who is visiting counselor in the schools, will precede the film.

PARK-WESTGATE: One of the outstanding news analysts in radio and television, Mrs. Clifton Utley, will speak at the joint meeting of Park and Westgate PTA's at 8:15 Tuesday, Dec. 16 in South junior high gymnasium. Frayn Utley, one of the few women in this profession, won the admiration of mid-westerners when, in the event of her husband's severe illness several years ago, she substituted with such skill that the Utleys were awarded two major citations for news broadcasting.

Another major post which Mrs. Utley fills at the present time is director of the Institute of International Education, a not-for-profit private organization which administers educational exchange programs between the United States and 80 countries of the world for private and governmental groups. She is a member of the National Association of Foreign Student Advisors and of the Pan-American Board of Education. She has studied at the Universities of California, Chicago, and Hawaii. An objective and analytical approach is anticipated in her talk, "The Impact of World Affairs on Our Children's Future."

Dental Problems

Two dentists spoke at the December meeting of the pre-school child study group. Dr. T. K. Barber suggested two important rules to lessen the causes of injurious decay: no between meal sugars and rinsing, brushing teeth, or eating a "detergent" food (apples or celery). Acid producing bacteria take only 90 seconds to begin dissolving tooth enamel after sugar enters the mouth.

Dr. Vernon Boman showed slides of various orthodontic problems and correction. He stressed that orthondonti ct-raet stressed that orthodontic treatment is undertaken not primarily for appearance but rather for prevention of loss of teeth through early decay because of unusual stress.

Early Visitors Praise New Savings and Loan Building

The new Arlington Heights Federal Savings home is a solid hit!

That was the enthusiastic verdict of early visitors to the new Federal Savings building as the five-week grand opening celebration got under way this week.

They like everything about it — from its location and Williamsburg colonial architecture to its internal facilities and homelike atmosphere.

"Gives you a friendly feeling," said one visitor last Monday. "That's what I liked about the old place — the people were so friendly and made you feel at home.

"I was a little worried about their moving. When you get big you sometimes get impersonal. But it'll be hard not to be friendly in these surroundings."

THE IMPRESSION OF expansiveness and warmth is what appealed to John W. Dawson, assistant vice president of the Chicago National bank, who was one of the Federal Savings' first callers.

"A person stepping through the front doors can see everything at once," Dawson said. "The total effect is excellent. The furnishings and decor convey a warm feeling. When a person gets the feeling he's at home, it's just human nature to want to be associated with such an institution."

Robert L. Thrailkill, Mount Prospect Realtor, was favorably impressed with the Williamsburg colonial exterior, its red brick and stone pillar construction and white trim.

He thought the building designed by Walter Kroeber, A.I.A., and the interiors planned by Countryside Interiors added up to "an exceedingly effective motif for institutions of this type."

He was also pleased to note the Drive-Up Window under the rear canopy of the building.

"ABSOLUTELY charming" was the verdict of Mrs. Stephen Jurco, wife of Arlington Heights village attorney. "I like most the beautiful dark-stained oak panelling," she said .

"The place is at once charming and modern," she added. "It suggests a look toward the future while retaining a respect for the old and its aura of absolute integrity."

Arlington Heights Superintendent of Schools Ralph Clabaugh described the new institution as a great asset to downtown Arlington Heights.

"This is a place I am happy to owe," he added smilingly.

CHARLES S. PADDOCK, publisher of Paddock Publications, agreed that the growing institution is a great asset to the community. "It has certainly stimulated saving — which is a good thing," he said.

Commenting that a convenient institution like Federal Savings helps to make saving easier, Paddock noted, "When you decide to start saving and then get your first dividend — something you didn't have to work for — your impulse is to make the next dividend bigger by saving more."

The publisher recalled the advice he had received as a boy earning his first pay. "Put some of this away. Do it with every pay envelope you get from now on." It is advice everyone could well follow, he said.

TO ROBERT Bukowski, Arlington Heights village trustee and Continental Illinois National Bank executive, the greatest thing about the Federal Savings achievement is that "local people have shown faith in the future of the Arlington Heights business district and have done something about it instead of just talking."

"Just about the best thing that's happened to Arlington Heights," agreed Barney Erickson. "The Federal Savings people are farsighted to the Nth degree in the building they've put up. It conveys a feeling of trust."

He thought the community room, to be completed later for use by groups and organizations, is an excellent good-will gesture by the Association.

Attorney Everett Lewy observed that the Federal Savings firm now has one of Arlington Heights' finest buildings in one of its most ideal locations.

"The officers and directors should be congratulated for their intelligent planning," he said. "They haven't gone hog-wild with crazy ideas. Everything is done in excellent taste that will live well with passing time."

He thought that plans for expansion by gradual use of the second floor and ultimate addition of second-floor wings indicated the Federal Savings Association will be comfortably situated for many years.

"I HAVE A DEEP feeling for early American," said Rolland W. Jones of the Chicago Daily News. "You get from early American an idea of integrity and thrift which in themselves bring out the fullness of family living."

He predicted nothing but success for the Association in its new home.

"Terrific!" summed it up for Jerry Schutt, head of the Seventeen Specialties firm, Mount Prospect.

"The location is terrific. The building can be seen from anywhere — no matter where you're coming from.

"And inside the effect is terrific," he added. "It communicates a wonderful, homey feeling that makes you comfortable." (B8

It's Official: Blue Ballot Is Defeated

Court reform in Illinois lost by 65,784 votes, official returns from the state electoral board showed this week.

The proposed constitutional amendment fell 2.5 percentage points below the two-thirds majority that would have put it into effect.

The proposition won a majority in Cook county but lost downstate.

COOK COUNTY favored modernization, 1,028,912 to 356,272 but downstate the proposal won only a bare majority, 560,743 to 537,231. The statewide vote favoring reform was 1,589,655 to 893,503, or 65,784 votes short of the necessary majority.

The official returns released this week showed the total state vote of 3,427,278, was the lowest since 1942. The downstate total of 1,581,671 was the lowest since 1946 and the Cook County total of 1,845,607 was the lowest since 1942.

High School Board Hears Of 'Adjustment' Progress

Two guidance counselors of high school district 214 told school board members Monday night that "great strides" were being made in helping youngsters adjust to school, their classmate and families, through the counseling facilities at both high schools.

"In most cases," said Miss Ethel Riordan, "students with problems are referred to us by parents, teachers, other case workers, or the students themselves. Usually these youngsters have problems of aggressive behavior or are withdrawn, or they have poor relations with students or members of their own families."

TIME SPENT with each student varies with the individual and the gravity of his problem, and, over the past nine years, Miss Riordan has averaged counseling 34 students a month.

"My workload is about the same as Miss Riordan's—about 35 a month," said Counselor John Strong. As a typical reaction of some maladjusted students, Strong cited the case of a young athlete named Bill. Bill would go out for a sport, make the team, and then, as if to show his fellows that this was all that was important, he'd manage to get dropped from the squad for some infraction.

Miss Riordan offered the board an example of how the proper guidance, offered at the right time, could help youngsters adjust and "make a valuable contribution to their society."

"One post-graduate student wrote me recently, 'I'm now a freshman at .... university and doing well, thanks to you. I'm active in journalism and various social activities, and I used to wear a motorcycle jacket.'

"This was a lad with a home problem. He felt left out of family and school. As a freshman he had failing grades, but then we got to him, and in his second year we got him interested in choral work and dramatics. By the time he entered his third year, he was very active in several campus activities, and he found this gave him the prestige he wanted with the group he most admired. His academic work improved also," said Miss Riordan.

SHE CITED another case, that of a boy who had a persistent record as a truant, but who did not wish to be expelled.

"Last Friday we had a long talk with him and his father," Miss Riordan said. "The boy wanted to go home with his dad, and then, later in the day, he telephoned to say he'd had a satisfactory talk with his parents, and would return to school.

"One of his problems was what to do with himself. He usually went home and slept until his folks came home, and then couldn't sleep until late at night. We suggested employment after school hours to keep him occupied and to get his mind on other things. He went to see about a job, and we think he'll turn out all right."

And so it goes, one case after the other. Not many too much out of the ordinary, fewer that would cause many to comment, and less that would make newspaper headlines. Just ordinary kids—kids with problems, and with someone around to help.

As Miss Riordan said:

"It's hard to say how much help we've been. Sometimes we may not get through to troubled students at all. But you never know. Maybe the seeds we planted will take root, and one day our ex-student will be a better man or woman for it." (ACM

Jaycees Urge All To Enter Con test

Arlington Heights Jaycees this week urged all residents of the area to enter their Christmas lighting contest.

A number of prizes have been donated by local merchants to supplement those already available. Added to this is the fact that the local winner will be eligible for entry in a national contest, with additional cash awards.

JACK WALSH, president of the Jaycees, has stated that although this contest is sponsored by the Jaycees, it is a project that will benefit the entire community. It will help beautify our city at this season of the year, and foster a friendlier community spirit. It is also an attempt to spread the spirit of Christmas by means of decoration by light, he said.

Local merchants have indicated they are behind the Jaycees in the effort. Many have decorated the downtown area, as well as the highway, in a more extensive manner than in past years.

The Jaycees president expressed hope that the combined efforts of the residents of the area, as well as the merchants, will make Arlington Heights one of the most beautiful towns at this season of the year. However, it will take the combined cooperation of everyone in the area, he said.

AN ENTRY BLANK may be filled out and mailed to the Arlington Heights Jaycees, Box 1, Arlington Heights. Entry blanks can be obtained at stores of local participating merchants, who have posters prominently displayed.

Contest Chairman Tom McAuliffe stressed that the winner will be chosen on the basis of originality, ingenuity, lighting technique, and artistic merit, and not on how much money is spent on the display. A few lights, placed to create a new or unusual effect, will have as good a chance to win as the most ornate display, he said.

Rules of the contest are:

—Contest open to residents of the Village of Arlington Heights, including the adjoining subdivisions.

—Deadline for entries is December 20.

—Displays should be lighted from 6:30 to 11 p.m. on December 22 through December 27.

St. James Holy Name Plans Annual Recollection Day

VINCE FORD, chairman of St. James Holy Name retreat committee, is discussing the Day of Recollection to be held on December 14 at St. James Catholic church in Arlington Heights with Rev. Sattler, who will conduct the services, and Ed Weirich, co-chairman.

The Rev. Peter Sattler, director of retreats at Villa Redeemer, will conduct the fifth annual Day of Recollection at St. James parish Sunday.

The Day of Recollection is sponsored by St. James' Holy Name society. This annual event is customarily held during the Advent season.

"We extend a sincere invitation to all men of the parish, and we urge them to attend this day," said Rev. John M. Lane, spiritual director of the Holy Name society and assistant pastor at St. James, Arlington Heights. "It can be an invaluable opportunity to engender the spirit of Advent and help us to adjust our sense of values in this time when commercialism of the Christmas theme tends to put Christ in the background of the Christmas story."

THE DAY WILL begin with 10 o'clock mass. Following mass, brunch will be served in the school cafeteria. Members of St. James Women's guild will prepare and serve the meal.

At noon Rev. Sattler will conduct the first in a series of four conferences and close the services at 4 p.m.

A Redemptorist priest, he was born and received his early education in Chicago. He studied at St. Joseph's college in St. Louis and at Immaculate Conception seminary in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. He was ordained in 1935 by the late Cardinal Stritch.

He continued his studies at Catholic university in Washington, D.C., and from 1938 to 1950 he taught at St. Joseph's college and Webster college, which is affiliated with St. Louis university.

Rev. Sattler was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's church in Wichita, Kansas, in 1950 and served in that capacity until January, 1955, when he was placed in charge of Novena Devotions at St. Alphonsus Rock church in St. Louis.

His appointment as director of retreats at Villa Redeemer in Glenview last [illegible] a result of his wide experience in the field [illegible] and Novena devotions.

He is a fourth degree member of Knights of Columbus; past Faithful Friar of General Assem- chaplain of Webster Groves council 2119, St. Louis.

ARRANGEMENTS [illegible] of Recollection are being made under the [illegible] Ford, chairman of the retreat committee of wst. Aames n committee of St. James Holy Name society. Assisting him are Al Baier, Matt Dietrick, Jim Hahn, John Lightner, Jack McGrath, Joe Orgler, Don Powers, and Ed Weirich.

Architect Designs Churches for Suburbia

Who's the man behind that new church in your neighborhood?

More than likely, it's 33-year-old William M. Cooley, whose firm, Cooley and Associates, is located at 532 Busse highway in Park Ridge.

The youngest member of the Guild of Church Architects, which admits only architects who have made outstanding contributions to the field of church design, Cooley has designed well over a hundred churches.

About 50 are now in various stages of planning and construction.

COOLEY'S CHURCHES cover a wide range of denominations. Price-wise, his churches have ranged from less than $50,000 to almost a million dollars.

Most of the contemporary churches designed by Cooley are in the Chicago area, many of those being in the northwest suburbs.

Some examples of the churches Cooley has designed in this area include the Northwest Covenant church, now under construction in Mt. Prospect; the Good Shepherd Lutheran church, being built in Des Plaines; Prospect Heights Community church in Prospect Heights; the Lutheran church of St. Luke in Itasca; St. John United church of Christ in Arlington Heights; Wheaton Christian Reformed church in Wheaton; Immanuel Lutheran church and Christ Evangelical and Reformed church in Des Plaines; Christ Lutheran church in Palatine; Peace church in Bellwood; Community Methodist in Lake Villa; Community Presbyterian in Mt. Prospect; North Riverside Community church in North Riverside, and others.

Yes, church building is a big business. In 1957, church construction amounted to $750 million dollars—a $40 million increase over the previous year.

COOLEY DOES his best in this highly competitive field by offering an unusually well-rounded service to his clients.

Not only does he design the church, but for the standard fee most architects charge for design alone, he also draws plans for stained and cathedral glass, wood carvings, metalwork, chancel furniture, pews, pulpits, lecterns, altars, and so on. That his first love is design is apparent in the personal touch given every place of worship that passes through his office.

The custom designing of interior appointments is perhaps best typified by a specialty of Cooley's—stained glass window designs.

He begins with an idea, and concludes with scale color sketches for execution by United States specialists, or by artisans in Belgium, France, Germany, and the Netherlands.

"Stained glass window design," says Cooley, "is medieval craftsmanship in modern design, with proper consideration of symbolic content.

"Stained glass windows," he continues, "are not easel paintings. They have depth. The play of light through the stained glass gives significance to the symbolic, religious content of the windows."

COOLEY IS FIRMLY convinced that contemporary design is more attractive, utilitarian, and economical than the more traditional forms of architecture.

"What we call traditional architecture," he explains, "was modern in its day. But that day has gone, and our style of architecture should express the spirit of the age, not make a church building look like a relic of a bygone era.

Cooley, who lives at 480 Eaton in Biltmore, a Barrington subdivision, with his wife and two little boys, was born into his profession. His father, a structural engineer, worked on the remodeling of the Museum of Science and Industry and installed the artificial coal mine that has helped make it famous.

Cooley's father also built bridges in Russia, salt mines in Siberia, a coal mine eight miles beneath the ocean, and other mines in every state in the union. And he was also quite a world traveler.

Cooley was born in Chicago. He went to Senn high school, the Illinois Institute of Technology, National Teachers College in Evanston, and finally got his Bachelor of Science degree in architectural engineering from the University of Illinois in 1946.

But his education didn't end there. Cooley went on to do graduate work at Loyola University, the Art Institute of Chicago, Colorado Springs Fine Art Center; the Y.M.C.A. College Real Estate Institute, University of Illinois at Navy Pier, and the Institute of Design.

BEFORE STARTING his own business in 1949, Cooley traveled in France, Mexico, England, South America, Canada, the West Indies, and 40 of the United States.

Cooley's partner in the Park Ridge church designing firm is Edward M. Borre, of 1326 Elmwood ave., Deerfield. Borre — more the engineer than the artist —serves as field architect, supervising construction of the firm's many projects. He joined Cooley's office in 1955 and became a partner early this year.

Borre, who also holds a B.S. in architectural engineering from Illinois, is a graduate of New Trier high school and a former Air Force man. He and his wife have a four year old son and live in Deerfield.

Cooley and Borre spend what would ordinarily be their leisure time going to building committee meetings, talking to ministers, attending church functions, and speaking to various groups on their specialty.

IN HIS SPARE TIME, Cooley enjoys painting, and doing enough physical exercise to remind himself that he was once a star on the championship Illinois track team of 1945 and 1946.

Cooley has specialized in church architecture almost since graduation, because he feels it affords him the freedom of design and symbolic treatment of religious buildings which is part of his heritage.

The church architect, says Cooley, must have a little of the philosopher in him.

Besides practicing in Illinois, he has used his national architectural license in Georgia, Michigan, Indiana and Iowa.

Others on his staff include Donald Steffens of Des Plaines, associate architect; Victor Newberg of Evanston, Jim Ehrbach of Chicago, Donald Wrobleski of McHenry, Marvin Ball of Chicago, and William Rumsey of Winnetka, architects; Mel Bloom of Chicago, director of public relations; and Henrietta Hintz of Park Ridge, secretary. Tollway Property Offered for Sale

More than 150 parcels of real estate totaling some 70 acres which are no longer needed by the Illinois State Toll Highway commission will be offered for sale to the public.

This was announced last week by Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the commission, who said that the properties will be sold either through competitive bidding or through direct negotiation with the commission, depending on the valuation of the properties.

"Parcels which have an estimated value of $2,000 or more will be advertised," Dearing said. "Those valued at less than $2,000 will be sold through negotiation between interested persons and the commission."

DEARING SAID that exceptions of the policy of competitive bidding will be made in cases where former owners of individual parcels have expressed an interest in reacquiring them from the commission.

George W. McGurn, chief of the Legal department, estimated that the commission would receive about $400,000 from the sale of the properties no longer needed by the commission. McGurn said that the total amount received to date from property rentals and disposals amounts to $417,520.

"These parcels being offered for sale were acquired principally in cases where the commission was faced with the alternative of acquiring only part of a property and facing a high claim for damage to remainder, or of taking the entire property at a lower net cost," McGurn said.

McGurn said that complete lists of the properties no longer needed by the commission are available upon request to the commission's legal department. Copies of this list and copies of the advertisements for bids on individual parcels will be sent to the Chicago Real Estate board and to other real estate boards in the counties in which the properties are located.

THE PARCELS range in size from very small slivers of land of nine square feet to one tract of 26.8 acres, located at the southwest corner of the intersection of the East-West Tollway and route 31 near Aurora. This large tract is especially desirable for use as a motel, service station, or restaurant site. With appropriate zoning changes, several others of the properties will be suitable for business sites or home sub-divisions.

Terms of the policy announced by the commission require that property advertised for sale shall be sold to the highest responsible bidder submitting a bid at least equal to or greater than a specified minimum acceptable amount listed in the advertisement. Sealed bids will be required and will be opened publicly. Each bid must be accompanied by an earnest money deposit of ten per cent of the bid amount in the form of a certified check made payable to the commission.

In the event of a tie in the highest responsible bids, the successful bidder will be determined by drawing lots.

Mikula Is Named Art Director

Edward J. Mikula, 2401 Park st., Rolling Mdowas, is new art director of the central promotional office of the Methodist Church and The Methodist Story magazine.

Announcement was made by the Rev. Dr. E. Harold Mohn, general secretary of the commission on promotion and cultivation. Dr. Mohn said Mikula will be responsible for the artistic quality of all materials produced under the imprint of the commission.

For the past five years Mikula has been assistant art director of Illinois Farms Supply company, although much of his work, done on a free lance basis, has appeared already in issues of The Methodist Story.

PRIOR TO working with the supply company, he was associated with a number of art studios in Chicago. He is a native Chicagoan and has spent most of his life in and around the city except for war time service in England and elsewhere, 1941 to 1945. He was educated in Chicago schools and the Art Institute of Chicago.

The Mikulas and their two daughters attend the Methodist church at Arlington Heights. (BB

Suburban Shift Creates Tension

The flight to the suburbs has brought the new suburbanites face to face with a variety of situations and stresses which present problems in adaptation, it was brought out at the annual meeting of Forest hospital, Des Plaines.

Difficulties in and failures of adaptation to the new social situations are evidenced in mounting emotional stress, tension, and anxiety. These are noted in the records of many of the patients admitted to the hospital, which specializes in research, care and treatment of emotional and mental illness.

Upon migrating to the suburbs, many individuals experience both community and economic changes they are ill-equipped to face. For example, cost of transportation frequently skyrockets.

ALSO, COMMUTING to and from work usually is a great deal more time-consuming for the suburbanite. Schools may be overcrowded. And, as schools and other public buildings are added to meet demand, real estate taxes rise commensurately. New communities, which abound in the suburbs, often have street, sewerage and zoning problems.

If the transplanted urbanite develops a civic-consciousness in his new environment, he may discover that the village board, the school or recreation board, various committees and commissions consume a greater percentage of his time when originally anticipated. All this leads to unhappiness, mental turmoil and, conceivably, to a breakdown in emotional health.

DR. RUDOLPH G. Novick, medical-psychiatric director of the hospital, in addressing the meeting, stated that:

"The move from city to suburb, which is usually a sudden transition, confronts individuals, young and old alike, with situations considerably different from those to which they had been exposed to as urban residents. The new situations may, but do not necessarily make 'impossible psychic demands' on the individual or the family. More often than not, the new situations may be regarded as 'normal stressful situations.' They include a shift from the known and familiar to the unknown and strange. The former is conducive to satisfaction, contentment, and 'peace of mind.' The latter may induce uncertainty, discomfort, and anxiety. The new situation calls for adjustments to new people, places, standing and creating a role among new people in a new setting. It requires adaptation to different customs, ways of doing things, values, hopes and expectations. It calls for meeting new, different or increased social and economic demands, meeting mortgages, establishing new leadership-fellowship patterns, etc.

It is too early to draw any definite conclusions as to the meaning of these observations. They seem to indicate an interaction between the individual and the environment which has significant bearing on mental and emotional health and which will be explored further in the hospital."

The problem of the emotional adjustment to suburban living came up during the medical staff meeting which marked the 20th anniversary of Forest hospital's existence in Des Plaines. (BB

News Careers Offer Growing Opportunities to Young Folk

High school and college students are greatly underestimating the career opportunities which exist on the reporting and editing staffs of the nation's newspapers.

This is a major conclusion of a report by Alvin E. Austin, who took a year's leave from his post as head of North Dakota University's journalism department to investigate news staff recruitment problems — and solutions — across the nation. His study was sponsored by Dow Jones & Co., publisher of The Wall Street Journal, and by the Dow Jones Foundation.

One of his surveys, of 135 large and small daily papers, disclosed that over 67 per cent consider "shortage of new manpower" to be one of their leading problems. Pay for beginning reporters just out of college is rising rather rapidly; it now averages around $73 weekly and ranges above $100. Slightly more than half the newspapers surveyed are paying some top experienced news men more than $10,000 annually.

"CLEARLY, newspaper salaries have been improving faster than information about the gains has been getting around," declares the Austin report. It blames the majority of newspapers themselves for a widespread failure to inform young people of the opportunities on news staffs. And it emphasizes that on good newspapers these rewards include "intangibles" of the profession: excitement, integrity, prestige — a way of life.

"To the extent that journalists have succeeded in tearing down the traditional stereotype of the hard-drinking, bullet-dodging star reporter (still purveyed by movies and television) they seem to have left only the wrong impression that newspapering is a dull and routine job," says the Austin report.

Attracting bright young minds "is the newspaper industry's problem; many individual papers are tackling it with imagination and vigor," it adds. "But it is also a problem of importance to the whole American society. Newspapers always have needed the best minds available to perform their vital ask of keeping the public informed. Never has this been truer than now, a time of scientific, social and economic breakthroughs."

THE GREATEST pool of talent for newspaper staffs of the future is to be found today on college and school papers, the study concludes. It suggests most student editors would welcome volunteer professional advice on putting out their publications, and that association with the pros could lead many young people to choose a journalistic career.

Newspapers confront a mild dilemma, Professor Austin notes, because their hiring concentrates on smart college students — but impressions about careers are pretty well fixed in most youngsters' minds several years before they graduate from college. This means the papers must capture imaginations at high school age, if not before.

As evidence that newspapers have largely failed to do this, he shows that staffs of high school newspapers (some 30,000 of them, with $20 million annual production costs) have been largely abandoned by the boy students, just within the last few years. He quotes approvingly the remark of a professional newspaperman: "High school boys are not convinced the profession is one with a future, and don't want to waste time on it. If we can convince them of its opportunities, they will return to the fold."

ONE PROBLEM is the vocational guidance material available in schools and public libraries. Of 151 town libraries surveyed, one in New Hampshire gives a rough idea. Its books on newspaper work include volumes published in 1912, 1913, 1915 and 1919. The freshest of the lot is dated 1940.

The Austin report says even school guidance counselors who try to keep current have in their files journalistic career information that is wrong or, at best, unlikely to spark enthusiasm. Much of it springs from the U. S. department of labor, which has the newspaper business tabbed as a declining industry, mainly because there are fewer dailies and weeklies than in the 1920's.

Largely overlooked, ironically, is the fact that the U. S. department of commerce lists newspapers among "growth industries," a rating justified by the big increase in totals of employes, payrolls, circulations.

SHOULD THE YOUNG person aiming at a news career go to a college journalism school? The report notes that debate on this point still rages among newspaper executives. Of 128 managing editors questioned, 91 would definitely hire journalism school graduates ahead of general college grads; 29 firmly favored the latter over the former; just eight had no preference.

Professor Austin argues that the question is perhaps less crucial than it might seem, since newspapers agree that most of all they want young people with a broad liberal education, and this is obtainable either in or out of journalism schools. In any case, the papers cannot currently fill all their manpower needs from the journalism schools, whose enrollment has dropped more than 30 per cent within a decade. Therefore, he contends, they must enlarge their recruitment from the staffs of college papers on campuses lacking formal journalism courses.

More and more newspapers have recently initiated their own training programs for young members of their news staffs, the report shows. A spot check during the course of the Austin study turned up 35 of them in 28 states and the District of Columbia. Currently, there is a burst of interest in the idea that newspapers, like baseball teams, could benefit from "farm" systems where rookies could be trained and exhibit their worth. One newspaper chain has recently acquired two Florida weeklies with this objective.

THE AUSTIN REPORT admits that its numerous surveys could not compile statistics on some of the greatest attractions of a career on a good newspaper. To sample these, the report quotes individuals who are in the profession and love it. Here are three of them:

"No two days are alike. Work is stimulating, creative, and every situation is different. Boredom is impossible! The people themelves are exciting and congenial, too. Everyone seems to be closely knit and working for a common goal."

"I feel as though I belong, and often get satisfaction out of the idea that at least a few souls in our area honestly depend on my newsgathering and writing for information on subjects vital to them."

"(I relish) the opportunity to raise heck, poke fun at 'stuffed shirts,' laugh at the ridiculous occurrences, weep at tragedies, and be forever startled by the obvious." (BB

Launch Campaign To Cut Accidents

Traffic Condition Yellow, a special holiday alert designed to help reduce Illinois traffic accidents during the Christmas season goes into effect today and will last until 6 p.m. December 24.

Robert A. Campbell, state coordinator of traffic safety, said the state-wide alert is to warn motorists—before the holiday actually begins—of the extreme driving dangers brought on by the combination of winter driving hazards and the heavier volume of holiday traffic.

"More persons were killed in December of last year than in any other month of the year," Campbell said.

"We are asking each motorist to be especially cautious this month so that last year's tragic December traffic toll of 206 persons won't be repeated," he said.

DURING TRAFFIC Condition Yellow, newspapers, radio and television stations throughout the state will join forces to publicize the alert and stress the importance of safe, sober driving during the holiday period.

"Statistics show speeding and driving after drinking are two of the main causes of accidents during the Christmas season," Campbell said. Other major causes are fatigue, recklessness, violation of stop signs and improper maneuvering in traffic," he said.

He urged drivers to be especially watchful for these violations and to be particularly careful to avoid drinking and speeding.

"Heavy holiday traffic is dangerous enough in itself," Campbell declared, "But the hazards are multiplied tremendously by drinking and speeding."

THE YELLOW Alert will be followed immediately by Traffic Condition Red, which will go into effect at 6 p.m. December 24. The four-day Red Alert will include an all-out traffic law enforcement program in which every law officer in the State will participate. (BB

Schools Shouldn't Be Gingerbread Castles!

School buildings should be instruments of learning designed for child use — not gingerbread castles — in the opinion of Erie Jones of Palatine, newly-appointed educational consultant for A. J. Del Bianco and Associates, Chicago architects.

Not only do the children fail to appreciate such fripperies as fireplaces, decorative foyers and mosaic walls, but worse yet, basic plant necessities are often overlooked in the process, the educator said.

Formerly educational administrator in the Palatine schools, Jones has had broad experience in school construction in addition to being a teacher and school administrator. At the present time, he is acting as consultant on the construction of five schools in suburban communities through his association with the De Bianco firm.

JONES' ROLE is that of liaison man between the architect and the school board and instructors. His function is to bring about an efficient education plant with maximal use to teachers and staff.

"We must remember that teaching is a non-repetitive, creative task and that the learning process occurs only when there is rapport between teacher and pupil," Jones said. The school building should act primarily as an envelope or enclosure for facilitating the educational process. Its main purpose is to provide the necessary comforts, convenience and lighting.

Jones believes that educational physical plants which are carefully planned to best serve the excellent community educational programs of Illinois most certainly should also take into consideration low cost, easy maintenance, and the expected pleasing esthetics.

IT'S SHORTSIGHTED for school boards to scrimp on mechanical ventilation, Jones emphasized. Although many contemporary buildings do not provide mechanical ventilation if there are operating windows, such exclusion is false economy, he advised.

"Countless studies have proved that mental activity is reduced, that pupils become loggy and uncomfortable, because of poor ventilation," Jones pointed out, adding.

"Actually, even during the winter months, ventilating equipment is of greater value to the learning process than the heating unit. One must realize that in the average class of 35 pupils, body heat provides approximately half as much heat as a typical household furnace, for each pupil gives off heat equivalent to a 75 watt light bulb."

Individual temperature controls for each classroom are another convenience which are not expensive, yet pay big dividends in teacher and pupil comfort as well as operational economies, he said. A must in everv school, of course, is plenty of corkboard, chalkboard, and storage space.

THE STATE standards recommend that classrooms be 24 by 32 feet in dimension, Jones noted, but he would like to see them larger.

"In the elementary school we need spacious classrooms for the presently practiced group activity and committee work, but not so large that they could be used to accommodate more than 35 pupils," he said. Even larger rooms should be used at the kindergarten level because of the large amount of socializing and body movement activities practiced there. At high school the rooms may be smaller since most classroom activity, with the exception of the laboratories, is of a more formalized nature.

Jones holds a master's degree in educational administration from the University of Illinois. He served as an engineer with the army in World War II and in the Korean conflict. He studied at the Sorbonne in Paris following the war. Jones was a teacher and principal in Mount Olive, Ill., before joining the Palatine school system.

As for practicing what he preaches, Jones believes that one of his current projects, the recently completed Woodland Heights elementary school in the Elgin school district, embodies many of the features he has described as inherent in a sound plant. And he adds, it was built on a modest budget.

Vice Presidents Named for Firm

K. D. SAUNDERS

Following a meeting of the board of directors of Continental Casualty company this week, the election of Arch M. Parker of Arlington Heights and Kenneth D. Saunders of Mt. Prospect to assistant vice presidents was announced by Vice President Louis C. Morrell.

Morsell, who is chief executive officer of the accident and health department, said that Parker will retain his duties as director of accident and health branch administration and Saunders will continue as head of the department's sales promotion and market research facilities.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Parker early moved to Toronto, Ontario, Canada, where he was reared. After service in the RCAF during World War II he joined Continental's Toronto, Canada, office in 1946. He then enrolled at Queen's college, Kingston, and was graduated with a BA degree in business administration before returning to Continental in 1951.

Parker's rise at Continental has been rapid. In 1952 he was named manager of the accident and health branch office in Detroit, Mich. He moved to Cleveland, Ohio, as branch manager in 1954 and the following year became superintendent of commercial agents in the 310 S. Michigan ave., Chicago home office of Continental.

Parker was named superintendent of the special risks division in June, 1957.

Parker and his wife and three children now reside at 736 N. Gibbons st., Arlington Heights.

SAUNDERS had formerly been director of branch administration for Continental's accident and health department. He has spent his entire insurance career with the company, joining them in 1949 after his graduation from Dartmouth college.

Saunders served as supervisor of the special risks division, manager of Continental's Detroit, Michigan A and H branch office, assistant superintendent and later superintendent of the special risks division.

A native of Chicago, Saunders now resides at 305 N. Russel st., Mt. Prospect, with his wife and two children. (BB

Giant Toy Sale Brings Phone Grief to Housewife

A Park Ridge woman spent most of last week on the telephone, explaining to callers that she absolutely was not having a giant toy sale in her home.

Cause of the confusion was her phone number — only one digit different from that of the new Flagg's general merchandise "supermarket" in the Village Green shopping center, which was indeed having a giant toy sale.

Flagg's giant toy sale was to have lasted about three weeks. Five truckloads of toys were shipped in for the sale. But the special merchandise was gone by the end of the first week.

CHARLES HARTMAN, manager of Flagg's said: "We anticipated a big turnout because we were selling well-known brands at 50 to 80 per cent below established retail prices, but I never saw a turnout like that — we were literally flooded with customers."

Hartman said lines of customers stretched from the checkout counters to the rear of the store most of the time, all the self-service shopping carts were in use, and clerks were kept on the run replacing merchandise on display racks.

Flagg's, which opened October 30, is completely self-service with an automatic stocking feature that permits customers to help themselves to unopened, factory-packed cartons after making their selections from open displays. It handles all types of general merchandise.

AIM FOR JANUARY DRIVE—Herbert E. Conner, (right) of 1117 W. Burgoyne road, Arlington Heights, who is manager of the Ravenswood plant of the Coca Cola Bottling company of Chicago, views 1959 March of Dimes coin container which the soft drink firm will help distribute to all super marts in Cook County during the month-long fund-raising drive with Nelson L. Barnes, Jr., the 1959 general campaign chairman. In all, about 10,000 such coin containers are passed out by the Coca Cola Company. This year the March of Dimes will support programs in the fields of birth defects, arthritis and virus diseases as well as polio. The drive gets underway January 2 and lasts until January 31.

Show Social Security Card To Christmastime Employer

For persons seeking extra work during the Christmas shopping season, this means be sure you have your social security card in your possession so you can show it to your employer.

For employers, this means be sure you or your bookkeeper has the correct name and social security number of each new employee—and the only way you can be sure is to copy that information directly from the social security card.

EMPLOYERS "in the know," says Julius Berman, Social Security northwest district manager, insist on seeing the social security card before they hire or before they pay and accept no substitutes. Those with experience have learned that accepting the worker's name or number from any other source — his memory, a slip of paper, an employment reference card or even a tattoo—is hazardous and often leads to costly and time-consuming effort later, when the Government notifies them they have reported incorrectly and are required to ascertain and report the correct information.

Job-seekers who have lost their social security cards or who have changed their names since they last worked may obtain duplicate or corrected cards quickly and easily, Berman says. Service without charge is available no farther away than the nearest social security office. The northwest district office of the Social Security Administration is located at 4255 N. Milwaukee ave., Chicago 41, Illinois.

DuPage county residents are served by the district office at 1120 Westgate ave., Oak Park.

Holiday Highball Highway Menace

Office parties may lose their punch this Christmas.

The National Safety Council is urging business and industry to dry up office parties or cut them out. And a substantial number of firms have indicated willingness to comply.

Some workers may mourn the passing of the office wassail bowl. But its demise may prevent more serious mourning, the Council believes.

SURVEYS MADE by the Council show that a sizeable percentage of Christmas traffic accidents ocur early in the holiday period, and that many of these can be traced to highball hilarity.

If history repeats, the approaching Christmas holidays might well be the deadliest of 1958 on our streets and highways. The combination of alcohol, poor weather, long hours of darkness and the universal spirit of holiday celebration can pile up serious odds against safe travel.

Too many people think alcohol is a problem only for those obviously intoxicated. This is not the case. The majority of holiday celebrants—the social drinkers who have "only a couple"—hamper their driving ability, and at a time when other driving conditions are bad.

Safe driving demands mental alertness and physical fitness. And Alcohol affects the body in much the same manner as chloroform, ether or other anesthetics. Alcohol is not a stimulant, but a narcotic that is medically classified as a depressant.

DRINKING REDUCES the ability of any driver. And those who feel they are better drivers after a couple of drinks are only feeling the effect of the drinks.

Omitting liquor at office parties means that no drunken, or tipsy workers will leave parties to injure or kill themselves or others on the highways. It can mean a really merry instead of a tragic Christmas for workers and their families. Highballs and highway safety are not compatible. (BB

Cash Dividends Total $2.5 Million

Cash dividend payments in 1958 will total more than $2,500,000 for the 35,000 members of St. Paul Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago, Frank P. Kosmach, president, announced this week.

The semi-annual dividend to be paid on December 31 will be at the annual rate of 3½ per cent, Kosmach said.

"The year 1958 has been exceptionally good for savers," he added. "Accounts at St. Paul by December 31 this year should show a net savings gain of approximately 12 per cent compared with twelve months ago." (BB

4H CLUB

Joint Christmas Party for Two 4-H..Groups

The Country Cousins and Sewing Susies held a joint Christmas party December 1 at Pioneer Park. Linda Umbdenstock, president, called the meeting to order.

Marilyn Nickel of the International Farm Youth Exchange gave a talk and showed slides from Austria.

Each girl brought a pair of mittens to trim the tree. After the program, which featured an international theme, the mittens were packed and sent to the American Friends Service committee in Philadelphia. They will be given to needy persons abroad.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of Christmas carols and refreshments of cookies, candy and punch.

Future Homes 4-H Make Yule Plans

Future Homes 4-H club met December 3 for its December meeting at the home of one of its two leaders, Mrs. George Horbus, and her daughter, Sue. Among business dicussed was the Christmas party the club is planning. Committees were set up for this.

Several suggestions were given as to where the stuffed animals, which have been completed by the members, should be sent. It was also suggested that the club bake Christmas cookies to send to an old folks home. The girls were to bring their stuffed animals to the Horbus home by December 10, and their cookies also to Horbus home by December 22.

During the meeting, Mrs. Foss, one of the leaders, told the club about her recent trip to Springfield, state capital, to attend a leaders convention.

Highlight of the evening was the moment when each girl received her awards and pins for her work in 4-H last year.

Prospectors 4-H Holds Award Nite

Award distribution night for Prospectors 4-H club was held November 20 in the home of Dave and Bruce Cole.

First year awards were presented to LeRoy Behrens, Rodney L. Hommedieu, Bob O'Keefe, John Ryan, Bill Schwartz, and Rodney Swanson with second year awards going to Lawrence Oehlerking, John Seidel, and Martin Sidor. County project awards were given to John Seidel and Rodney Swanson. A State project award was given to John Seidel. The special Westinghouse Electric Award was won by Rodney Swanson. All of these boys received 4-H patches from the club and the club is an achievement club.

JOHN SEIDEL was chosen substitute junior leader for the remainder of the year.

Refreshments were enjoyed by the boys and the parents who were present after which recreation chairman Gary Morton taught the club several new games.

December 6 was the date of the club's Christmas party in the home of Gary Morton with games, prizes and refreshments. Grab-bag gifts were exchanged, but couldn't be opened until the party was over, adding to the surprise.

The United Kingdom is next with 9,313,800; Canada, third, has 3,075,000.

Television Digest estimates that the Soviet Union has 2,500,000 sets in use, though no accurate figures from behind the Iron Curtain are available.

West Germany has 1,700,000 sets, Japan 1,600,000, Italy 880,000 and France 800,000.

LISTEN TO THE EXPERT

The man with a fine or a good radio does not let a "ham" work on either. He has something far more precious, a soul. With little concern he yields the shaping of his life, and the lives of his children, to some funny "ism." The great expert for soul troubles is Jesus Christ.

APPROVED FUNERAL SERVICE

WHY DO PEOPLE PREFER US?

Because we possess tact and understanding, which is so important to those who always are in a nervous and disturbed state of mind when we meet them. These are factors which enhance and impress the quality of our services upon the memory of all who attend any funeral which we conduct.

In addition to his missionary service in Japan he has been on the faculty of Trinity Seminary and Bible college in Chicago. He and his wife and two children are at present residing in a suburb of Minneapolis while awaiting improvement in Mrs. Fuller's health.

IN HIS present position, Fuller directs the itinerary work of the 150 Free Church missionaries who serve in six different mission fields. Between 20, and 30 of them are home on furlough at a time. He also does a great deal of speaking himself and is heard often in church services, youth rallies and missionary conferences.

A graduate of Jewell college in Liberty, Mo., and Berkeley, Cal., Divinity chool, Fuller spent much of his time on the mission field in teaching Japanese young people in the Free Church Bible Institute in Kyoto. Missionary work of the Free Church in Japan was started in 1950, a few years after General MacArthur extended his stirring appeal for American missionaries to come to Japan to preach the Gospel.

Fuller has noted that the immediate post-war surge of the Japanese people toward Christ and Christianity has long since subsided and that the people of the country are not flocking to profess Christ as Saviour. At the same time he has seen a definite turning to Christ on the part of many Japanese, especially young people, as a result of a steady preaching of the Gospel and a person-to-person contact.

The Evangelical Free Church of America was founded in 1884 and now consists of more than 400 churches. Its missionary work is carried on in Congo, Venezuela, Hong Kong, the Philippines and Malaya in addition to Japan.

The public is invited to the meeting and there is no admission charge. Colored slides or movies also will be shown, according to Pastor Harry Evans of the local congregation.

New rain-maker

The Navy has found a new use for carbon black, chiefly used in the manufacture of tires and printing ink.

In recent experiments on the Georgia coast, the Naval Weather Service created and dissipated clouds successfully with carbon black.

It is believed an important new agent may have been found for producing rain and otherwise controlling weather in limited areas.

Open Bids For Sewer Extension

Metropolitan Sanitary District has opened bids for construction of a mile long interceptor sewer extension in Mount Prospect to serve the Prospect Meadows Sanitary District.

Of six bids submitted, the apparent low asking price is $1,138,250, submitted by the Kenny Construction company. All bids are to be tabulated before a contract is awarded. Engineers of the metropolitan district had estimated cost of the project at $1,100,000.

ROUTE OF THE interceptor extension will be under Rand road from Isabella street in Mt. Prospect to Euclid road in unincorporated Wheeling township, a distance of 5,600 feet. It will be installed in a 4.5 to 5 foot tunnel.

The extension of the concrete interceptor will carry the main line, which now stops at Rand road and Isabella street in Mt. Prospect, almost into Prospect Heights, said Horace Ramey, chief engineer of the metropolitan district.

pneumonia costs less

Before antibiotics, medical bills for the average pneumonia case usually amounted to more than $300 and a hospital stay of about 5 weeks.

Today, prompt treatment with about $15 worth of antibiotics clears up most cases of pneumonia . . . and treatment is at home.

Petition to Drag On Through Year

Outcome of a petition to disconnect the area known as Barring East Countryside from the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Sanitary District most likely will be up in the air for a good part of 1959.

Hearing on the petition in Cook county court has been continued to May 11. It's the sixth continuance in the case since it was filed last March.

The first five continuances were granted to see how the county board would vote on a petition from Barrington Woods, Inc., and its president Don C. Maxon, to rezone 96.5 acres contiguous to the village of Barrington from farming to R-4 residential. The commissioners recently voted against rezoning and the owners now have filed suit to upset that.

The Metropolitan Sanitary District had been set to oppose the disconnection petition if the land were rezoned. But the district trustees now are taking a neutral position until the court case is settled, said Lawrence J. Fenlon, principal assistant attorney. Fenlon called attention to the district's plans for a sewage treatments works in the vicinity.

THE DISCONNECTION petition was filed by Attorney Edward J. Wright on behalf of about 150 voters and property owners in the area.

The tract is bounded generally by the Lake-Cook county line (north), the village of Barrington (west), Northwest hwy and Dundee rd. (south), and by forest preserve district lands bordering Quentin rd. (east).

More than one-third of the unincorporated territory is farm land, Wright said, adding that the remainder is comprised of one to five-acre home sites with the exception of 200 acres being developed as a golf course.

The area is on the border of the metropolitan sanitary district which has not extended sewage or drainage facilities nor provided sewage treatment plant facilities for the community, Wright said.

THE COMMUNITY is in a watershed flowing west of the Fox river. The proposed disconnection would not isolate any of the metropolitan district's remaining territory, Wright said.

All residences in the Barrington East Countryside community have their own wells and septic tank systems, Wright said.

The large home sites eliminate any possibility of contaminating the water supply of neighboring lands, the petition said.

Concrete Channel To Be Constructed

Construction of a concrete channel under Weller Creek bridge at Elmhurst rd. in Mt. Prospect has been added to the $200,000-plus project of cleaning out the creekbed now under way along its 2.7 mile course between Arlington Heights and Des Plaines.

The channel at Elmhurst rd. will cost about $18,000 and will be put in by Brautigam company, the firm that has the dredging contract.

Horace Ramey, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Sanitary District, said the ditch must be enlarged under Emhurst rd., necessitating construction of the concrete channel or block. The Weller Creek job is a Metropolitan Sanitary District project.

Brickman Rezoning Hearing Dec. 15

Joseph M. Brickman, who has proposed the "Blueprint of the Future" planned community for Ela township, Lake county, will appear before the Lake county zoning board of appeals at 10 a.m. Monday, Dec. 15, in the Legion hall at Lake Zurich.

He will seek rezoning of 554 acres from farmland to residential and business classification. This, he said, is a first step to the development of the 2,000 acres which he owns or has under option in Ela township.

BRICKMAN announced this week that his attorneys are prepared to deliver to the zoning board of appeals a "binding commitment . . . that the subdivider of the Ela township property may not form a 'captive municipality'."

Old-time residents of the area charge Brickman is attempting to form a "captive municipality" in order to obtain building codes and zoning requirements to suit his own needs.

Brickman's blueprint calls for a $1 billion community of 60,000 to 80,000 persons covering 6,222 acres.

The plan envisions 16,000 single-family homes priced from $20,000 to $50,000 and 6,000 apartment and duplex units. (B8

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB BUCHANAN

THE WEST SUBURBAN CONFERENCE kicked off its 1958-59 basketball season Friday and three games turned out to be dog-eat-dog affairs. Only one was a runaway. In this corner, we expect the entire WSC season to be a close one on a game-to-game basis.

With winter having set in, the leaves having fallen, and a few basketball games under our belt, we'll take our crystal ball out on a limb, hope the sap hasn't gone back into the ground, and issue a few predictions.

West Suburban Predictions

"KICKIN' IT AROUND'S WSC Prognostication:

Place	Team	Record	Place	Team	Record
1.	Hinsdale	12-2	5.	Glenbard	6- 8
2.	Maine	11-3	6.	Downers Grove	5- 9
3.	York	9-5	7.	LaGrange	3-11
4.	Arlington	8-6	8.	Riverside-Brookfield	2-12

Cardinal fans will immediately send up a howl, that "Kickin' It Around" is not supporting the home town team. That ain't so. We support them. This is what we term an "objective" prediction. It is designed to neither put the Cardinals on a pedestal nor take a pessimistic attitude about the home town team.

It Will Be Tough to Win on Road

WE FIGURE ONE THING. It's going to be mighty tough winning on the road. In fact, we think only slightly more than a quarter of the West Suburban traveling clubs will come home victorious and most of those wins will be centered in Hinsdale and Maine. In the opening week, the four home clubs took it all. Three times this season, WSC games are on consecutive Fridays and Saturdays. Quintets will have to go all out for two days and this will have a bearing on the race. York, we think, will find it rough Dec. 12-13 at Downers and Arlington. On the Jan. 16-17 weekend, it looks like Hinsdale may suffer its first WSC loss at Maine. The night before Hinsdale hosts tough York while Maine is toying with Riverside-Brookfield. But then Feb. 6-7 we look for Maine to have it rough with a scare by Downers and a setback at Glenbard.

Cards Have Strong, Weak Points

LET'S DELVE INTO THE TEAMS for a minute.

Coach Frank Bohac's Arlington team is a good starter. This team has its strong points and its weak points. A better individual may come along, but it is doubtful if there'll be a better pair of WSC guards than Lee Magnuson and Dave Varnado. They're scrappers from the word go. Magnuson can kill you with his jump shot and Varnado can kill you wil his hands and feet on defense. Defensively, the Cards are top drawer. Before the season is out, they'll make their opponents commit a lot of floor mistakes. Shooting is a big question mark. The Cards have been both hot and cold and this will be one factor Bohac must battle all year. But what hurts Arlington most is rebounds. The Cards, we believe, will get their knocks on the boards more than any other place.

Rebounding May Oust Arlington

THE LACK OF REBOUNDING is why we believe Arlington will fall to both Hinsdale and Maine twice each. Both Coach Larry Hoff's Red Devils and Coach Bernie Brady's Blue Demons have the big boys. They'll be the reasons, we think the two clubs will battle to the wire with the final game Feb. 27, 1959, going to Hinsdale on the Red Devils' court. Behind 6-8 Center Steve Goulding, 6-5 Forward Kurt Hofmann and 6-3 Forward Bill Harlow, Hinsdale has a 4-0 record and shows no signs of weakening. Maine has its big boys in Center Tom Gebbie at 6-7, and Forwards Tom Mahon and Rich Peterson at 6-5 and 6-3, respectively. Despite a 47-46 setback at York, Maine showed it could come back after being down 19-13 at the quarter. And considering Gebbie was not at his best—he got just five points—Maine is expected to retain its spot as No. 1 contender to the champ.

Glenbard Hurt by Inexperience

YORK, LIKE ARLINGTON, will show its class but will also be spotty. Coach Dave Koch has some tall boys in 6-5 Bruce Minier, 6-4 James Boling and 6-2 Pete Voss, but none has shown he is a consistent high scorer.

Lack of experience is what may keep Bob Metcalf's Glenbard ball club in the second division. With no lettermen back from last year's WSC co-championship club, Metcalf has to start rebuilding. However, he has good material in 6-6 Center Dennis Hansen and Bob Early, Joe Kelly and Bob Finch, all 6-3½ forwards. Guard Dick Chandler, out with a broken foot, could be the spark this team needs. A regular on the soph team last year, he is expected to be in the lineup after Christmas.

Lutgens Most Hounded Player

GUY WELLMAN WILL PROBABLY have the most outstanding WSC player in 6-4 Ken Lutgens but he may never reach his peak, being hounded by the opposition on the strength of his ability and press releases. Wellman has only one other 6-4 boy, Dave Current. Guard Dennis Hauflaire, a letterman, is not fully recovered from an ankle injury yet. Downers is expected to be an improved club over last season, yet may find it hard due to the improved caliber of ball in the WSC this year.

LaGrange's Lions have shown little in losses to Morton and Oak Park and a five-point win over hapless Riverside-Brookfield. The one bright spot for the Lions was Gordon Titus' 26 point effort Friday against R-B. With Rich Jarom leading the way, Coach Chuck DeWild's R-B team may be able to halt its WSC winless streak. Though R-B has no man over 6-3, it does have five lettermen in addition to Jarom. Then, too, the crying towel should be handed to DeWild. He lost his No. 2 scorer last week when 6-3 junior Forward Bruce Jablonski transferred to a Wisconsin school.

Come On Cards, We Too Like a Winner

WITH ALL THIS IN MIND, "Kickin' It Around" thinks the eight WSC teams will finish in the order picked. Arlington Coach Frank Bohac won't agree. He thinks his boys are No. 1. We agree with him in order to be a champion, you have to think like a champion. We wish Bohac would prove us wrong and bring home a West Suburban title. We, too, like winners, especially when it's the home team.

Cardinal Freshmen Top Palatine, 32-30

John Burgermeister's basket from four feet away on the side with 15 seconds remaining gave Arlington's freshman "A" basketball team an uphill 32-30, victory over Palatine Monday afternoon in the Prospect gym.

The Pirates held an 18-9 halftime lead and 25-17 third quarter advantage but then the young Cards came to life in the last quarter to rack up eight baskets. Mike Franceк's basket gave Arlington the lead for the first time, 30-29. With half a minute left, John Seehausen dropped in a free throw to knot the score and set the stage for Burgermeister's winning basket.

In a sluggish game, the Pirate freshmen were the better shooters, but Arlington displayed better defensive work and rebounding. Both teams committed many floor mistakes.

Box score:

Palatine (30)	B	F	P	Arlington (32)	B	F	P
Shausn, f	3	1	2	Andrsn, f	0	0	1

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Palatine	10	8	7	5—30
Arlington	5	4	7	16—32

NOTHING STOPS Cardinal Lee Magnuson as he drives for a basket Friday night against Glenbard. Trying to stop him are Bob Finch (behind Magnuson) and Dennis Achilles. Arlington players nearby are Pat Corteen (31) and Mike Tierney (54) and Jim Lewis (15) of Glenbard.

Arlington in 2 WSC Battles

At R-B Friday; Then Host York

A more potent Arlington basketball team than some quarters expected runs smack into one of three heavy West Suburban conference weekends, traveling to Riverside-Brookfield Friday and hosting York Saturday.

Though R-B lost its opener at LaGrange last Friday, Coach Frank Bohac's Cards are not expected to have a picnic against the Bulldogs.

Coach Chuck DeWild's quintet is scrapping to pick itself up off the floor after a 0-14 WSC record last year.

SATURDAY NIGHT the Cards return home to meet a tall and also good York outfit, which after losing its opening nonconference games, came from 10 points behind to nip Maine by one point.

Bohac is expected to field the same team which nipped Glenbard, 48-46, and gunned down Glenbrook, 73-57. This is a much different team than the one which lost two of three previous nonconference games.

The change is the moving Guard Lee Magnuson to forward and insert George Bork into the Arlington lineup at guard. The move, without question, gave the Cards their opening game win against a good Glenbard team.

WHAT THE MOVE did most was give the Cardinals tremendous scoring punch. Magnuson always could hit his jump shots. Dave Varnado was consistent on his shooting and driving.

Aside from Varnado and Magnuson, the Cards did not have a consistent scorer. The addition of Bork, who may turn out to be the best marksman with his natural shooting ability, adds a third threat. He got nine against Glenbard and 19 against Glenbrook.

Pat Corteen, at times, has been as hot as any other Arlington player, but he is not consistent. When Corteen's on, the Cards can keep up with any WSC team.

BOHAC HAS his biggest scoring problem at center where neither Ed Whitelaw nor Mike Tierney have shown any great shakes. Whitelaw has bested Tierney for the starting role because of his rebounding strength.

Friday's dual in Riverside will pit the No. 2 and 3 WSC scorers against each other. R-B's Rich Jarom is second with 24 and Magnuson third with 18. Jarom is R-B's main scoring threat, having racked up 123 points in five games.

Aside from him, DeWild has no one else who has hit the hoop consistently. Until a week ago, DeWild had a good boy in 6-3 Bruce Jablonski, but then he transferred to a Wisconsin. This left R-B without its No. 2 scorer.

DeWILD ALSO notes that lack of height hurts his squad since no one is over 6-3. And in the West Suburban this is small for the forward wall.

Besides Jarom who is the team's center, the other four starters will come from last year's Jayvee team. They are Tom Roach and Bob Prazak at forwards and Al Rezebek and John Patterson at guards.

At Arlington

York (1-2)		Arlington (3-2)
6-2 Falter	F	Corteen 6-0
6-2 Voss	F	Magnuson 6-0
6-4 Bolin or	C	Whitelaw 6-5

York, sporting a forward wall which averages better than 6-3, will encounter its second rough WSC foe on consecutive nights Saturday in the Arlington gym.

At R-B

Arlington (3-2)		R-B (2-3)
6-0 Corteen	F	Prazak 6-2
6-0 Magnuson	F	Roach 6-1
6-5 Whitelaw	C	Jarom 6-3
6-1 Bork	G	Rezebek 5-11
5-10 Varnado	G	Patterson 6-0

TIME
Frosh-soph game, 7 p.m.; varsity, 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 12.
PLACE
Riverside-Brookfield high school, Forest and golf, Brookfield.

Friday night the Dukes are expected to have an all-out battle at Downers Grove. York Coach Dave Koch believes this will more than likely weaken his club for Saturday night's encounter at Arlington.

ALSO, KOCH pointed out, "You can't point for just one good game. You've got to play good ball in both games."

The lack of experience with just one letterman back has hurt the Dukes but they seem to be progressing as the season goes on.

The lone returnee is Jim Bolin, a 6-4 junior who lettered last season as a sophomore. Koch also listed as a possibility at center, Bruce Minier, a boy who goes 6-5.

THE TWO FORWARDS, Pete Voss and Bill Falter, seem fairly well set although Koch could move either Bolin or Minier to the front line to get more height.

Three boys are battling at the guards, Koch said. They are Gary Meyer who tossed in 14 against Maine, Art Morstadt who garnered six against the Blue Demons and Ed Rahn who failed to score Friday night.

Need Adults To Instruct Hockey Loop

Arlington Heights park district officials Monday evening will attempt to form a hockey league.

Plenty of youthful participants are assured, park director Tom Thornton said, but the number of adults to supervise the program is in doubt.

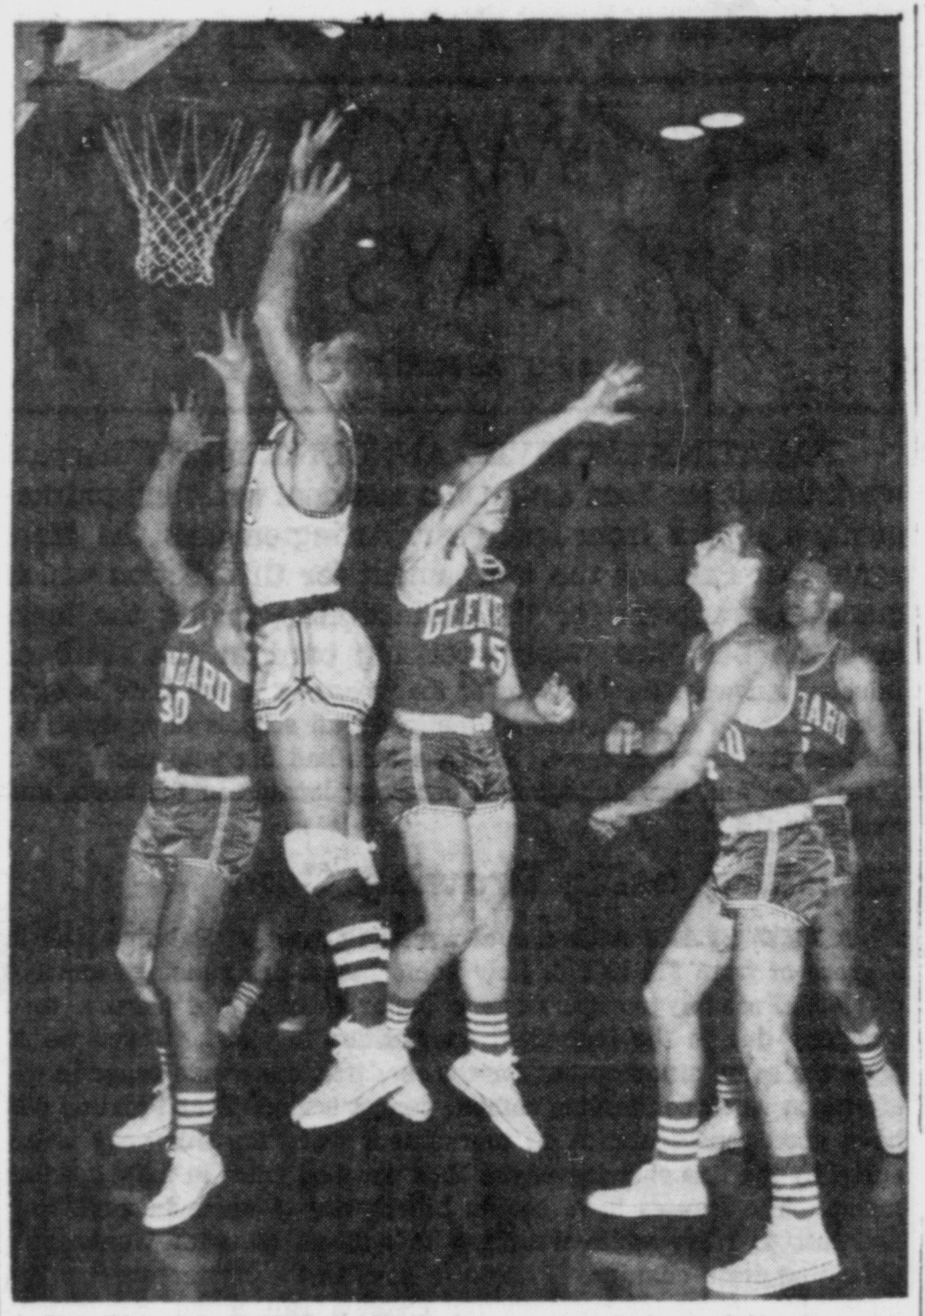
The meeting, set for 8 p.m. Monday in the Pioneer park field house, is for interested adults. If a number of adults, who will act as coaches appear, a league will be formed. Thornton intimated that plans may be dropped if there is not enough adult supervision.

Adults need not have been a college or professional player but must have some knowledge of basic hockey fundamentals.

Skating Rinks Open

Ice skating rinks at both Recreation and Pioneer park in Arlington Heights are now open, park district director Tom Thornton announced early this week.

Skating is open all hours although supervised hours are from 3 to 9:30 p.m. weekdays, 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, and 12 noon to 9:30 p.m. Sunday.



CENTER ED WHITELAW goes up to tap in his only basket of the night. Trying to stop him are Glenbard's Bob Early (30), Jim Lewis (15), Dennis Achilles and Dennis Hansen. Arlington won its WSC opener by just that margin, two points, 48-46.

Cards Score 33 In 8 Minutes

Arlington's Cards went hog-wild in the third quarter Saturday night, tallying 33 points and racing to a 73-57 victory over Glenbrook in a non-conference contest at Arlington.

A combination of a devastating press defense and amazing exhibition of shooting reduced the Spartans to a slow trickle before the bench crew took over in the final period.

THE CARDS had jumped off to an 18-8 lead in the first period but reserves dissipated it into a meager 33-31 halftime advantage. Some stout resistance from the Spartans' Newt Mead and Ron Holder was soon engulfed in locals' most remarkable display of scoring in the past few years.

George Bork, a junior finding a home for himself in the starting varsity lineup, led the onslaught with six field goals in six third period attempts. Lee Magnuson contributed nine points in the wild eight minutes.

At one point in the quarter Arlington scored seven points in 30 seconds, and 20 points in the last two and a half minutes. The scoreboard showed a 66-46 deficit as the Glenbrook crew sought counseling between quarters.

ARLINGTON scoring was fairly evenly distributed. Lee Magnuson drove through and around the Spartan defenders to tally 19 points, despite the fact that he missed five of six free throw attempts. Dave Varnado's superb defensive game was coupled with his contribution of 20 points, high for the evening. Bork finished with 18 points, all on field goals.

Despite a weak fourth quarter the Cards shot .551, connecting 32 times in 58 shots. Glenbrook shot .461, 24 baskets in 52 shots.

Cardinal-Pirate Wrestlers Clash For PA's Bucket

The Arlington - Palatine basketball teams with their "Sleigh Bells" trophy will have nothing on the two neighboring wrestling teams after this weekend.

Saturday afternoon the two mat teams will battle to see who takes home "PA's bucket" in a match set for 2 p. m. in the Arlington gym.

THOUGH ARLINGTON has won six of the seven meetings between the two schools, the match is considered a "tossup" with any edge, if there is one, going to Palatine's vastly improved team.

The Pirates' only win in the series was 24-18 in 1956-57. Last year Coach Dick Mudge's Cards won a 26-18 battle. Previous to that Arlington won, 24-19, in 1955-56; 35-13, in 1954-55; 37-9, in 1953-54; and 38-6 and 56-0 in 1952-53.

Thus far this year, Palatine has won three matches, tied one, and lost one. The Cards have beaten Glenbrook and lost to Leyden. Palatine has downed Libertyville, Wauconda, and York. They tied state champion Waukegan and lost to Niles.

Here's the individual match picture.

95 POUNDS—Harry Krause or Wally Friker (A) vs. Johnny Anderson (P). Krause has won one bout and lost one. Friker has not wrestled. Anderson has won three and lost two and scored all his wins on pins.

103—Jose Ortiz (A) vs. Ed Rogan (P). Ortiz has won two bouts, pinning one foe. Rogan has won two, lost the same number, and tied one bout. He has pinned one opponent and been pinned once. Chuck Conley of Palatine, now at 112, beat Ortiz, 7-0, last year. Rogan lost to Trausch of Arlington at 95 last year, 2-0.

112—Jerry Bonn (A) vs. Chuck Conley (P). A real match. Bonn won his lone match on a decision. Conley has won four bouts without a loss and in so doing pinned one foe. Bonn beat Brad McCreery of Palatine, now at 120, last year, 6-5.

120—Tom Clark or Wintz (A) vs. Brad McCreery (P). Clark has lost both times, both rough bouts. McCreery has won all five bouts, including three on pins.

127—Dale Hedberg (A) vs. Bill Sweet (P). Hedberg has lost both bouts. Sweet has won four and lost one. Sweet has one pin to his credit.

133—Ed Gerrard (A) vs. Joe Bellanca (P). Gerrard has been defeated in both bouts. Bellanca has won once and lost twice. Bellanca was pinned last year by Steil at 127.

138—Al Seyler (A) vs. Harry Oltyan (P). Seyler has split both bouts. His loss was a close one to state-contender Saenz of Leyden. Oltyan has won four and tied one. He has pinned one opponent. Oltyan last year beat the Cards' Zucchero, 10-4, at 133.

145—Dave Schreiber (A) vs. Fred Kaiser or Mike Fremon (P). Schreiber has won both bouts. Kaiser also has won the two bouts he has wrestled. Fremon has lost all three he's been involved in. Last year Schmacher pinned Kaiser at 138.

154—Paul Clark (A) vs. Dick Sanborn (P). Clark has won both bouts. Sanborn has won two, lost three. In those bouts, he has one pin and has been pinned twice.

165—John Torrens (A) vs. Phil Nesset (P). Torrens has won both bounts. Nesset has won one and lost one at 165 and has done likewise at 175. At 175 Nesset pinned one foe. Torrens last year beat Casper of Palatine, 4-0.

PA's Bucket

PA's bucket, the trophy for which Arlington and Palatine wrestlers will battle, was the creation of the two schools' athletic directors.

The bucket made of wood, is turned upside down with a wrestler on top. Around the sides will be engraved the scores. The winning team will take home the traveling trophy.

PA stands for "P" for Palatine and "A" for Arlington.

175—Dave Woodruff (A) vs. Lloyd Roberts (P). Woodruff has won one bout and lost one but in his win scored a pin. Roberts has won all three bouts by decision. Last year Roberts beat Woodruff, 6-3.

Heavyweight—Darrell Phillips or Bob Hacker (A) vs. Willie Rogers (P). Phillips lost his lone bout to Harold Butz of Glenbrook. Hacker has not competed at varsity level. Rogers has won two, lost two, tied one, scored one pin, and has been pinned twice. Last year Rogers beat Farleigh of Arlington, 2-0.

Cardinal Tune Up

Palatine's wrestling team will tune up for Saturday meet when they meet Barrington at 7 p. m. Friday at Barrington.

Then Tuesday Palatine's wrestlers will travel to Elgin where they meet a top-notch team at 7 p. m.

Wildcat Numeral

Jack Weber, all-state end for Arlington's 1957 football team, was one of 44 freshmen awarded numerals at Northwestern university's annual football dinner Dec. 2.

Gymnastics Team Opens Year Friday

Coach Gay Hughes' Arlington gymnastics team opens its 1958-59 season at 7 p. m. Friday night at Prospect high school against New Trier.

Only four Cardinal lettermen will be competing in the opening meet. They are John Henning on the horizontal and parallel bars and rings, Gary Moreland and Bob Schoepke on the trampoline and tumbling and Bill Sayre tumbling.

Arlington will need every letterman Tuesday when they meet Proviso East, defending state champion, in the Arlington high school gymnasium at 7 p. m.

Two lettermen, Tom Geocaris and Mike Lyons won't be competing for Hughes Friday. Geocaris, an appartus man, is out with a torn muscle. Lyons was bested by teammates for the trampoline berth in an intra-squad meet last Friday.

Expected to start are: horizontal bar, Henning, Danny Niemann, Don Ballou; sidehorse, Ralph Westberg, R. C. Anderson and Dick Wetzel; tumbling, Moreland, Sayre and Schoepke; parallel bar, Arnie Harvey, Henning and Ballou; rings; Henning, Harvey and Nelson; and trampoline, Moreland, Schoepke and Bill Flood.

There are no longhorse or all-around events in dual meet competition.

Though New Trier Coach Joe Giallombardo lost 12 seniors last year, Hughes said the New Trier coach can be expected to come up with another good team. "None of his teams are ever poor," Hughes emphasized.

Proviso East, coached by Bill Roetzheim, is expected to repeat with the No. 1, 2, and 3 men in the all-around and 11 of the 13 men on its state championship squad. Leading Proviso in apparatus stunts are All-Around Champion Ron Kos and No. 2 and 3 men Frank Culbertson and Ken Donofrio. All-around covers all events except tumbling and trampoline.

Cards Outlast Glenbard 48-46, in WSC Opener

Arlington's Cards began a long trek towards a desired West Suburban Conference championship by disposing of Glenbard Friday night in thrilling 48-46 fashion. Coach Frank Bohac's boys salted down a 20-10 lead in the first period and held on for 24 minutes. The contest marked the opening of the conference season for both schools.

LEE MAGNUSON's sharpshooting early in the game gave the Red and White the needed incentive. The senior forward dropped in five baskets in the first quarter to start the victory campaign.

Arlington was actually outscored in the final three periods, 36-28, as Glenbard's rallying Hilltoppers defied the Cards' slowdown tactics.

Both teams hit 17 times from the field, the difference coming from the free throw line where Arlington connected 14 times in 21 trips compared to Glenbard's 12 of 21. Even the personal fouls were close, Arlington being charged with violations 15 times while the Bards were called for 16.

THE CARDS relied heavily on free throws in the final period, surrendering what was a 37-31 advantage at the end of three quarters. Dave Varnado provided what was the locals' only two-pointer in the last stanza; however, Arlington connected for eight of 13 from the charity line, Glenbard committing fouls in an attempt to get the ball.

The score was never tied in the closing minutes of the game; in fact, Arlington never surrendered the lead once after the opening basket.

After the decisive first period, Glenbard edged the Heights quintet 10-9 in the second quarter; 11 to 9 in the third; and 15-10 in the fourth. Fortunately, the drive fell two points shy, and Arlington, for a time at least, rested at the top of the WSC standings.

Card Sophs Humble Glenbrook

Victory number five came easily Saturday night as Arlington's sophomores walked over Glenbrook, 52-37, in a non-conference go at Arlington.

Keith Grams' two jump shots gave the winners a 4-2 lead in the opening minutes of play and served as an indication of things to come. Grams went on to share scoring honors with Dick Palmer with 12 points apiece.

THE VISITORS crept to within two points of Arlington shortly after the second period got under way, 16-14, but watched helplessly as the locals unleashed their big guns, bolting to a 22-14 lead, 22-16 and then 34-16 at the halfway mark.

Glenbrook tallied only five points in the third quarter, their long shots constantly missing the mark, and their offense being thwarted by a staunch Heights defense.

Owning a 25 point lead going into the final canto, Arlington used its second and third stringers in the last seven minutes, thus accounting for the fact that Glenbrook was able to cut the deficit by some 10 points.

A GREAT HEIGHT advantage gave the winners almost complete control of the backboards, Palmer, Empkie, and Zadel grabbing off the rebounds.

Despite their unblemished record, the Birdies found themselves ahead at halftime for only the second time this season, indicating, perhaps, that the locals have discarded their patented weak beginnings.

Sophs Register 1st WSC Win at Glenbard Expense

Arlington's sophs again depended upon a strong second half to upend Glenbard, 57-43, in the season's first conference battle.

A 22 point third quarter sparked the unbeaten Birdies, who were behind, 24-23, at halftime. Keith Grams led the Arlington onslaught with 10 points in the third period and a total of 16 for the evening.

COACH KEN Schaller substituted freely in the final quarter after his lads had built up a 45-32 advantage at the three-quarter post.

The winners had their usual slow start in the initial stanza, falling behind, 10-5. Fred Lussow, who shared scoring honors with Grams, hit a pair of buckets and saved what could have been a disastrous seven minutes.

Fred Empkie and Lussow each contributed three two-pointers in the second quarter to edge the young Hilltoppers 18-14 in that period.

SOME RED hot shooting solved Glenbard's defense as the Red and White quickly took the lead following intermission and were not seriously challenged from then on.

Empkie, Dick Palmer, and Lussow gave Arlington a distinct advantage in the rebounding department, and even the smoothly operating Bards could not find any big gaps in the Birdie defense.

BESIDES REGISTERING their first conference victory, the locals notched their fourth decision in four starts this season.

Dick Irving and Bill Millichap led the scoring for the losers, with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

Sophs Ready For Both WSC Games

Arlington's sophomore basketball team will attempt to keep their five-game winning skein intact against Riverside-Brookfield Friday night and York Saturday night in WSC games.

Coach Ken Schaller is expected to start the same five who began the first five battles. They are Bill Zadel and Fred Empkie at forwards, Dick Palmer at center, and Fred Lussow and Keith Grams at guards.

Schaller said he expects a tough battle at R-B and an even tougher one against York since the Cards as freshman topped the Dukes by just one point.

Glenbrook Sophs Beat Arlington

Able to win just four bouts, three of them by pins, Arlington's sophomore wrestling team fell victim to Glenbrook, 30-18, Saturday at Glenbrook. The loss was the second in as many starts for the young Cards.

It took Arlington's freshman "B" basketball team a quarter to get going. Then they went on to a 24-19 victory over Palatine's "B" team Monday afternoon at Prospect high school.

The Pirates took an 8-2 lead but then the Cards shut out Palatine in the second quarter while getting 12. High for Arlington was Don Sass with eight. Palatine's leading scorer was Reece Thome with six.

Coach Dick Mudge's grapplers scored two pins in downing Coach Walt Sherman's Tri-County conference champions. Jose Ortiz put Olson on the mat in 1:22 at 103 pounds and at 175 Frank Woodruff pinned Falk in 1:25.

Dave Schreiber did a good job in besting Ivan Marks at 145, 8-0. John Torrens won his 165 pound match, 3-0.

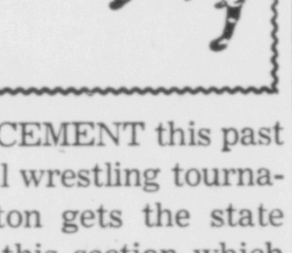
MAC SAYS



by G. A. McELROY

PALATINE RECEIVED ANNOUNCEMENT this past week that it has been assigned a sectional wrestling tournament, a repeat from last year. Arlington gets the state again and Palatine the tournament for this section which qualifies grapplers for the state events, giving the local area the best two week wrestling card in the state of Illinois. Anyway, three-fourths of the wrestling in the state is done in the Chicago suburbs where practically all schools have taken on the fast growing mat sport. Palatine also had big gate receipts for a sectional and like Arlington is centrally located in the north and west suburbs.

Wrestling a Big Drawing Card

A FEW YEARS AGO a dual wrestling meet at Palatine took in a gross of from $10 to $15. Now home meets are running from $50 to $100. Probably no sport has a better following of parents than wrestling due to the individual competition involved. Track would have the same situation but for the fact that the meets occur in the afternoon when commuting fathers cannot attend. That Palatine will have good representation in tournament wrestling this year is assured by the fine showing of the Ellis coached team in their opening meets. The Pirates have beaten Libertyville, Wauconda, and York and lost to Niles while wrestling to a 21-all tie with Waukegan's defending state champs. Palatine's boys in the lighter weights are quite outstanding and except for Captain Bill Sweet, are underclassmen. Watching the Pirates pile up a 17-2 lead and then have to settle for a tie with Waukegan, we were much impressed with the wrestling of Brad McCreery at 120, Chuck Conley 112, Bill Sweet 127, and Lloyd Roberts 175. Some of these boys may wrestle at lower weights come tournament time, but Coach Ellis, unlike some coaches, does not want his boys to diet and maintain weights at a level which might endanger their health. This weight angle of wrestling is one which is often open to criticism.

Palatine Fans Pull for Grapplers

NEXT SATURDAY PALATINE'S BIG wrestling meet of the season will occur at 2 p.m. in a matinee performance at Arlington. The Pirates are accorded an even chance of coming out on top in both varsity and frosh-soph divisions. Pirate fans would like very much to have the boys come through with victories to avenge the humiliating varsity basketball defeat the night before Thanksgiving. Arlington caught the Pirates at a low point and handed them their worst defeat, 68-25, in the long series dating back to the early twenties. When Palatine scored its first point in this game, after Arlington had run up a 23-0 lead, Arlington fans stood and gave the Pirates a hand. This is the first occasion in our memory dating back 28 years at Palatine that Arlington people ever cheered the Pirates and we hope that the situation which brought this applause does not occur again.

North Chicago a State Possibility

LAST SPRING WE HEARD a rumor from a student council meeting that North Chicago students were doing some real wishful thinking that their War Hawk cagers would go to the state tournament. This is a worthy ambition but a real long shot for any team in the suburban area leastwise a school of North Chicago's size since so many fine teams have to be eliminated to reach this goal. However, since last Friday night North Chicago's chances of achieveing this goal have jumped about 50 per cent. North Chicago beat the towering Elgin team which was rated by most authorities as the No. 1 team in the state. Elgin was at full strength for this game with their big 6'10" center, George Clark, back in action after being suspended for disciplinary reasons. Clark did not play against Arlington. North Chicago lost to Highland Park for its only setback but is coming along fast. Bob Armstead who stands 6-4, on his play at Elgin, is definitely of all-state caliber. North Chicago has a 6-4 center in Bob Armstrong and a 6-6 forward in Jerry Bernardi. It would appear that the biggest season handicap the War Hawks have in developing to state tournament standards is their Tri-County Conference schedule which will be strictly a no competition proposition.

Sanders Finest Small Player

McHENRY APPEARS to be one of the best quintets in the Northwest area this year and at the moment shares with a good Zion-Benton team the spotlight in the North Suburban cage chase. Reports from officials indicate that a decline is on at Barrington which should help make the North Suburban a very even conference in basketball. Grant and Lake Forest are highly rated in the Northwest but Libertyville really clobbered Lake Forest in a non-conference tilt recently as little Max Sanders swished in 36 points.

Sanders, by the way, is one of the finest small players we have seen in many years. At Palatine Saturday night he dropped in 34 points. His faking and change of pace dribbling made it possible to go through the Pirate defense to the basket almost at will. Sanders weighs only 135 and stands 5-9.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Christmas Pup

Here it is again, that time of year when everyone starts the mad rush to buy a tie for Uncle Slug, that he himself would not go out and buy, or perhaps the apron for Aunt Matilda that is something out of this world as far as colors are concerned.

Such goings on when it comes to a Christmas puppy should be carefully considered. Puppies make wonderful Christmas presents, but should not be spur-of-the-moment gifts.

A loud tie or ill-fitting hat can be exchanged or passed along to the local charity bazaar or PTA sale, but the wrong puppy is quite a different matter. Therefore, make your selection early and make sure it is the right dog for your family.

Such things as size, how much does he have to roam in, who will take care of him and such should all be taken into consideration. Regardless of the breed which seems to take the fancy of the family at the moment, remember that such things as that long coat that has to be brushed daily or who is going to take him out are important matters to be decided.

Above all, bring the pup home a few days before Christmas so that he can get used to his new surroundings before the big day, especially if there are children in the family. Youngsters get carried away by the day and sometimes will forget the new pup among all the other gifts if received the same day. Your editor punds out the same advice each year and hopes at least for the pups benefit that some people will take heed.

Good Ambassadors

Dogs seem to make good ambassadors and are quite capable of hurdling the barriers of language and ideologies in the quest for peace. At this time of year when the holiday season seems uppermost in our minds such a topic as dogs throughout the world seems perhaps a little off the subject. Unless, however, you start thinking about why we do celebrate Christmas.

Men and dogs have a natural affinity for each other and this relationship goes back many thousands of years. It is significant to note that both dogs and men are among the most widely distributed beings on earth. Dogs and men are found in both hemispheres and in all zones and climates. The exact number of dogs in the world is not known, but there is no country—behind or in front of the Iron Curtain—which does not have at least one breed or kind of dog.

An exchange of dogs and doggy information, particularly in relation to dog shows, field trials and obedience trials, is important in the relationship of men and nations. It is because the dog is a universal animal that he can fit into the role of "go-between" in the attempts of countries to understand each other. Dog owners in all countries have a common bond: their love of dogs. This common denominator can be a means by which men and nations learn tolerance and mutual understanding.

Barks & Bays

So you think it has been cold the last few days. $n case it will make you feel better, remember that sled dogs sleep outside in temperatures as low as 60 degrees below zero.

Ten Pins Over Average All Is Needed

Ten pins over average, per man, per game . . . that's all it usually takes to win the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournaments.

The men's event Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 10 and 11 at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine, will include first place teams of all local men's leagues as of Saturday, Dec. 20.

The women's tournament Sunday, Jan. 18, at Pioneer Lanes, Addison, will pit first place teams of all local women's leagues as of Saturday, Dec. 27.

WINNING the tournaments has been the goal of hundreds of squads and thousands of bowlers, but it takes "just a little above average" kegling to make the winners' circle. Any team that can have each bowler hit just ten pins over average each game can usually start counting its money.

That adage holds true in both men's and women's tournaments. Some teams with low averages often feel they have to be "hotter'n a pistol" in order to take home first place money, but it doesn't work out this way. Handicaps tend to even the odds in the big meet to make it possible for almost any squad in the tourney to have a good chance of winning.

MEN'S HANDICAPS will be 70 per cent of the difference between a team's average and 1,000. Women's handicaps will be 70 per cent of the difference between a team's average and 875. Thus, a men's team that averages 780 will receive a handicap of 462 pins. A women's team that averages 655 will also receive a handicap of 462 pins.

Winning totals have ranged from 2508 to 2603 in the women's event in the six years of the tourney. For the men the gross has varied from 2899 to 3036. Here's a record of past winners with year and gross scored indicated:

Women's Tourney
53—Emerald Shop	2534
54—Reid's Apparel	2603
55—Riviera	2508
56—Lange Pharmacy	2533
57—Busse Motors	2600
58—Lohr Drug Store	2637
Men's Tourney
52—Haseman Truckers	2979
53—Black's Funeral	3036
54—Len & Sev's IGA	2899
55—Haseman Truckers	3041
56—Haseman Truckers	2999
57—Schimming Oil	3032
58—McIntyre Lummber	3034

Deadline for entries in the men's tourney is Dec. 27. For the women it is Jan. 3. Time reservations for the various squads should be made as early as possible, with a call to Betty at CLearbrook 3-1520, the Paddock office, the quickest way to secure the time desired.

Squad times for the men's tournament are 3:15, 5:30 and 7:45 Saturday, Jan. 10, and 1:00, 3:15, 5:30, 7:45 and 10 Sunday, Jan. 11. For the women it will be 3:00, 5:30 and 8:00 Sunday, Jan. 18.

Glenbard Names Gym For Biester

Glenbard's new $900,000 gymnasium was dedicated Sunday in honor of Fred L. Biester, superintendent at Glenbard for more than 40 years.

L. N. He has had many opportunities to go elsewhere since he came to Glen Ellyn in 1918, but has chosen to stay with us."

Biester has served as secretary of the West Suburban conference and as a member of the board of directors and treasurer of the Illinois High School association.

Outdoor Magazine Acclaimed

Now in its ninth month of publication, "The Prairie Sportsman," outdoor magazine edited and published by Bob Cary, outdoor writer for the Chicago Daily News, attains a whopping 50,000 distribution figure with its special Christmas issue, now off the presses. The fledgling publication features state-wide outdoor news and is distributed principally in northeastern Illinois.

The new magazine has been enjoying a steady increase in circulation ever since Cary was named editor in April, 1958. The first printing consisted of 10,000 copies. Cary's objective is to reach the more than three million active outdoor sportsmen in the state.

The fast-moving, tabloid style magazine, acclaimed by sportsmen for its timely reporting, up-to-the-minute information, layout and general appeal, has enjoyed its biggest single boost from the eleven stores of the Mages Sporting Goods Company.

Mages, one of America's foremost sporting goods retailers, will utilize the fast-growing publication in the spring to introduce the fishing season to Chicago Area sportsmen. At that time, they will make a minimum purchase of 100,000 extra copies for special distribution to the big city sportsmen, Howard Shore, Advertising Manager of Mages, explained.

Elaine Boehmer Is Bride Of High School Sweetheart

(Jenart Studio

A couple who met while students at Arlington high school chose October 18 for their wedding day, repeating their nuptial vows at 11 a.m. mass before Rev. Harold O'Hara in Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights. The former Elaine Boehmer, 415 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Robert Schaefges, 4 N. Schoenbeck, Prospect Heights, in a setting of amazon lilies and white satin bows decorating the altar and pews.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boehmer, came down the aisle in a chantilly lace over satin gown which had a square neckline embroidered in sequins and a full 4-tiered skirt ending in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, a white orchid and amazon lilies.

HER MAID of honor was Miss Corinne Clesen of Wheeling, who was gowned in a princess style, french blue, crystallette dress trimmed with a bow and streamers at the back. She wore a blue velvet matching headpiece and carried a cascade of shaded pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Arlene Dresmal and Mrs. Sharon Walter, and junior bridesmaids were Miss Joanne Boehmer and Miss Joanne Schaefges. All dressed in gowns identical to the maid of honor's, and they carried cascades of deep pink and white carnations.

Four-year-old Christine Schmidt, the bride's cousin, was flower girl wearing a dress similar to the other attendants. She also wore a pink carnation headpiece and carried a basket of pink and white carnations. Another cousin of the bride, 5-year-old David Batt, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schaefges of Prospect Heights. His brother, Joseph, served as his best man in the wedding party, and ushers were Neil Walter and Wendell Schoenbeck.

ORGANIST FOR the double ring ceremony was Mrs. Richard Drolet, and soloist was Mrs. Howard Jack.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Boehmer chose a pale blue crepe sheath dress with blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in a blue lace semi-sheath dress, and both mothers had a corsage of yellow pompons and fugi mums.

A reception for 325 guests was held in the Des Plaines VFW hall with a buffet supper served at 6:30 p.m. The couple then left for a 2-week honeymoon at Miami Beach, Fla.

The young couple is now residing in Wheeling. The bride is employed in the accounting office of Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights and the bridegroom by Weber Addressing in Mt. Prospect.

Local Women Lay Plans for Drive

Local women having a voice in laying plans for the 15th annual enrollment drive of the Chicago Maternity center include:

Mrs. George N. Mastrogany, 640 S. Lincoln lane, Arlington Heights, chairman of the Arlington Heights team for the 1959 campaign, which will open officially in February; and the cochairmen of the Barrington area team, which includes the Palatine area, who are Mrs. Richard C. Totman, Sutton rd., and Mrs. Donald M. Kidder, Oak Knoll rd., both of Barrington.

These Northwest suburban women were among those invited to the planning meeting and luncheon for volunteer suburban and Chicago team captains December 9.

NOW ENTERING its 64th year, the Maternity center, world's largest traveling obstetrical hospital, last year safely delivered 3,205 babies in the homes of needy families; taught practical obstetrics to 252 doctors and medical students; and engaged in important research projects in obstetrics, which could benefit mothers and babies everywhere.

Contributions raised in the annual fund drive will help in good measure to meet an estimated budget of $290,784 for the center in 1959.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

Eighth Grade Auditions

Dear Peg:

A recent telephone call from my good friend, the principal of our school, went something like this: "Mrs. McArdle, you said some time ago that I should call on you if there were anything you could do for me. Well, there is something, dear. As you know, each year the eighth grade presents a Christmas program for the Parents Guild at the time of their December meeting. Well, this year they're giving an operetta—a very unusual and lovely little thing that their teacher had seen another group of children do. Now, I wondered if you would be willing to teach the dances to the girls."

"Why certainly. I'd be glad to; I think it'll be fun. Do you have the instructions and music?" I asked.

"I have the instructions and music for one of the dances but I'm afraid there are none for the opening number and the water carriers' dance. You can just make up a little something, can't you?"

"Oh sure," I agreed (I must have been in a state of shock). After four or five nights of concentrated effort (after the children were in bed), I had "made up a little something" for the opening number and asked the eighth grade girls to meet with me after school.

Under the impression that they were trying out for the dance numbers, they were quite nervous. I think I was expected to eliminate those girls who couldn't dance well. Had I done this, as you might expect, there would have been two girls left to do the dance. Besides I just couldn't do it. They all wanted to dance so badly—especially the girls with the least experience!

They were overjoyed when, after letting each one try a couple of simple steps, I announced that they all would be able to dance in at least one of the dances. After all, no matter how they dance, their parents and relatives will think they're every bit as good as Markova.

I told them we would have rehearsal every afternoon after school, since there is so little time before the program and to come the next day with a pair of shorts or slacks. They were so excited and happy. Such chatter and giggling as you've never heard (unless you own an eighth grade girl) when they thanked me and left that afternoon.

There are very few more pleasant experiences than working with a group of children who are doing something they enjoy—and certainly most little girls (from 6 to 60) love to dance. As I was leaving on that "try-out" day, I met the eighth grade teacher in the corridor.

"Do you have anyone left to do the dancing?" she laughed.

"Yes, a few" I laughed.

My love,
Patty

Couple Who Met in Arabia Wed in Arlington Heights

(Bak Studios

A romance that began in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, culminated in marriage September 27 for Miss Bernadette M. Sikorski of Arlington Heights, and Guy B. Sullaway Jr. of Houston. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sikorski, 1302 Sunset terrace, Arlington Heights, is a former employee of the Arabian American Oil Co. in Dhahran, and met her future bridegroom there where he was doing exploration work with Robert H. Ray Co.

The marriage took place in Our Lady of the Wayside church at noon with Rev. Harold T. O'Hara officiating. The service was followed by a wedding breakfast at Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect and a 5 p.m. reception for 80 guests in the home of the bride's parents.

THE BRIDE's sisters, Mrs. Joan Muehlfelder of Palatine and Mrs. Rosemary Spreitzer of Mt. Prospect, were matron of honor and bridesmatron while 4-year-old Denise Muehlfelder, niece of the bride, was flower girl. The sisters wore emerald green, empire styled dresses and carried bouquets of white fuji mums.

The little flower girl was in a white nylon lace and she carried a nosegay of white flowers.

The bride chose a waltz-length chantilly lace gown with matching headpiece and waist-length veil. Her flowers were a cascade of Amazon lilies. Mr. Sikorski gave his daughter in marriage.

BOTH THE bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother were in lace dresses, Mrs. Sikorski in blue gray and Mrs. Sullaway in navy blue. Their corsages were of rhubrum lilies.

Guy Sullaway Sr., Houston, was his son's best man and Donald Spreitzer of Mt. Prospect, brother-in-law of the bride, was usher.

November Wedding Unites Local Couple

Another high school romance culminated in marriage November 1 when Miss Patricia Marie Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert O. Anderson, 19 Marberry rd., Prospect Heights, became the bride of Kenneth James Helfers, son of Mrs. Harry H. Helfers, 209 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. The double-ring, candlelight service was held at 8 p.m. in Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church with Rev. Lawrence Pearson officiating.

Woodwardia plants and bouquets of white and rust colored mums decorated the church as Betty Penley sang "O Perfect Love," "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Us" and "Because." Organist was Mrs. Arthur Lindahl.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She was gowned in a white peau de soie dress with lace sleeves and lace bodice with V neckline and stand-away collar. The full skirt of the gown ended in a chapel train. A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a cascade of white roses.

DIANE CREAMER of Mt. Prospect was maid of honor and wore a green irridescent taffeta street-length dress. She carried a basket of bronze daisies and wore a headpiece of the same flowers.

Sharon Rothenback and Edith Helfers, sister of the bridegroom, both of Arlington Heights were bridesmaids and Suzy Anderson, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were also of green irridescent taffeta. The bridesmaids carried baskets of yellow daisies and wore headpieces of the yellow daisies while the junior bridesmaid's flowers were yellow mums.

MRS. ANDERSON chose a beige lace over toast taffeta dress for her daughter's marriage while Mrs. Helfers chose a grey lace over pink taffeta. Yellow rosebuds with white carnations and pink roses with white carnations, made up their respective corsages.

Paul Anderson of Arlington Heights was best man to the bridegroom and Roger Simon and Douglas Olsen of Arlington Heights were ushers. The bride's brother, Herbert Anderson, was candlelighter.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the upper church hall after which Mr. Helfers took his bride on a week's wedding trip to Springfield. The couple is now residing in Mt. Prospect.

Both young people were graduated from Arlington high school and the bride is now employed by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights, and the bridegroom by Aetna Insurance Group in Park Ridge.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Husbands Can Be Sneaky

Men continually make bad jokes about women always having the last word. I have been busily collecting data which proves beyond a doubt that this is a fallacy. Men not only get the last lick in but they are, in many instances, mighty sneaky about it.

Of course, once there was the woman who looked me right in the eye and said that she and her husband had never, ever, ever had an argument. This woman doesn't count. She either has a poor memory or she and hubby are just too lazy for speech.

I am not speaking about such paragons. It is the nice common garden variety brand of marriage that I have scouted. At discussion time in my own family, my loudest arguments are met with stony silence. Nothing could be more maddening and more unfair, and while I may be permitted the last vocal word, in the last analysis, the lord and master wins the bout.

As a friend of mine, whose spouse uses the same tactics, says, even if you do have the last word where is the glory? They certainly remain unconvinced. And they also remain so silent. But, there is an even cagier group that doesn't even fight.

One husband pranced himself off to work one bright and sunny day after a heated discussion and left behind him something which caused his wife untold agonies. In a rather prominent place on her desk, he deposited a booklet entitled "How To Improve Your Personality." What a low blow.

Another benedict had the temerity to leave a similar item entitled "How Well the Chinese Wives Treat Their Husbands" or "How To Keep A Husband Happy" by a Burmese or such. This made her seethe all day and, after she had read all the blah about knuckling under to dear heart, she really blasted off.

However, by that time, he was well on his way to work and definitely out of earshot. So, I ask you, who had the last word? The great big male crumb.

Mrs. Sylte wore a blue suit and Mrs. Virgil a rust-colored suit. Their corsages were of cymbidium orchirds.

Curried Turkey, Grapefruit Salad Makes Most of Leftovers

Do something different with the remnants of your holiday bird, and come up with meals just as glamorous all weekend, such as this handsome buffet featuring curried turkey and a shimmering grapefruit salad served in the hollowed out grapefruit shells.

Turkey can get tiresome after it's been around for two or three meals, but not if you spice it up with different and delicious flavors, and serve it with all the curry accoutrements and rice. The Florida grapefruit and avocado salad, topped with pimiento-red stars and Florida French dressing, is the perfect clean tart taste accompaniment for a creamy curry dish, one that is easy to prepare and easy on the budget.

FLORIDA'S FRESH grapefruit, either white or pink-meated, are here in excellent quantity now, to the delight of grapefruit lovers who are legion. Plump and jucy, grapefruit sections are the base for endless combinations in salads with other fruits and vegetables. Save the shells of your morning halves, cut out any remaining membrane, and rinse out, and you have these clever serving dishes.

To section fresh grapefruit, peel as you would an apple, removing all white membrane; then insert sharp knife along side of one section, cutting to core, then nudge section out into bowl; continue. (Always section fruit over a bowl in order to catch the juice. You'll find plenty of uses for it.)

CURRIED TURKEY

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup minced onion
½ cup chopped celery
6 tablespoons flour
3 to 4 teaspooons curry powder
¼ teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons salt
2 cans (3 or 4 ounces) mushrooms
Milk
4 cups diced cooked turkey
3 cups hot cooked rice

* * *

MELT BUTTER; add onion and celery and cook until tender but not brown. Add flour, curry powder, ginger and salt; stir to a smooth paste. Drain mushrooms; add milk to make 3½ cups liquid. Add to flour mixture and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add mushrooms and turkey; heat to serving temperature. Serve with rice and curry accompaniments such as chutney, raisins and chopped nuts.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Oysters Make Fitting Course for Holiday Menus

Even though Midwesterners live far from New England's coastal waters, they can enjoy oysters in season, thanks to modern refrigeration and shipping methods, which put oysters in markets all over the land. The first time they are bought in the shell, have the fish market man open the shells; then after the oysters have been eaten, wash off the shells and save them for later service. The inner portion of the shell will be clean and in time will show a wonderful patina from repeated polishing; oysters can be bought in bulk, by the pint or quart, or frozen and still be served on the half-shell.

NOW OYSTERS can taste even better than they did in Pilgrim days, because of tangy cocktail sauces brought here from other countries to this land. Thanks to the Creole influence, Tobasco has become popular to season catchup and horseradish cocktail sauce perfectly and give oysters the final touch of delectable goodness.

Here are two sauce recipes, both perfect with oysters.

Tabasco Cocktail Sauce

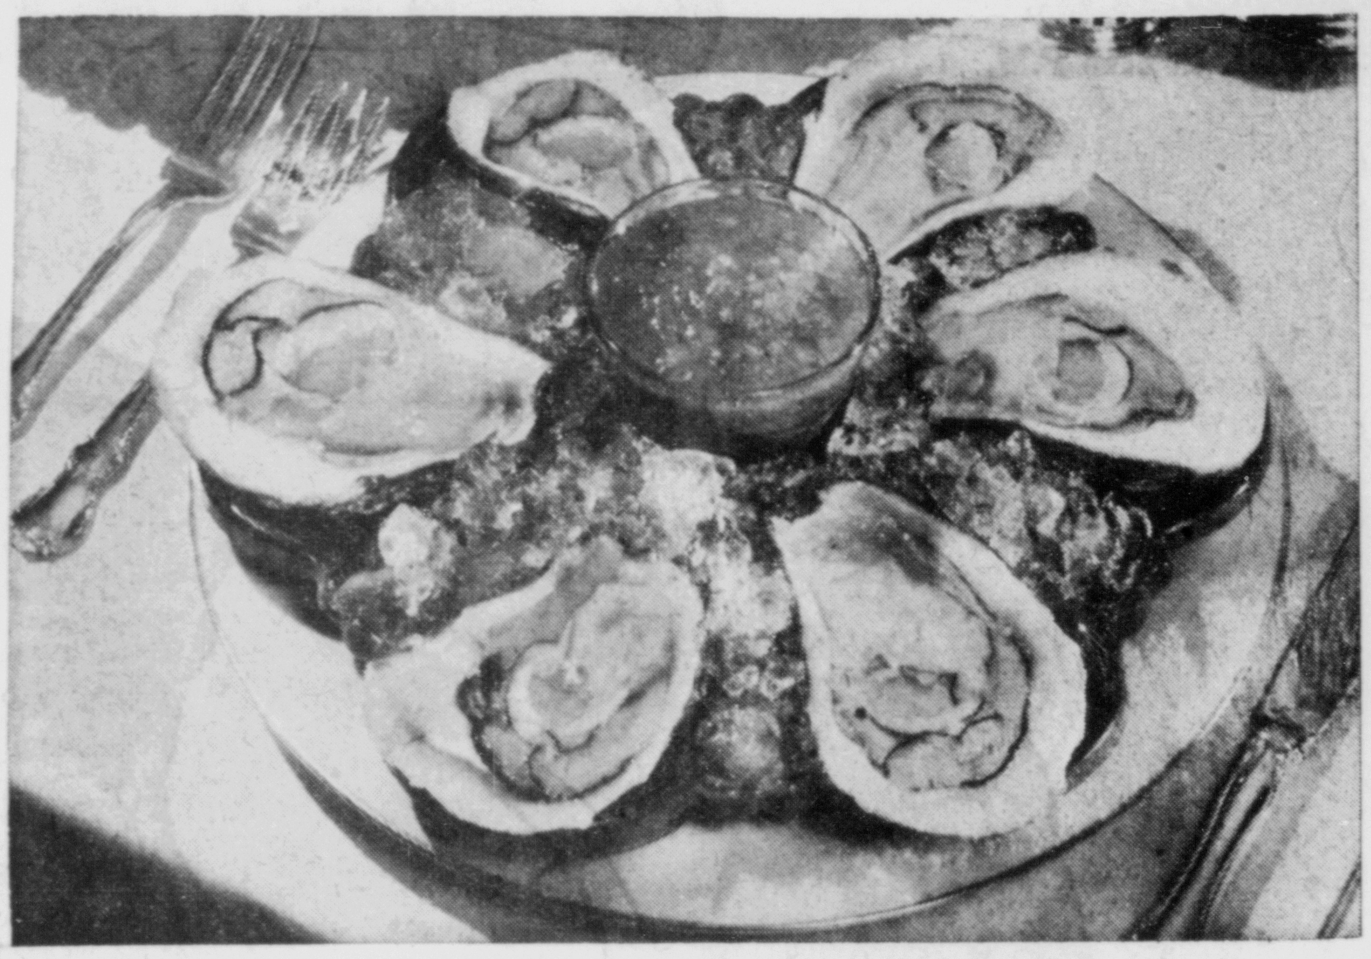
1 cup tomato catchup
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon horseradish
2 tablespoons minced celery
1 teaspoon grated onion, optional

Mix ingredients thoroughly. Chill before serving. Yield: 1¼ cups sauce.

Tabasco Oyster Sauce

¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons chopped pickle

Stir Tabasco and lemon juice into chili sauce. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Yield 1¼ cups.



Hungarian Roast Duck Is Hunters' Delight

The hunting season's in full swing and over 14 million sportsmen have obtained licenses to bag game in our forests and fields. Among the 14,000,000 wild ducks shot annually by hunters, the Mallard is the most plentiful and popular. Other highly favored species include Teal, Canvasback, Redhead, Widgeon, Black Duck and Butterball.

Duck's flavorful dark meat is a delicacy and most persons agree that it is best when cooked rare enough to allow the rich, red juice to follow the trail of the carving knife. If preferred, however, cook ducks a little longer, being careful not to overcook and toughen the birds. The average weight of a Mallard duck is 2 to 2¼ pounds. When roasting at 350 degrees, allow 15 minutes per pound for small ducks, 20 minutes per pound for larger ducks. Half a large duck or one small duck serves one.

HERE ARE some basic instructions for preparing game birds after the shoot and a recipe for Hungarian Roast Duck: Pluck, draw, clean and cool as soon as possible. Cut off oil sac at tail base. To avoid tearing skin, dry-pluck while still warm, pulling feathers downward and in the direction that they grow. Remove pinfeathers with tweezers. Singe down feathers with a lighted, twisted newspaper, being careful not to burn skin. Transport in open air. Refrigerate two to three days before cooking or freeze for later use.

Hungarian Roast Duck

2 wild ducks, 2 to 2½ pounds (dressed weight)
Garlic salt and pepper
2 tablespoons paprika
2 apples, quartered
2 onions, quartered
6 slices bacon
¼ cup butter, melted
3 cups sauerkraut
4 juniper berries, crushed
2 teaspoons caraway seeds
2 slices cooker bacon, crumbled.

Sprinkle ducks inside and out with salt, pepper and paprika. Place apple and onion quarters in cavity of each. Cover breasts with bacon and fasten with string. Place ducks breast up in baking pan. Roast in preheated 350-degree oven 1 to 1¼ hours, or 15 minutes per pound, basting frequently with butter.

Combine sauerkraut, juniper berries, caraway seeds and bacon in shallow casserole. Mix well. Place in oven 20 minutes before ducks are done. Discard apple and onion quarters; remove string. Carve ducks. Arrange duck slices on sauerkraut and serve with potato pancakes, plum jelly, hot biscuits and ale or beer.

Yield: 4 servings.

Some Common Sewing Machine Stitches

Maybe a "stitch in time" will do the trick, but which stitch will it be?

Marjorie Mead, University of Illinois textiles and clothing specialist, explains some of the common sewing machine stitches in this way:

Regular stitching is that used in most machine sewing, darts and seams. Set the stitch regulator for between 12 and 15 stiches per inch. Stitch on the indicated line. To fasten thread at ends, backstitch over the first stitching about one-half inch. Or make a knot by lifting the presser foot slightly, holding fabric in place and making three or four stitches in one place.

STAY-STITCHING keeps curved and bias edges from stretching at shoulder, neck and waist. Using regular stitch (12-15 per inch), stitch on a single thickness of fabric about one-eighth inch from seamline, within seam allowance. On necklines and deep curves, however, stitch on seamline.

Whenever possible, sew with the grain. (Rub your finger along the fabric. When the threads lie down, you are moving with the grain and should stitch in the same direction.)

Ease-stitching helps to distribute fullness evenly on sleeve cap or circular hem. Use 10 stitches per inch. Don't fasten the thread at the ends. For slight fullness, fasten thread at one end to a pin, and pull it gently at the other end to work ease in smoothly. For more fullness, pull the thread from both ends. Press.

TOP-STITCHING is used to decorate or to hold a seam edge in place on finished edges of waistband, collar, cuffs or yoke. Use regular stitch (12-15 per inch). Stitch on outside of garment through all thicknesses. Follow specific pattern directions.

Machine-gather on gathered skirts. Use 8 stitches per inch. Make two parallel rows of stitching, one on seam line and one within seam allowance. Leave thread ends free. To gather, pull up bobbin thread from both ends until gathers fit. To hold in place for final stitching, twist ends in a figure eight around pin.

MACHINE-BASTE instead of basting by hand. Use longest stitch (6 per inch) for basting zipper openings, for trying garments on for fit and for transferring pattern markings to outside of fabric. Stitch on seam line. Leave thread ends free. To remove, snip bobbin thread every few inches and pull out.

Special Recipes to Brighten a Special Christmas

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER Food Editor

By LOIS SEILER

Special recipes, special cooks and a special occasion are being featured this week.

The special occasion, of course, is Christmas, and the special recipes are all designed to make Christmas entertaining more festive and enjoyable.

The recipes have been shared with us by a talented and experienced cook, Mrs. Roderick C. McLennan, who instructs the course "Cooking for Speial Occasions" on Monday nights at Prospect high school. This 10-week course is offered as part of the curriculum of the Adult Evening Program.

All of the recipes we are featuring today were prepared recently by members of the class, who not only have fun preparing the foods but enjoy sampling them and discussing the recipes over a cup of coffee at the close of each session.

AMONG THE Christmas recipes they tried are a variety of cookies, a fruit cake, a refrigerator dessert and a coffee cake.

In the cookie collection are recipes for chocolate wafers with a green mint filling, Jolly Jam Bars made in layers with a strawberry or raspberry jam filling and delicious Chocolate Almond Balls containing tasty toasted almonds and semi-sweet chocolate.

There are crispy Dutch Pecan Bars which have a rich dough and cinnamon sugar and pecan topping, light coconut cookies, festive candy cane and wreath cookies and sugar-coated Alaska logs containing dates and malnuts.

The Toffee Bars have a flavorful dough and a topping of chocolate and chopped nuts, while the Fruity Diamonds are a chewy oatmeal cookie with a date and raisin filling.

CHILDREN WILL enjoy helping make the sugar cookies, which are a rolled cookie cut with cookie cutters. This basic recipe is versatile for it may be used with fillings, and Mrs. McLennan has suggested several variations.

You can add lustre to Christmas morning breakfast with her excellent Christmas Tree Coffee Cake which is as attractive to look at as it is delicious to taste.

The California Fruit-Nut Cake is from Pope's Cook Book and it is a wonderful recipe which can be made anytime before Christmas, while the Snowballs are a delightful refrigerator dessert made with vanilla wafers and a fluffy pineapple and coconut flavored filling and frosting.

All of these recipes are from Marilyn McLennan's collection of Christmas favorites. A charming and gracious hostess as well as food expert, she has served them often in her own home.

ALTHOUGH THIS has been her first teaching experience, Mrs. McLennan is well qualified as a professional with foods. A Home Economics graduate of Iowa State college, she was formerly party food supervisor for the Chicago Bar association's private dining rooms and food columnist for Paddock Publications.

This talented and enterprising young homemaker's continuing interest in foods prompted her to plan this food course, and the experience has been so gratifying and enjoyable that she looks forward to repeating it again in January. Essentially the same course, it will be designed with seasonal changes.

The main purpose of the class is to provide homemakers with new ideas for party menus, so each lesson is planned to include an entre, salad, a vegetable, one type of bread and two desserts.

THERE HAVE been two special lessons: one on hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and canapes, another on cake decorating.

Organized as a student participation class, it is divided into units of three, and each group of women does their cooking in their own kitchen in the Home Economics Lab with the help and supervision of Mrs. McLennan.

At the final meeting each woman prepared her own favorite recipe and shared it with the class.

Mrs. McLennan's desire to teach may have been inspired by her husband, Rod, who is also a teacher and chairman of the Mathematics department at Arlington-Prospect high schools.

They live at 206 N. Derbyshire in Arlington Heights and have two little girls, Karen, who is 7, and Bonnie, 4.

Shape into rolls 1 inch in diameter. Wrap the rolls in waxed paper and chill for several hours

GLAZING FRESHLY-BAKED coffee cake and adding cherries for holiday color are Mrs. Warren Johnston, Mrs. Thomas Bird and Mrs. Donald Conley. Women are "students" in "Cooking for Special Occasions" class at Prospect high school. The 3-hour class is held each Monday night with Mrs. Roderick C. McLennan as instructor.

SNOWBALLS AND chocolate mint wafers are prepared by Mrs. Edward H. Pauly, Mrs. Konstantin Haensel and Mrs. Roy H. Nelson in cooking class at Prospect high school. The class, which teaches cooking for special occasions, is part of the curriculum of adult education at the high school.

1 cup crushed pineapple, well drained.
½ cup chopped nuts
2 egg yolks
1 cup heavy cream whipped

1 can Angel Flake coconut
1 box vanilla wafers

Cream butter and powdered sugar until fluffy. Add egg yolks and continue beating. Mix in crushed pineapple and nuts. This mixture will appear curdled.

Whip cream and beat egg whites. Fold the two together.

Spread filling over 1 vanilla wafer. Cover with the second wafer. Spread filling over this wafer and cover with a third wafer. Spread whipped cream and egg white mixture over all sides of this except bottom. Sprinkle over coconut which may be tinted, if desired. Let set in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Makes about 12 snowballs.

To make trees shave off ¼ inch of diameter of second cookie or wafer and ½ inch of third wafer. You will have a three tiered effect with the top cookie having the smallest diameter. Tint the whipped cream and egg white mixture green. Sprinkle with coconut or red decorating sugar.

Christmas Tree Coffee Cake

5 cups flour
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
1/8 teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon lemon extract
½ cup raisins and ½ cup mixed glace fruit
1 cake compressed yeast
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup scalded milk, cooled to lukewarm
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup butter or shortening, melted

Pour lemon extract over the raisins and mixed glace fruit. Add lemon peel, mace, nutmeg to flour; then stir in raisins and glace fruit.

Crumble yeast into bowl, add sugar, salt, milk ,and eggs. Mix well. Add half of flour and beat until bubbles form on surface. Add melted shortening and remainder of flour. Let rise in a warm place until double. Punch down.

Divide dough into two parts. Form into smooth balls, cover, and let rest 10 minutes.

Divide one of the balls into several equal parts. Reserve one portion. Roll remaining portions under palm of hands to form long smooth rolls about ¾ inch thick. Swirl rolls back and forth on cookie sheet to form branches of tree, allowing rolls to touch. Roll remaining portion under palm of hand to form a smooth ball. Place at base of tree to form trunk.

Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (375°) 25 to 30 minutes. Decorate with confectioner's Sugar Icing and garnish with ½ cup glace cherries and ¾ cup pecan halves. Yield: Two trees.

Jolly Jam Bars

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
2 cups flour
1 cup chopped walnuts
Few drops green food coloring
½ cup strawberry or raspberry jam

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and blend well. Gradually add flour and mix thoroughly. Fold in chopped nuts. Divide dough in half and tint one part green.

Pat green dough evenly into a greased 9-inch square pan. Top with jam. Cover with uncolored dough.

Bake in a preheated 325 degree F. oven 1 hour or until lightly browned. Cool. Cut into bars. Yield: 3 dozen bars.

Chocolate Almond Balls

½ cup softened butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
½ cup finely chopped toasted almonds
½ cup finely chopped semi-sweet chocolate

Cream butter and sugar. Add vanilla and flour. Then fold in chopped almonds and chopped chocolate. Chill in the refrigerator for 20 to 30 minutes.

Shape in 1-inch balls. Place on ungreased cooky sheet.

Bake at 350 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Roll in sifted confectioners' sugar and cool on cake racks. Yield: 3 to 4 dozen.

Basic Sugar Cookie Recipe

1 cup butter or margarine
1½ cups white sugar
3 eggs, beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla
3¾ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming well. Add beaten eggs and vanilla.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder together and add to creamed mixture. Chill.

Roll to ¼ inch thickness and cut with cookie cutters into desired shapes. Bake on a greased cookie sheet in a moderate (350) oven until lightly browned. This recipe makes about 5 dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

To make filled sugar cookies:

These may be made by putting two cookies of the same size and shape together with tines of fork. They may be cut in any shape desired. Rounds and triangles are easiest to fit together. If desired, a small round, or diamond shaped hole may be cut in the center of the upper cookie, allowing the filling to show through. Cookies may be cut square and folded over diagonally to make triangles with filling in pocket thus formed. Or squares may be folded or rolled into cornucopias, with filling peeking out at wide end of horn. Twist pointed end of horn to one side to give curled effect.

Mincemeat Filling: Use canned mincemeat or dry packaged mincemeat thinned with orange juice or pineapple juice.

Marmalade or Jelly Filling: Use any tart, firm marmalade or jelly. These are pretty when upper cookie has center cut to show filling.

Apricot Filling: Add enough applesauce (strained) to cooked and sweetened chopped apricots to hold together.

Peanut Butter-Date Filling: Combine ¼ cup chopped dates with an equal amount of peanut butter and add 1 tablespoon honey.

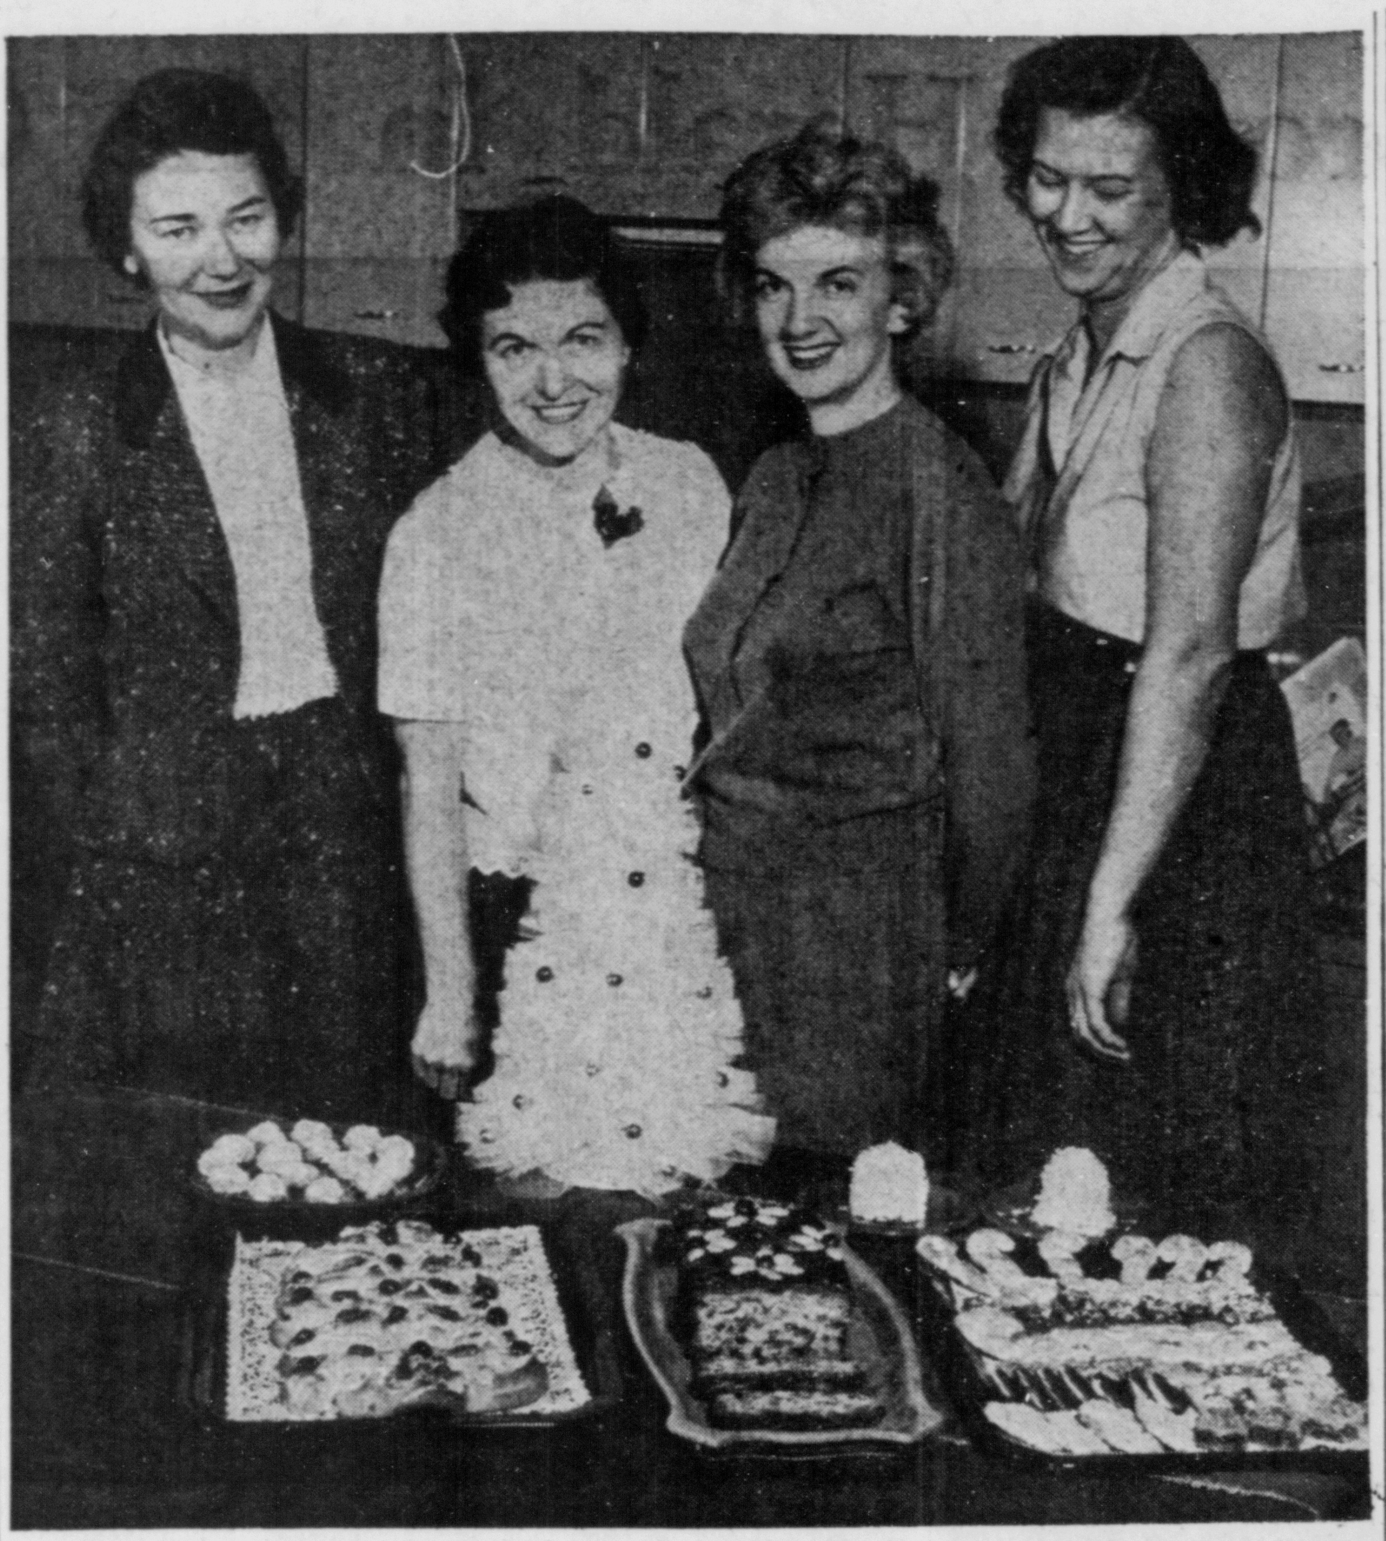
Dutch Pecan Bars

½ cup butter
½ cup shortening (Spry)
1 egg, separated
1 cup sugar
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cinnamon sugar
¾ cup finely chopped pecans

Cream butter and shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add egg yolk and vanilla and beat until fluffy. Add flour and work until dough forms a ball and holds together.

Press dough ¼ inch thick into a jelly roll pan. Brush with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle lightly with cinnamon sugar and chopped pecans.

Bake at 350° for 20 minutes. Cut into squares while still warm. Makes 5 to 6 dozen.



CHRISTMAS DESSERT table displays some of the fancy foods prepared by adult students in cooking class at Prospect high school. The teacher, Mrs. Roderick C. McLennan of Arlington Heights (in white blouse) looks over the display with Mrs. John E. Vannier, Mrs. R. K. Maitland and Mrs. Richard Houston.

Coconut Drops

½ cup butter
½ cup Spry or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 cups flour
1 cup flaked coconut
¾ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon baking powder

Cream butter, shortening and sugar thoroughly. Sift baking soda, baking powder and flour and add to creamed mixture. Stir in flaked coconut and roll into small balls. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350° for 8-10 minutes.

Coconut may be tinted, if desired. Yield: 6 dozen.

California Fruit-Nut Cake

2/3 cup butter (or shortening)
¾ cup granulated sugar
3 medium-sized eggs
Rind of small lemon and 1 small California orange
2 cups sifted bread flour, to which add ½ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt
1 cupful fruit mix solidly packed (½ pound)
1 cupful white sultana raisins, steamed in about ½ cup hot water for 2 or 3 minutes, in covered saucepan, then drain thoroughly
1 cupful dried apricots, covered with ½ cup hot water and steamed in covered saucepan about 5 minutes, turning several times. Drain thoroughly and cut into about ½ inch pieces
1 cupful coarsely broken pecan or walnut meats

With electric mixer or heavy spoon, cream butter, add sugar, then eggs. one at a time, and beat each egg in about 1 minute. Add rinds of lemon and orange. Mix well.

Add half of sifted dry ingredients, a little at a time, and beat until smooth.

Combine all fruits and nuts and add them, about a cupful at a time to the flour mixture, stirring in with a heavy wooden spoon. (Electric mixer would crush fruits). Last add rest of sifted dry ingredients and beat until smooth.

Pour into oblong pan that measures about 10x3x4½ inches, lined with 1 thickness of heavy wax paper. As you pour batter, press down well so that it bakes uniformly.

Bake uncovered in a 325° oven about 2 hours, then raise temperature to 375 and bake about 15 more minutes, or until top is attractively brown and cake feels firm in center.

Remove from oven let stand on cake rack about 30 minutes, then carefully loosen around sides, and turn over onto cake rack. Let stand until absolutely cold before storing in a tight container. (Do not keep this cake more than two or three weeks.)

Candy Cane and Wreath Cookies

1¼ cups butter
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
1 egg
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
Red and Green coloring
1 egg white
Red and Green decorating sugar
Cinnamon candies

Cream butter; add sugar and mix well. Add egg and flavorings, then flour and salt which have been sifted together.

Set aside half of the dough. Divide other half in two parts. Tint one part light green, the other light red.

For candy canes, roll 1 teaspoonful of white dough and one of red into strips about 4 inches long. Place strips side by side and twist together lightly. Carefully put on ungreased baking sheets and curve top down to form handle. Brush with egg white and springle with red sugar. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes.

For wreaths, use 1 teaspoon of white dough and one of green. After rolling into strips and twisting, form into a circle on cooky sheet. Brush with egg white and sprinkle with green sugar. Use cinnamon candies for garnish. Bake the same as for the candy canes.

Yield: 4 to 5 dozen cookies.

Alaska Logs

¾ cup sifted flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped pitted dates
1 cup chopped walnuts
3 well beaten eggs

Sift dry ingredients. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into greased 8x8x2 inch pan. Bake in slow oven 325°—40 minutes.

Cut in ½ by 2 inch bars. Roll in finely granulated sugar to form logs and to coat. Yield: 5 dozen.

Toffee Bars

1 cup soft butter or shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ lb. sweet chocolate
½ cup chopped nuts

Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add egg and vanilla. Add flour and salt.

Spread on 10" by 15" pan or large cookie sheet, greased. Bake at 350° for 18-20 minutes or until lightly browned.

Melt chocolate and spread on cookie dough while hot. Sprinkle with chopped nuts, cut into squares while still warm. Yield: 96 1¼" squares.

Fruity Diamonds

½ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups quick-cooking rolled oats

Filling

2 cups chopped pitted dates (two 6½ ounce packages)
½ cup raisins
1½ cups water
California walnut halves

Cream shortening and sugar. Sift together flour, soda, and salt; stir in oats. Add to creamed mixture and mix until crumbly.

Firmly pat half the mixture in greased 13x9x2 in. pan. Spread with Date filling. Add remaining crumbs and pat smooth.

Bake in moderate oven (350) 30 minutes. Cut in fairly big diamonds. Press walnut half into top of each diamond. Makes 20.

Date filling

Cook 2 cups chopped pitted dates and ½ cup raisins with the water until thick, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. Cool.

Serve Smorgasbord To Holiday Guests

A smorgasbord is a wonderful way to entertain anytime of the year, but during the holiday season it is especially appropriate. The brightly garnished foods, the Swedish decorations available only at Christmas, the fact that most smorgasbord food can be prepared in advance or served with little or no cooking — all of these add up to a party which is festive, distinctive and, best of all, manageable during the busiest season of the year.

In planning a smorgasbord menu, food should be provided for each of these categories: appetizers, salads and sliced cold foods, hot dishes, cheese. Although the food usually is eaten in these courses, it all goes on the table at once, including the traditional smorgasbord beverages.

Baked beans and your favorite molded vegetable salad are good accompaniments, as well as canned sardines, anchovies, and caviar. (S

Three Rules for Storing Spices

Spices and herbs will go a long way if you care for them properly.

University of Illinois foods specialist Elizabeth Osman suggests following these three rules for storing spices and herbs:

Keep jars tightly covered. If the containers aren't air-tight, oils and flavors will evaporate. And, if the jars are left open, dust and bacteria may get in and gradually destroy the flavor.

Keep spices in a cool, clean place. Keeping them in a "handy" place on a warm shelf over the stove or a radiator will only hasten evaporation of the flavoring oils. Some spices, especially paprika, should be shielded from direct sunlight to prevent loss of color.

Keep spices dry. Store jars in a place that is free from dampness. Don't dip a wet spoon into the jar, as the moisture may cause caking and growth of mold. The result will be a musty flavor and odor. (S

Foil Burglars With Automatic Timer on Lamp

Protecting your house against prowlers and thieves while the family is on vacation is now possible with a small, portable electric timer. Called the Time-All, this automatic device turns lights on and off every night just as if someone were there.

Light protection has long been recognized by police and insurance officials as the best way to discourage burglars. But, a light left burning day and night will fool no one, and certainly not an experienced burglar.

Some families carry the lighting deception a little further by using two timers; one controlling a living room lamp, and the other, an upstairs or bedroom light. The second timer turns an upstairs lamp on as the living room light goes off. Such a system creates the impression of "movement" in the home. Remember too, when leaving for a weekend or longer, it's a good idea to have milk and newspaper deliveries discontinued, have a neighbor pick up your mail and look over the house each day, and tilt the blinds slightly so passers-by cannot look in. Words Often Misused

The three words hence, thence and whence all include the idea of from, and it is incorrect, therefore, to use the word "from" with any of them.

Do not say, "He was nowheres to be found." Say, "Nowhere to be found."

Do not say, "He alluded at great length to his adventures." You cannot allude "at great length," since the words means to refer to something indirectly. Say, "He spoke at great length of his adventures."

Crises is the correct plural form of crisis, and not "crisises."

Do not say, "There's no use in me trying." Say, "There's no use in my trying."

Do not say, "Apples are rare this season." Say, "Apples are scarce." "The atmosphere is rare" is correct.

Words Often Mispronounced

Visa (endorsement on a passport). Pronounce vee-zah, accent on first syllable.

Legatee. Pronounce leg-a-tee, with accent on final syllable.

Danseuse (woman ballet dancer). Pronounce dahn-suhz, accent second syllable.

Artificer. Pronounce with accent on second syllable, not the first.

Preferable. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Ambiguity. Pronounce am-bi-gyu-i-ti, with accent on third syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Modest (unpretentious); modiste (a dressmaker). Dysentery; "dys," not "dis." Loathe observe the "e"; loathsome, no "e" following the "th." Avoirdupois; six vowels, "of" twice. Prophecy (the noun); prophesy (the verb). Despair, observe the "des"; disparage, "dis."

Banana Fruit Shake Makes Good Breakfast

Part of the knack of getting the family to eat a nutritionally balanced breakfast is making it interesting and appealing. It is important to get in everything that's supposed to be there, but it is equally important to make it "exciting." This is particularly so where children are concerned.

A perfect illustration of this thesis is the Banana Fruit Shake. This "fruit course" brings some excitement to the first course of the breakfast meal. It is foamy, delicately flavored, and an interesting change from plain fruit juice.

IT CAN EASILY be varied by combining the banana with different kinds of juice — this gives the "shake" lots of variety. The Banana Fruit Shake really gets the breakfast meal off to a good start. And it is the easiest thing imaginable to prepare.

Use one ripe banana for each cup of fruit juice. Peel and mash the banana well with a fork. Combine with juice and shake together until creamy. You can use fresh orange juice, canned pineapple juice, apple juice, cranberry juice, or almost any kind of juice you desire. (S

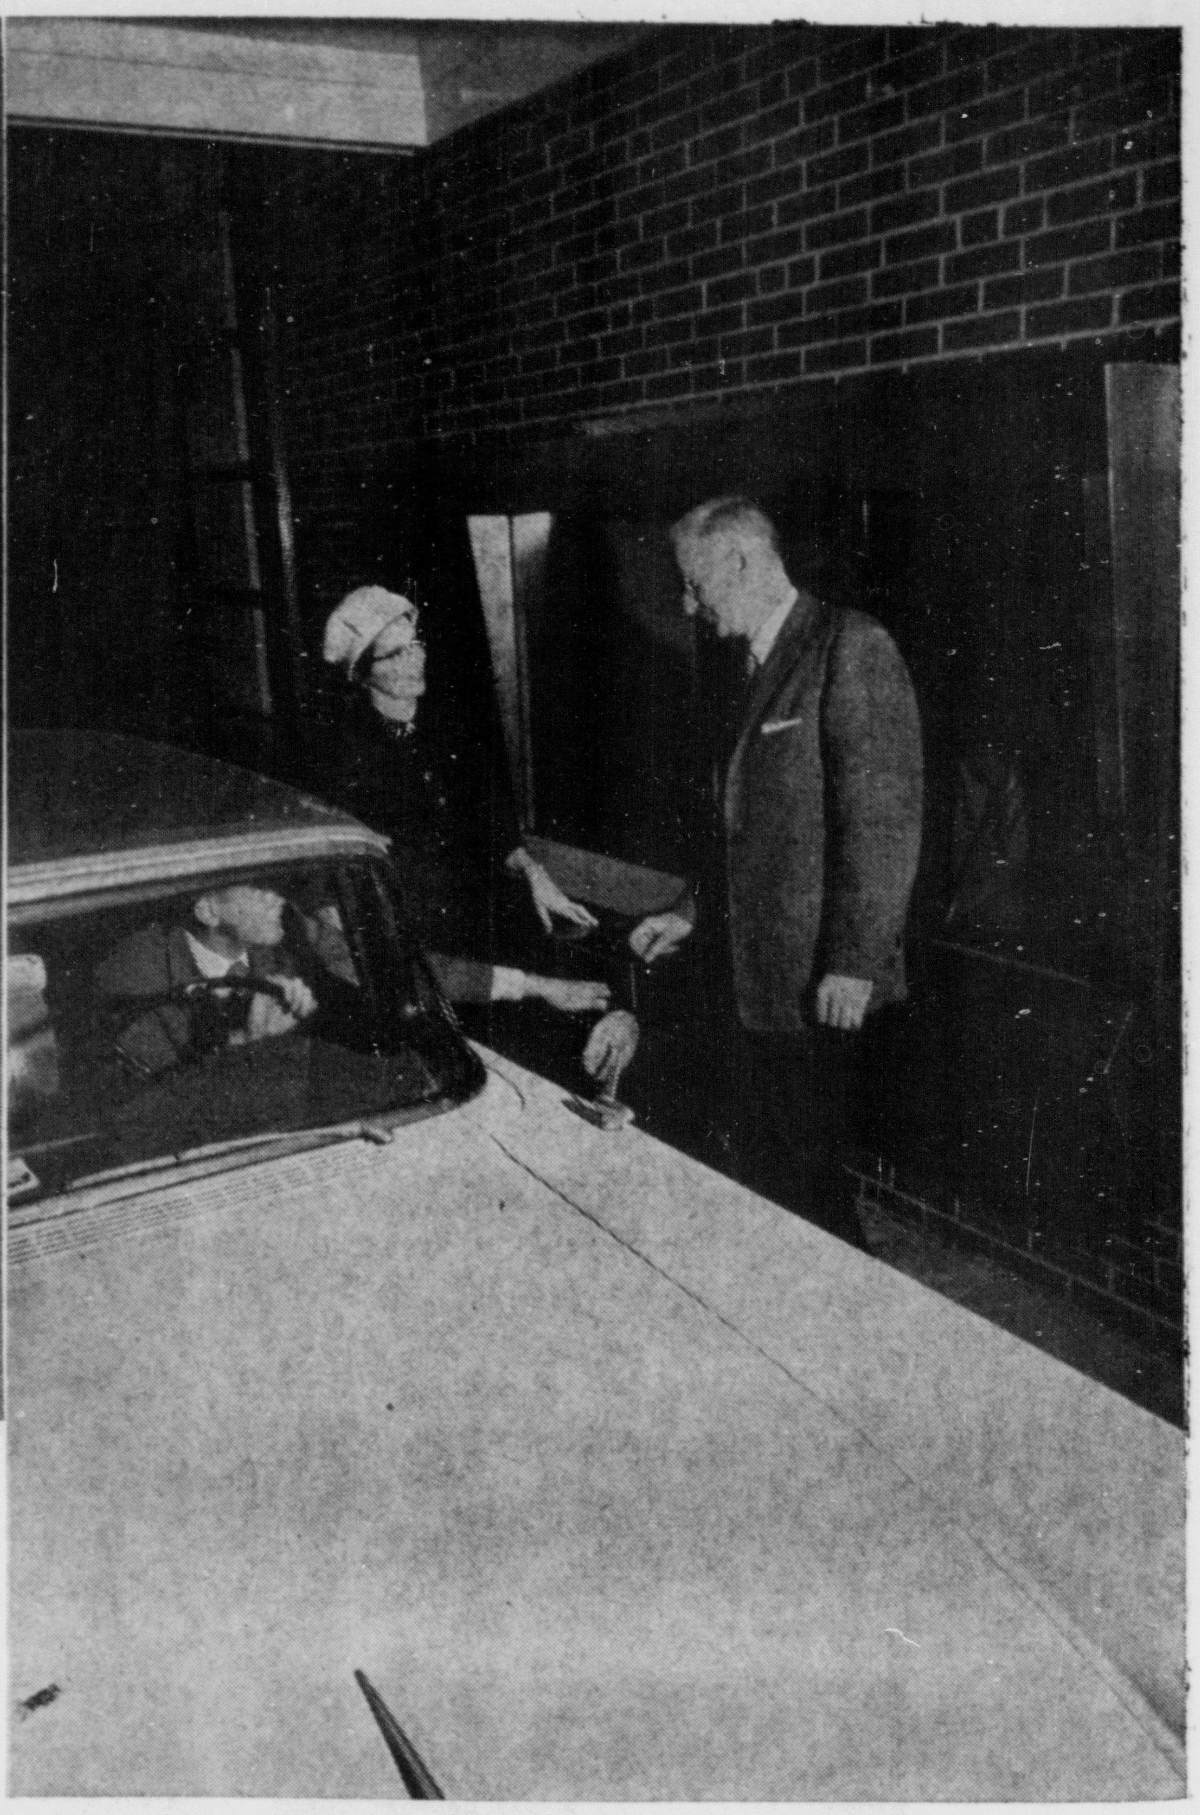
Examining New Safe Deposit Vault

Beginning Tour of New Savings and Loan



Drive-Up Window for Modern Savings

Two Citizens Tour Savings and Loan

A special preview of the handsome new home of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association was recently afforded Mrs. John Vork, "Know Your Town" chairman of the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters and Stuart R. Paddock, editor of Paddock Publications.

Conducting them through the Williamsburg Colonial building at Campbell street and Evergreen avenue a few days before the official opening of the new association quarters December 8 was Paul E. Collins, Federal Savings president.

A new Herring-Hall Marvin safe deposit vault has been installed on the Association's main floor. With 18-inch reinforced concrete walls, floor, and ceiling, it has a 10-inch-thick steel-plate door that weighs seven tons. Now installed are 1,311 safe deposit boxes in six sizes, with room for a total of 3,500 boxes.

Another new feature is the Drive-Up window enabling customers to complete transactions without leaving their cars. Accessible by a canopied driveway at the rear of the building, the Drive-Up window has a depository door which slides forward to the customer at the wheel of his car. A two-way communication system enables customer and teller to converse through the bullet-proof tinted glass that is 1¼" thick.

A below-stairs kitchen accommodates employee needs for light lunches and will provide light refreshments for guests using the community room. The kitchen is adjacent to both the community room and the employees' lounge.

The loan-closing facilities occupy a central area of the mortgage loan department on the Association's main floor. Carpeted flooring and traditional furnishings feature the decor of this area, located in the south wing to the left of the main entrance.

The beautiful Williamsburg Colonial building designed by Walter Kroeber, A.I.A., adds a note of charm to downtown Arlington Heights. Its interiors are tastefully planned by Countryside Interiors in Williamsburg colors and furnishings.

The walls have panelled oak wainscoting, dark-stained to conform with desks and other furnishings. Walls are done in Williamsburg green, with draperies of cotton taffeta iridescent in green and gold.

Brass Williamsburg chandeliers provide a friendly, homelike effect.

Wheeling Pastor New Lighthouse Director

William O. McGill, Wheeling clergyman and Paddock Publications columnist, has been appointed by the board of directors of the Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind as executive director.

Rev. McGill has resigned as pastor of Wheeling's Community Presbyterian church and will take up his duties on December 15.

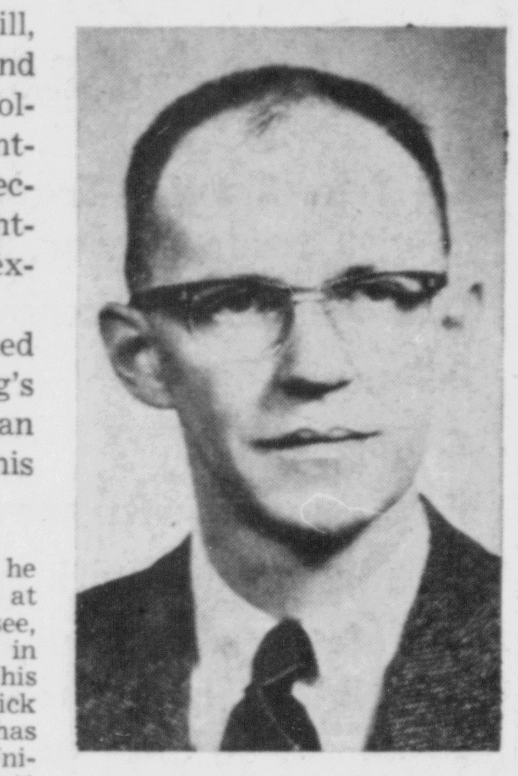
BORN IN Baltimore, Md., he received his B. A. degree at Maryville college in Tennessee, where he did honors work in psychology. He received his B. D. degree from McCormick Theological Seminary and has done additional study at University of Chicago and Garrett Biblical Institute.

In addition to pastorates in Indiana, Chicago, and his current church in Wheeling, he was head resident at Samaritan Neighborhood House and program director at Christopher House, both in Chicago.

During his ministry, he also served as chairman of the department of social education and action for the Presbytery of Chicago, commissioner for the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, chairman of the committee on ministerial welfare, and delegate to the study conference on church and economic life of the National Council of Churches.



REV. McGILL

McGILL HAS a wide interest in the area of social ethics. He has served as a voluntary citizen member on the commission of human relations, camping department of the Presbytery of Chicago, special committee on Chicago public schools, and special committee on race relations.

His articles and writings have been included in various church publications, Dun's Review and Modern Business, and in addition he was editor and co-author of "Pattern of Race Relations in Chicago," published in 1947.

Since December, 1949, he has written "In the Shadow of the Steeple" for Paddock Publications, a provocative column emphasizing social responsibilities which "keep us aware of the fact that we can be better than we are, both as individuals and as a community." With his new duties in Chicago, Rev. McGill will discontinue writing the column January 1.

THE PASTOR served in Wheeling during a difficult transition period. From a small country town of 900 when he arrived in 1949, he has watched the village grow to 6,000 residents. He has been confronted with the problem of meeting the spiritual needs of a booming suburban community.

In Wheeling, Rev. McGill has served on the citizen's advisory committee for grade and high schools and on the organizing committee for the library. He has been secretary of the plan commission and was, for several years, director of the recreational program. He is a member of the Lions club, chamber of commerce, Northwest Suburban Ministerial association, and on the executive board of the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America.

The minister, his wife, Joy, and their children, Patt, 17, Alan, 14, and Janey, 8, have moved to 504 Lee st., Evanston.

The Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind is a private social service agency interested in the rehabilitation, training, placement, and employment of blind people.

Letters to the Fence Post

Help for Alcoholics

With the Christmas season fast approaching I would like to share what I have acquired with others and sincerely hope this letter will be of help to someone.

I am an "Alcoholic" but fortunately I found out what to do about it. I discovered Alcoholics Anonymous.

Today I am sober, healthy and happy with this way of life. I have regained the love of my wife and family, the respect of my fellow workers and neighbors. I like being sober. I can get up in the morning and look at myself in the mirror, my eyes are clear, my hands don't shake, my complexion is clean and behold, my wife and children smile at me. I have an appetite and "yes, I can eat breakfast." Gone is that sick feeling of revulsion and nausea. I don't have the shakes, that feeling of remorse and wondering what I did the night before.

During my working day I have access to many homes and am amazed at the number of men and women that have a serious drinking problem and don't know what to do about it. I meet husbands trying to cover up for mothers drinking, wives trying to hide their husband's drinking from the children, family and friends, unhappy children that are well aware that something is wrong with mother or dad.

Something can be done if you think you have a problem with your drinking. You can be helped, and Alcoholics Anonymous is ready to help.

To the best of our knowledge, alcoholism is an illness. The symptom of the malady is a craving for alcohol that leads a man or woman to drink irrationally and to excess. We believe it is a physical allergy coupled with a mental obsession.

Briefly, an alcoholic has lost his tolerance for alcohol and can no longer handle it rationally.

There is a distinction between the heavy drinker and the alcoholic. While the former may overindulge on occasions, he does not let alcohol disturb the pattern of his living. Once an alcoholic, always an alcoholic. Once a person crosses the invisible border between social drinking and compulsive drinking he is never going to be able to drink normal again.

The only way for an alcoholic to cope successfully with his unique problem is to abstain completely from even the smallest quantity of alcohol in any form.

There are A. A. groups right in your neighborhood, in all the northwest suburbs, and someone is ready to help. All you have to do is telephone our Chicago office (the phone number is in the Chicago book) and someone will call on you. Believe me, you will always be thankful the day you called.

Thanks Expressed

The Arlington high school music department wishes to thank the choir directors and other adults who participated in the 'Messiah' chorus and orchestra last Sunday afternoon. Your cooperation and participation did much to make this year's presentation of Handel's oratorio an outstanding musical event in our community.

For everyone of the 2,000 people who attended this program we say, "Thank you."

Neutrality for Schools

At the invitation of your school board a meeting was held November 10 with various interested groups to present the problems confronting the board in the immediate future and to suggest a program of adequate financing.

School revenues from taxes was discussed and it was generally agreed that our tax base could be broadened by introducing light industry into the school district.

At the meeting the school board presented information as to present enrollment and the anticipated increased enrollment each year for the next five years. The Illinois Association of School Boards is very much concerned about this problem on a state-wide basis.

The school board has the entire school district (all of Schaumburg township) to serve and our duties and legal responsibilities are not changed by cities', villages', or any other boundary lines within our own district.

Incorporation in itself will have no effect on our school district tax structure. The board does not and in fact can not become involved with the "Incorporation problems" confronting any separate community within our district.

Food for Thought

The 'whole' page that you gave for "Thanksgiving Day Services," was not only pleasing to read, but, 'food for thought.'

On November 25, 1957, I attended a film showing of "Russia and Its People," by Raphael Green. The sad eyes of unsmiling people still remains in my mind's eye. Mr. Green told us that there are only a few old churches remaining, open for the present day aged folks, and that with their passing these churches will be closed. Religion is supposed to be forgotten by then.

The film has made me think about our freedoms. You are free to give a whole page, if you wish, to church services; churches are free to invite the youth as well as the 'senior citizen' to serve God and mankind better.

It will be a happy day when a film of Russia shows smiling faces and light in its people's eyes; with its churches open for all ages.

Now, I wish to thank you for the space and time you allot each week for church notices and news.

Candidate Speaks

I would like to express my most sincere appreciation for the most generous coverage and treatment which your editors gave my recent candidacy for the county board. Despite the normal Republican orientation of readers in our north and northwest communities, I think you are to be complimented for the thorough and objective publication of ideas emanating from a Democrat.

You are making a major contribution in keeping people informed of problems in the county's fastest growing area. It is regrettable that news coverage of significance is not elsewhere in the suburbs up to your standard.

The community problems panel which you sponsored was a particularly helpful session for me. I hope you will see fit to continue these programs in the years to come.

Thanks again for all of the splendid publicity for the West Suburban Conference. I have never had the opportunity to be included in the distribution of a newspaper which gives such complete news coverage to all of the high school sports programs.

Ungodly Practice

As a constant reader of "In The Shadow of the Steeple" articles, I took interest in last week's item. I am not bound by the laws of the Roman Catholic church nor any church for that matter.

Just as I respect and admire the Catholic church's stand on the 'delicate' controversial issue on contraception, I find it hard to believe in the sincerity of other church ministers who would even consider accepting the ungodly practice of this birth control let alone condoning it. Life, as well as death, are God's properties alone. Contraceptive birth control is one item I do not want on my slate when the Original Planned Parenthooder judges!

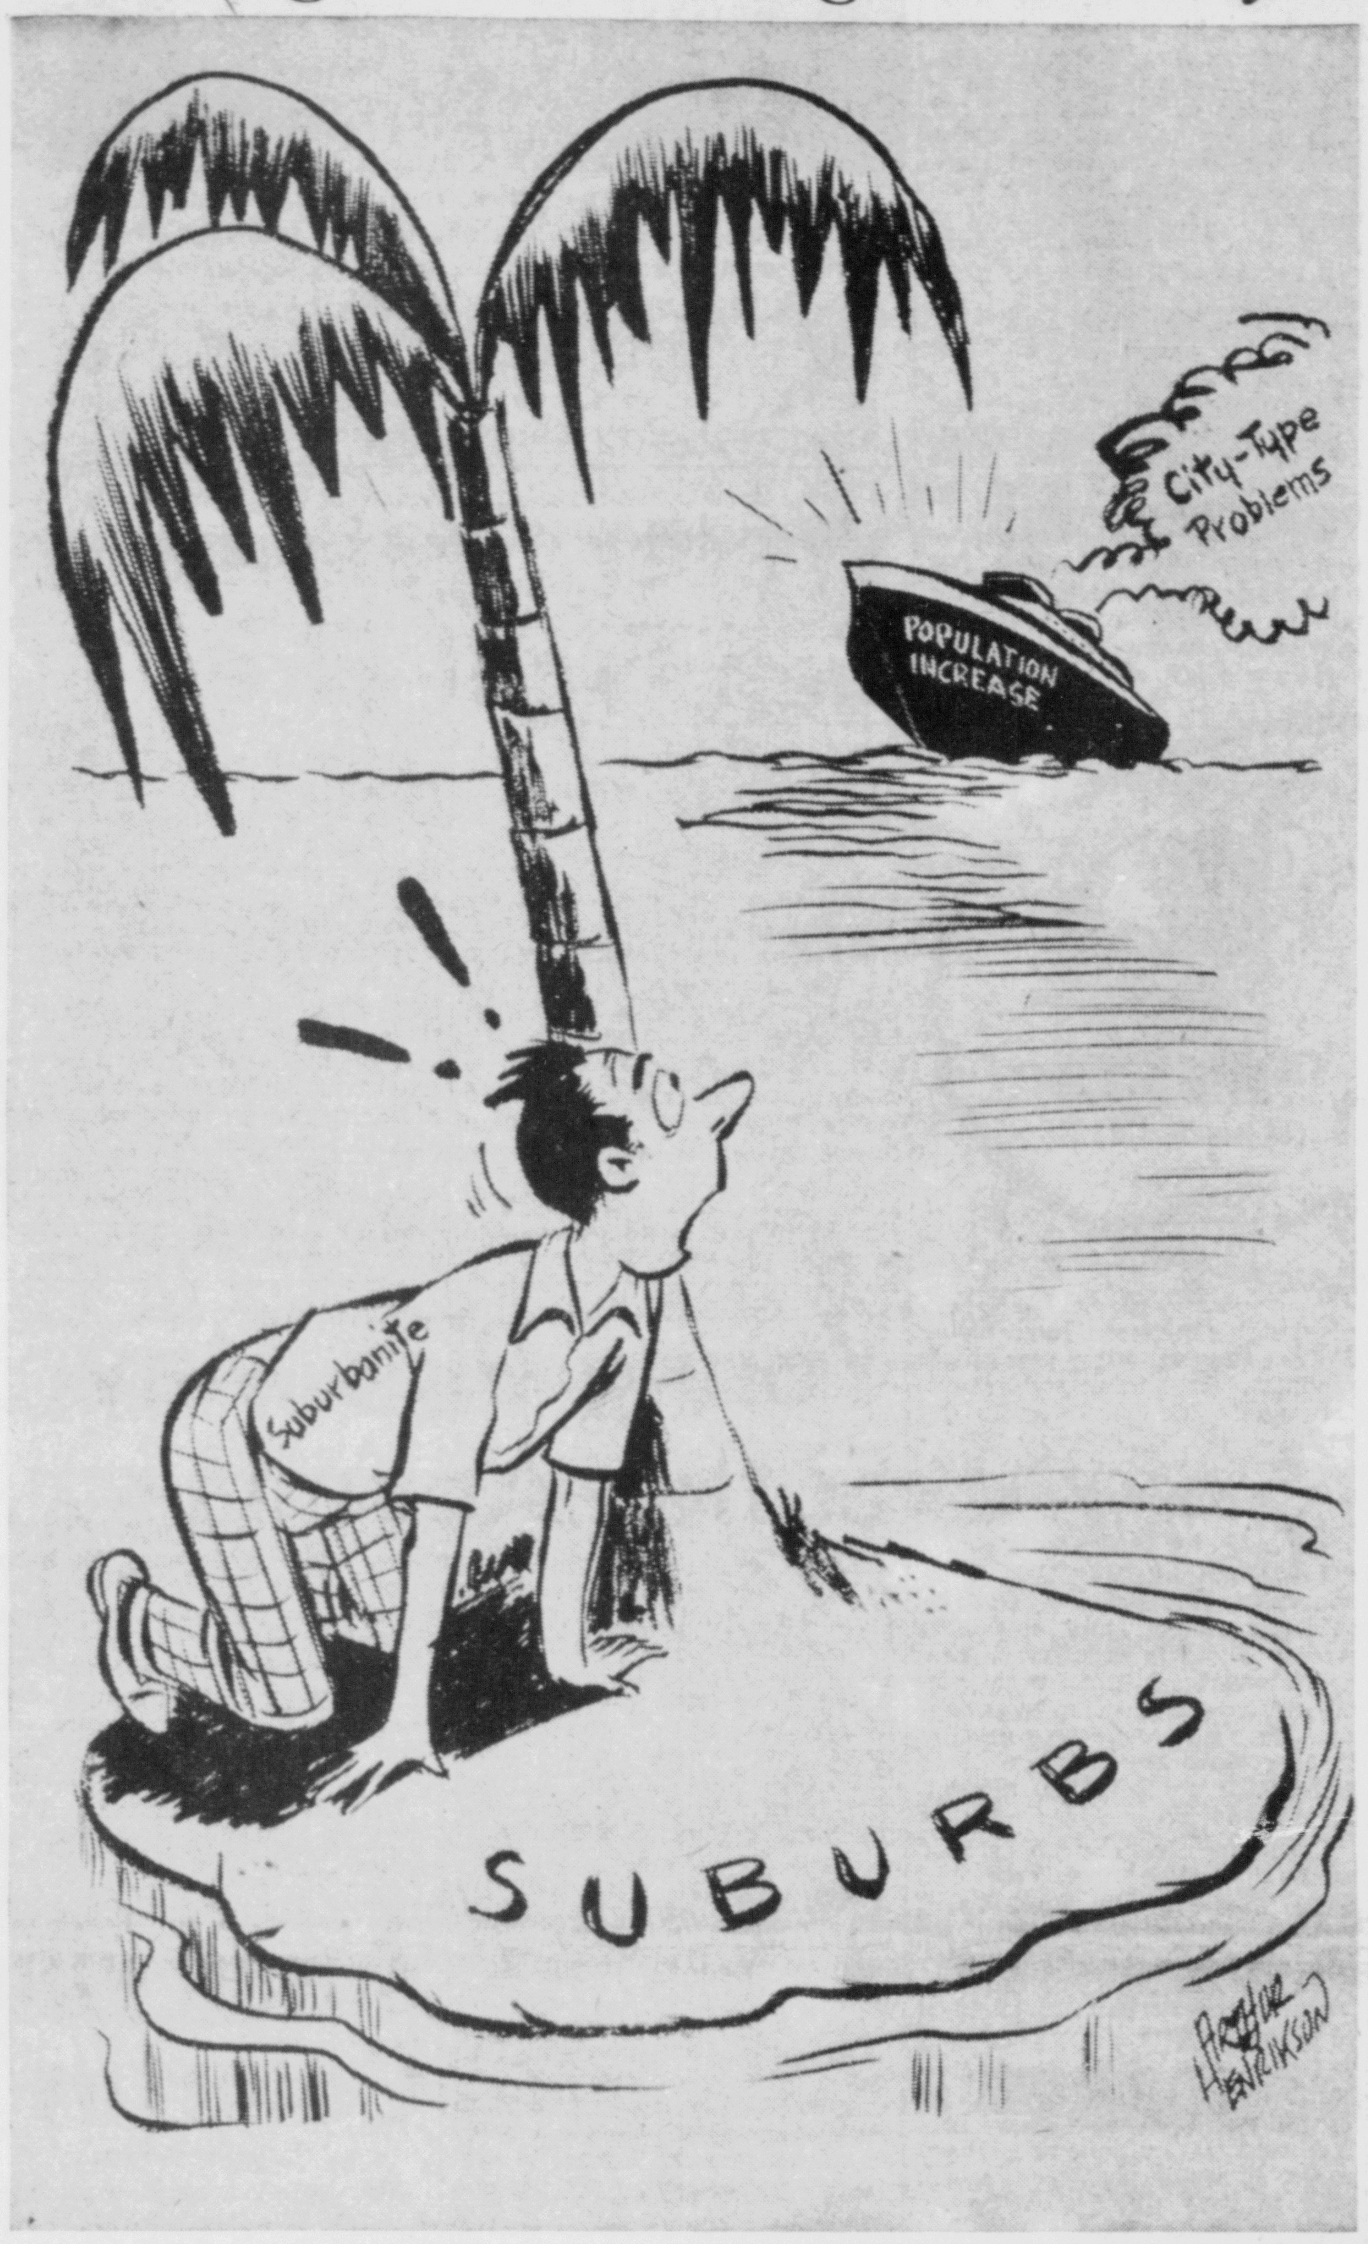
A Big One Coming Our Way



In The Shadow Of The Steeple

Hostility to Religion Is Challenge to Church

by WILLIAM McGILL

Talking about evangelism, at the Northwest Suburban Ministers' meeting, the other day, Dr. Orvis Jordan commented that if he had another life to live he would concentrate his ministry on persons who were "hostile" to the church.

Discussing the programs of community survey of religious affiliation and preference, he pointed out that there is always a remnant which claims to have no use for any religious institution or fellowship.

THE MOST USUAL reason given for such hostility is the so-called contradiction in beliefs and programs of the churches. A second reason is "too much religion when I was young." A third is an inability to see any use or purpose in religious institutions or fellowships. There may be other scattered reasons, but these are the most usual.

Dr. Jordan maintains that more "hostility" is developed by "a church fuss" than by any intellectual difficulty with belief. The persons who cite the intellectual problem are usually high-minded individuals whom the canvasser recognizes as having some intellectual abilities. Talk with them and, inevitably, there is some place in their experience when religious institutions failed them. Most often (from their point of view) the small-minded attitude was triumphant in a dispute about the minister, the presidency of the Ladies' Aid, or the painting of the belfry. It is semi-respectable to refrain from religion because of intellectual problems; the more realistic understanding of the doctrine of sin in contemporary religion makes it difficult to assume that "hypocrites" ought not to be in the churches.

CORRESPONDINGLY, the most usual root of "too much religion when I was young" is more likely to be found in the home situation than in the church where these people got too much religion. Unless one thinks it fashionable to announce his psychiatrist's conclusions about his complexes, it is not quite proper (not in most circles) to say, "I hated my father and my mother." But one can attach resentments toward his parents to those institutions which his parents regarded highly.

The "hostiles" must be loved into the fellowship of religious institutions. They must be listened to by one who understands what it means to be the shepherd of the unshepherded. They must be helped in the difficult process of self-perception. A man can waste his life fighting against the things his father enjoyed without ever consciously realizing why he fights them. There may be many other aspects of life which can represent a pleasure to him once he understands himself.

The minister and the visitation committee should not be too hasty in deciding that A. B. has no use for churches; his "hostility" may be only another expression of "yearning."

Don't Be a Holiday Alcoholic

The National Safety council estimates 55 per cent of all fatal accidents during the Christmas season last year involved a drinking driver.

The "drinking driver" usually is not the sloppy, disheveled, unshaven individual who staggers to his car and gets it started only after several tries at fitting the key into the ignition.

The big menace on our highways, especially during year-end holidays, usually is an alert and respected member of the community.

He is the "social drinker."

SOCIAL drinkers are dangerous. Their critical judgment is impaired with a fairly low alcohol concentration. Car weavings of obvious drunks can be spotted and avoided. But the social drunk appears normal until his wits fail him in an emergency.

The vast majority of drivers believe alcohol is a problem only for those who obviously are itoxicated. This is not the case. Those who have "only a few social drinks" help make year-end holiday driving the most hazardous of the year.

Safe driving in today's traffic demands mental alertness and physical fitness. Alcohol affects the body in much the same manner as chloroform, ether or other anesthetics. It is not a stimulant, but a narcotic — medically classified as a depressant.

USE OF alcohol affects coordination, slows reflexes and impairs a driver's judgment. Those who feel they are better drivers after a couple of drinks are merely victims of the influence of intoxicants.

Alcohol dulls a drivers reflexes so that he may not be able to act quickly enough to prevent an accident he could avoid under normal circumstances.

No one is liquor proof. Even a small amount of alcohol will impair your driving judgment.

Time Limit on Utopia

Warns Suburbs Of Grim Future

by CHARLES HAYES

A grim look at suburbia's future was afforded members of a community study group last week by one of America's top journalists and public opinion analysts.

"People who flee the dusty, dirty, crime-ridden city for tranquility in suburbia will find a time limit on utopia. Before long, the home owner's dream starts to fade, and eventually it becomes a nightmare."

So warned Dr. Curtis D. MacDougall, professor of journalism at Northwestern university, in an address before the Opportunity Council, Inc., in Arlington Heights' Pioneer Park last Wednesday.

Dr. MacDougall, former chairman of the Cook County Housing Authority, has served on the boards of the Chicago Area Project, Chicago Recreational Commission, Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare, and Chicago Citizens Council on Industrial Relations. He has been a suburbanite for more than 20 years.

HIS TALKS concerned the rapid changes taking place in modern America and their effect on the new suburbia.

Among the major points he pounded home to his listeners:

—the population "explosion" and metropolitan "revolution" will continue to have tremendous impact on the pattern of suburban development;

—as the complexion of suburban communities continues to change, suburbs will be faced with greater problems in discrimination and prejudice toward "minority" groups;

—home rule and state's rights are "old slogans" made obsolete by the complex needs of expanding metropolitan areas;

—long range, overall planning is the only hope for solving the multiple problems of suburbia and the metropolitan sprawl; and —the initiative in tackling metropolitan problems, both in human relations and in government, must come from private, volunteer organizations such as the Opportunity Council.

CITING GOVERNMENT surveys of projected population, the professor pointed out that the U.S. population is doubling every 40 years. "By the year 2050, there will be a billion people in this country. What kind of world will that be? What is the future? What kind of cities will we have?"

Partially replying to his own questions, Dr. MacDougall declared: "The era of skyscraper center cities is past, and so is the pattern of city-suburbia-exurbia. The cities of tomorrow will be long and narrow. Such a linear city, for example, will include Milwaukee, Kenosha, Waukegan, Chicago, Gary, and South Bend."

These new-style cities and their burgeoning populations will create serious problems of supply in food, water, and natural resources as well as critical shortages in housing and transportation, he stated, adding that sociologists and economists are already concerned about meeting these projected shortages.

DISCUSSING housing, for example, he exclaimed: "Housing in America has been a disgrace. We fell behind during the depression and World War II and we have been unable to keep up with the growing demands in spite of the much-publicized suburban boom. In order to meet just our present day needs, we require some 12.5 million housing units. Nearly a third of our population is underprivileged in spite of the high employment created by hot and cold wars!"

The population "explosion" and changing pattern of metropolitan development spells problems for the suburbs, he said. "We must face the problems which this explosion will create. Schools and faculties will have to be expanded. Public jobs will have to be done and paid for. Tremendous disorganization, both social and geographic, will continue to take place."

Although suburban slums will be easy to see and attack, he said the products of such slum —crime, poor health, illiteracy, delinquency, poverty, and prejudice—will be more difficult to treat.

DISCUSSING the "social disorganization" which takes place in the metropolitan sprawl, MacDougall said it creates an "insecurity and fear which lead to hate."

This prejudice will continue to be a problem for an expanding suburbia.

"Minority groups are usually the object of such hate," he said. "Such identifiable groups, which at one time or another include most religious, national, and racial groups, become ghettoized—not by choice, but by force. They're poured into their slums because it's the only place available to them."

He cited as a current example the plight of Mexican-Americans forced to live in rural slums which ring northwest suburbs.

GOVERNMENT, too, will continue to present dilemmas.

"There's no sense talking about home rule or state's rights anymore," he declared. "The federal government has been urged into the picture by governors and mayors who have flocked to Washington for help."

He said these officials were compelled to seek such aid because most state legislatures have been rural-dominated, and cities had nowhere else to turn.

"As the linear city develops —or even as suburbia itself continues to expand—we must face the realities of obsolete government," said MacDougall. "For example, the township form of government is utterly obsolete and now merely an obstacle. We can no longer plan on just local or township levels where we're restricted to artificial boundary lines. In tackling these future problems of food, water, school districting, transportation, etc., someone has to be able to knock the heads of all these units together and do some overall planning.

"Our problem in Cook county, of course," he continued, "is that we have some 965 separate taxing units. It won't be easy to upset this because of patronage and local pride. But our future will be handicapped unless we can plan freely as a county."

DR. MacDOUGALL had some words of advice for the Opportunity Council, and other citizen-volunteer organizations:

—become thoroughly educated about the problems of suburbia and the metropolitan area;

—act on that education by organizing as a pressure group and communicate the problems and need for action to the rest of the community; and —help to develop cultural patterns for these new communities with a "bootstrap lifting" operation to greet and assimilate newcomers.

Concluded Prof. MacDougall with a smile:

"Our trouble today is that there are so many things for us to get excited about we could attend a protest meeting every night. Where's it going to end?"

Suburban Areas Need Hospitals

by PAUL C. JOHNSON

The greatest need for more general hospital beds and services in America lies in the suburban areas surrounding metropolitan communities.

This is the conclusion of the Hill - Burton study recently completed by the Council on can Medical Association.

The council, made up of doctry, cited several other urgent needs including better facilities for long-term care for the aged.

THE COUNCIL said:

"Present day hospital construction should be designed to provide flexibility of use to version to meet civil defense needs in case of disaster.

"Unquestionably, demands meet changing concepts of hospital care and for ease of confor improved hospital care at lower cost will have a great effect on the future character of the general hospital as it is known today. It may well be that future hospitals will consist of intensive care, diagnostic and self-help units."

Lutheran General hospital, which is now in process of construction on a new site near Des Plaines, will incorporate a number of the new ideas recommended by the AMA committee. There will be intensive care areas in the new hospital to permit better care by fewer nurses and plans are also on the drawing boards for a hotel type unit which would permit those who come to the hospital for checkup or minor selves while availing themselves of the excellent equipment and services of a modern hospital.

IT IS ALSO planned to have standby electrical generating equipment and other facilities to make the hospital more readily convertible for meeting disaster.

Northwest area residents are eagerly awaiting the completion of Lutheran General and Northwest Community hospital building programs which will give the first close-to-home service for these suburbs. Health authorities believe it is unfortuate that the mushroom growth of the suburbs has left many Chicagoland people depending on downtown hospitals. This wastes the time of doctors as well as patients and their families, and leaves the suburban community in a dangerously unprotected position.

Corn Allotments End: What Now for Corn, Livestock?

by L. H. Simerl

Now that farmers have voted to end corn acreage allotments, what prices can they expect for corn and livestock? The following are our opinions:

1. Market prices of corn and other feeds will hold in the range of the past two years—$1 to $1.20 a bushel.
2. Prices of meat animals, which have been high in relation to prices of feed and most other farm products, will swing down to more normal ranges compared with feed prices.
3. Prices of milk, butterfat, poultry and eggs will not change very much, and profit margins will not be much affected.

THERE IS NO GOOD reason to expect any exceptional increase in feed production. No big increase in the acreage of feeds is in sight. Most of our good land has always been planted to feed crops, soybeans, wheat or cotton. The relatively small acreage coming out of the Soil Bank in 1959 may be offset by less favorable growing conditions in 1959 than in 1958.

Price incentives to boost per acre yields will be less than previously. The new price support rate for corn will be 20 to 25 cents lower than the high support rate of the past two crops. It will be about the same as average market prices in the past two years.

Elimination of the high support level for corn will have the effect of reducing the government demand for corn. It will also encourage increased feeding of corn to hogs, beef cattle and poultry.

IN RECENT YEARS prices of hogs and cattle have been unusually high in relation to market prices of corn and other feeds. For example, during the 10 years 1949-1958, the hog-corn price ratio averaged 14.3 compared with earlier long-time averages of about 11.6. Prices of beef cattle were equally favorable in relation to feed costs.

While prices of meat animals were far out of line with prices of corn, they were not so far out of balance with the high price support level. As price supports for corn move close to market value, production of livestock will increase and prices will swing downward. However, the prospective price support level for corn will provide considerable support for livestock prices. Many farmers will take a "surething" loan at around $1.10 or $1.15 rather than put out extra effort and take the risk of feeding hogs or cattle. This will tend to keep livestock prices high in relation to feed prices. Livestock will not make profits every year, but producers will have more good years than bad ones.

The new proce support level for corn does not seem likely to have much effect upon prices of milk or butterfat. Price supports for manufacturing milk, and price-fixing market orders for fluid milk, remain unchanged.

Poultrymen now buy most of their feed. Their industry has been very competitive, and the new program for corn makes no important change in the prospects for profit margins.

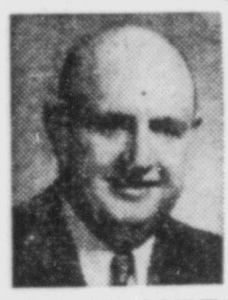
Down on the Farm



CARL F. MEES

with Your Farm Adviser

Corn farmers in Illinois expressed themselves very definitely on November 25 that they did not want allotments for corn.

The vote in Illinois was five to one against allotments.

The vote against allotments was not this decisive nationwide, but it did carry by a large majority. It is only a matter of conjective as to how much the corn acreage will increase next year. According to the records, 85 per cent of the corn grown in 1958 was not within the allotments. In other words only 15 per cent of the corn grown was within the allotments.

WHAT EFFECT this will have on the corn market next year, time alone will tell. Some men are happy over the outcome, others are not. Cattle, hog, poultry and turkey feeders are pleased. They will be able to purchase feed at a more reasonable price. Most feeders thought that since their product was not supported it was unfair to them to have to purchase feed grains that were supported.

Milk producers likewise may be able to purchase some feeds cheaper.

Vegetable growers have never had a support price for their products. They think supply and demand is the only way to determine price. Vegetable growers do not nave any of their products stored in government storage bins.

I HEARD SECRETARY Benson speak last Monday and he said, in essence, that anyone is wrong who thinks a farm program can be planned and executed from a desk in Washington. He also said emphatically that government storage bins were poor markets for agricultural products.

Corn producers who stayed within their allotments are not happy about the outcome. It will mean a lower price for corn for them. It will be interesting to see what kind of a farm program will be proposed at the next session of the legislature.

I saw some of the finest livestock in the country at the International Livestock Show held last week. If you have never been there, it would be well worth your time to attend sometime.

Water Systems Can Fight Fire

In case of fire, will your water system be ready to help you fight it?

If your answer is "no" or "maybe," is might pay you to make some changes. Farmers especially need a good water system to control a fire until the fire department arrives, warns O. L. Hogsett, extension safety supecialist at the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.

Most common cause of water system failure at the time of a fire is failure of the wiring system to the pump. Hogsett says. If the lines carrying electricity to the pump are broken or burned through, you can't fight a dire.

BEST WAY to avoid such failure is to make the pump's power supply independent. If your meter is on a pole, run a separate circuit from the meter pole to the pump pit or house, keeping it away from buildings.

If your meter is on the house, perhaps you should replan your farmstead wiring. A central distribution pole will probably help you get more uses from the electricity, in addition to making it easier to run an independent circuit to your pumps.

Your local power company service engineer can help you plan to modernize your wiring system.

Young Pigs May Suffer Anemia

Young, rapidly growing pigs may become anemic and even die if they don't get enough iron and copper to make hemoglobin and red blood cells.

Red blood cells, which contain hemoglobin, carry oxygen to all parts of the body. Pigs must build new cells to replace those that have worn out or they will die from anemia. If their diet is deficient in necessary minerals to make the new cells, they are in "trouble," says Dr. P. D. Beamer of the Univeristy of Illinois, College of Veterinary Medicine.

Pigs are born with enough blood cells and hemoglobin, but sow's milk is low in iron and copper, which are needed to build hemoglobin. Unless another source of iron and copper is supplied, nursing pigs may become anemic.

PIGS THAT CAN root in the soil, which is a good source if iron and copper, seldom are affected. But pigs raised on concrete or wood floors are more susceptible to anemia, Dr. Beamer warns.

A good step to prevent losses from pig anemia, Dr. Beamer advises, is to paint a solution of copperas (iron sulphate) on the sow's udder or to dose the baby pigs with it according to directions by a veterinarian. Swine growers can also put a couple shovelfuls of dirt in the pen. To avoid bringing worms and disease into the herd, be sure the dirt comes from an area where there have been no pigs before.

Injectible iron-destran has been used widely by livestock owners, according to Dr. Beamer. This product seems to be effective and is applied by many veterinarians.

Neglect of these precautions can result in the development of weak, unthrifty pigs, and frequently is either the direct cause or at least a contributing cause of deaths.

Amaryllis Provide Color in Winter

by JAMES FIZZELL

The stately Amaryllis provides a bright accent for the flower window in late winter. This is a time of the year when bright splashes of color are especially appreciated. The scant foliage and short blooming season are more than compensated for by the bright color of the 6 to 8 inch flowers, and by the easy culture.

Amaryllis bulbs should be plump and free of rot or mold and at least 2½ inches in diameter for good flowering the first pot.

Plant the bulb in a pot several inches larger in diameter than the bulb itself. Any good potting soil is satisfactory, however, the pot must be provided with good drainage. A layer of course gravel in the bottom of the pot is satisfactory.

THE BULB should be planted so that the upper ½ to 2/3 of the bulb is above the soil.

Be sure to have the soil level about ¾ of an inch below the rim of the pot.

Keep the soil on the dry side until growth appears and hold the bulb in a cool shaded place during this period.

When growth begins, move the plant to a warm sunny window and water more freely.

Insects and diseases are seldom a problem on these plants. If the bulbs do become diseased, it is wise to discard them immediately.

Magnificent flowers, brightly colored and supported on a tall stem will be the reward for proper care, and only about 8 weeks after potting.

Elk Grove Home Bureau's Christmas Party Is Dec. 3

At the December 3 meeting of the Elk Grove Home Bureau unit the members decided to have their annual Christmas and grab bag party at Old Orchard country club, Rand rd. and Euclid ave., Prospect Heights, December 17, at 12:30. Prior to the party members and their guests will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence Heinkel at 11 a.m. for the lesson and demonstration on party foods and their arrangement. Mrs. Heinkel and Mrs. Glen Pasvogel are the instructors for this lesson.

Members planning to attend the Christmas party please contact Mrs. Heinkel, Cl. 3-3241, for reservations as soon as possible. Guests are welcome.

MRS. CLARADEHL Upham, county home adviser, conducted the lesson, "New Food Products on the Market," December 3 at the home of Mrs. Oscar Dierking. She stressed the fact that few of us realize hundreds of new products are introduced yearly via package, can, and frozen food. Another point of interest was the fact that psychologists are employed by the major food companies to study the market trend of rise and decline caused by the purchasing power of the consumer. Consumers may be interviewed personally at home or in store or secretly studied from unobtrusive locations in the store as to expressions both orally and facially in regards to certain food displays. In other words, the manner in which a food product is displayed or advertised must be appealing to the buyer's eye as well as her stomach.

MOST WOMEN, including many home bureau members, are under the impression that this organization is limited to rural women. It is not. It is a professional club for the largest group of professional women in the world, the homemakers. It is a constructive and instructive organization open to any woman, whether she lives in city, town or countryside. Anyone interested in attending any of the meetings is welcome to do so. Further information is available from Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, CL 3-5264.

The January 28 meeting has been tentatively planned to be held at Mrs. Arthur Busse's home, 1400 S. Elmhurst rd. (A13

Top Soprano Is Featured In 'Messiah'

Distinguished solo performers have again been secured for performances of the Messiah by the Maine high school music department.

The 11th annual presentation of Handel's great oratorio, to be given at 3:30 and 8 p.m. Sunday, December 14, in the Maine auditorium, will feature a young singer with wide experience in concert and television.

Barbara Leichsenring, dramatic soprano, last year capped her previous successes by winning a first place award and $1,300 in the Metropolitan Opera's regional auditions.

MISS LEICHSENRING, who is a graduate of Maine high school, was the winner of the 1956 Chicagoland Music Festival, and has made numerous appearances on WGN radio and television. She was a soloist with the Chicago Symphony twice last season and will appear in Orchestra Hall this month with the same group in a performance for the Apollo Music club.

Performing with her will be four other soloists, more than 450 students, and a 65-piece symphony orchestra.

Before the concert a 30-minute program of Christmas music will be played on the organ by Mrs. Esther Kaub Johnson of Park Ridge. Mrs. Johnson will also accompany the Messiah choruses.

THERE WILL BE no charge for admission, but a free will offering will be taken to cover necessary expenses. Because of the large audiences expected, tickets should be obtained in advance at the Maine high school office.

Tickets may also be reserved by phone (TA 3-4185) and picked up at the auditorium box office one hour before performance time. Unreserved tickets, if any remain, will also be available there. (Bill

'WAY BACK WHEN'

50 Years Ago
December 11, 1908

The editor with several men to help has been busy the past week installing a new 2 revolution high grade book and job printing press made by C. Potter & Co. and a new Eclipse folding machine. On these we can do the finest work and print any size sheet up to 40 x 56 inches. With proper use this fine machine will last a 100 years. (It lasted less than 20.) Now we hope our patronage will warrant this heavy investment. Few towns of less than 10,000 population have as fine equipment as the Cook County Herald plant. We want the best corps of reporters obtainable in every town. Write us for terms.

We started up our big, new cylinder press at 3 p.m. Thursday, and our little old gas engine walked away with her at a good lively speed.

Our press and folding machine enables us to print all four pages at once; the folding machine folds, pastes and trims the papers.

Born to Arthur Weinrich and wife a son, Dec. 4.

Miss Addie Filbert visited the Woman's Club Thursday.

Aug. Kelling will give his usual grand dance 2nd Christmas Day.

Palatine — Fred Schrage holds the record for ducks this year at the "Schoppe Poultry Market." He brought in five dressed Tuesday, that weighed 38 pounds. Schoppe's are making some large shipments these days.

Charley Seip did some great sprinting last summer when he played ball with the south side married men, but it didn't begin to come to the great 100 yard dash he made Sunday, when, single handed, he chased and caught a rabbit.

F. Hattendorf Granite Co. of Wheaton, has recently erected a handsome sarcophagus monument in the cemetery lot of Aug. Tonne, deceased, a former highly respected citizen of Itasca.

Schaumburg — John Rohlwing had a bee, Thursday. They picked a total of 47 geese, ducks and turkeys. He says the editor can have the goose that got away, for a Christmas present, if he can catch it.

Hanover — Mr. Fred Helper and Miss Emelia Grage were queitly married Dec. 7, and they were given a grand charivari the same eve. They will reside on the groom's farm where he has lived for the past 20 years.

Some from Hanover and Dundee enjoyed a pleasant evening celebrating Miss Tillie Fasse's 20th birthday Dec. 6.

Mrs. John Frans, a resident of Rodenberg for the past 50 years, died Dec. 9, aged almost 77 years.

Down the Avenue

The boys are certainly getting their share of fun this year. After clearing the river of fish last week, they are having good luck tracking rabbits in the fresh snow. Franzel got four Monday.

Mt. Prospect — Found — Between here and Wheeling a broken heart, or in other words A. E. B. broke his plate with the most beautiful girl in Wheeling; the girl who won a hundred hearts. If the owner could only get it back.

40 Years Ago

Palatine —

If Palatine was ever in the throes of an epidemic, she is in one now. The children are the ones who are "under the doctor's care." Fortunately no deaths have occurred, but the seriousness of the situation must be admitted. No quarantine rules have been adopted. Thirty-six children were absent Monday, 45 Tuesday and 40 Wednesday. There are a few people who make light of the epidemic because there are no fatalities, but if an equal number of cows in this township were sick as there are children ill, the Chicago health board would be getting busy. We believe that the fathers and mothers of the children are partly to blame. Some of the farmers would sooner call a veterinarian for a horse or cow than a doctor for their child. Education on the care of children is needed here as much as information on how to keep a milk cow healthy.

THURSDAY, DEC. 11, 1958

Du Page County —

William Carl Schrader passed away Nov. 25, as the result of Spanish Influenza he contracted while at Camp Hancock. He was born in Bloomingdale in 1888.

Bensenville — Private Frank Koebbemann returned home from Camp MacArthur Sunday. We know by his smiling face that he is happy to be home.

The CM and St. P RR Co. are certainly spending lots of money on their big yards at Bensenville and from here to Mannheim. The round house has 28 stalls that will each accommodate two locomotives and some are long enough to take in three. The RR Co. has built and furnished a modern hotel with good clean accommodations for 50 or more railroad men where they can get lunch or meals on short orders.

Wheeling —

The Sicks came near losing their home Sunday evening. Their chimney burned out and a spark fell on the shingles and started to burn. There was quite a large flame, but by the assistance of the town people, it didn't get much headway.

Very happy to receive the good news that Williard Hank, reported killed Nov. 5, was only missing and is safe and sound according to a letter written to his parents Nov. 8.

James McElhose, Arlington Heights, was gassed on one of the French battlefields, the latter part of October. But in a letter written by him Nov. 7, he says that he is recovering nicely, tho for a time he feared that he would lose his eyesight.

The severe windstorm Thursday took down one of the old willow trees bordering the sidewalk west of the Kennicott home on Euclid ave., Arlington Heights. These trees are old landmarks that have stood many years and when this one was felled by the mighty efforts of the winds, we dare say that the report was equal to one heard by the boys "over there." When you think of the warm fire its parts will send forth, doesn't it make you want to draw your chair close to ye old fireside?

Danes Don't Fret About Misfortune

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Denmark has the most extraordinary rescue company in the world. No misfortune of any kind at any hour of day or night can befall a customer without "Falck's Rescue Service" swinging into action.

This is a private organization supported by thousands of Danes who worry about "What May Happen Next?" One-thousand cars, ambulances and trucks, plus five airplanes and a few motorboats can all be thrown into an operation.

A DANISH woman, to cite a simple "rescue" case, left her home recently to visit relatives fifty miles away. She had forgotten a pork roast cooking in her oven. Remembering it as she greeted her relatives, she phoned the Falck's station of her village and asked for help. They entered the house by a window, waited a short time until the roast was cooked, then turned off the gas.

For a fixed eight dollars per year, this organization will tow a customer's car every time it breaks down to his home from any point in Denmark.

Other services are rendered too: helping farmers whose horses are stuck in mud, searching for intoxicated people who have fallen into a river or canal, righting derailed trolleys and trains, finding run-away cattle and cordoning off streets for visiting diplomats.

In Falck's colorful history, some cases stand out above others. When a Danish journalist convinced a number of people that the remains of Hamlet were buried at a certain spot, Falck's Rescue Service brought in their diggers. This time, though, Falck's did not succeed.

BUT THE MOST unusual case of recent times concerned a Dane who died in Switzerland. Falck's was entrusted with the job of getting his body back home. The Swiss, however, declined to let the dead man travel on a passport. The body was labeled as "Merchandise," requiring certain Danish documents for removal that were impossible to get on any Saturday afternoon.

Falck's resourcefulness resulted in a company employee typing out a recipe for Danish beer-bread-soup and affixing the document with official-looking seals and ribbons. A pilot flew to Switzerland with this "license," which the Swiss could not read, and retrieved the body.

Now, however, with more and more Danes traveling to European lands, Falck's has extended its area of operations. Even during a vacation in France or Italy, Mr. Dane can feel safe that his country's rescue service will answer the phone and save him in the event of misfortune. (B12

Bustlers — Take Time to Relax

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Have you a bustler in your home? At the office? Then you know what I mean when I tell you that I do not like bustlers, especially if you have a personality like my own.

Bustlers are people who, at a desk in the office, russle their papers impatiently; bounce out at lunch time; bounce back after; and bounce homeward at night. You can't hold a decent conversation with them because they have to bustle about a room, or bounce around in their chair.

SOMETIMES YOU see them at women's clubs. Often, by their emotional attitudes, they succeed in bustling themselves into the presidency. They may be quite capable and efficient persons, very moral people, but being as I am, I just can't bear them. Their eternal bustling upsets me.

The bustlers I refer to are the ones who have a compulsion to be busy. They must be in the middle of things. They want you to think they are important, whether they are or not. A home bustler bustles around the house giving a touch here, a touch there, dusting and cleaning an already immaculate house every day. She can't bear a newspaper on the floor, a dirty ash tray, a furniture spread that is not hanging straight, little things that make any home homier and more relaxing.

As I say, there are many intelligent efficient bustlers; but the bustler with a compulsion makes non bustlers feel guilty and uneasy. It is hard to settle down for an hour's nap with such a bustler around—virtually impossible.

PEOPLE SHOULD not bustle through life and miss the many pleasures they could enjoy. There should be time for a good book, a round of golf, an hour at the piano, or a walk, all done in a leisurely manner; time to watch a beautiful sunset, or enjoy the riotous colors of autumn, or converse easily with a friend or neighbor. Time for meditation and prayer.

It was not intended that man should bustle through life and miss all these things, placed here for our edification and enjoyment by a good and beneficent Creator. So if you are a bustler, man or woman, and it is not a compulsion with you, take a little time out, relax, and live.

Square Dance Club News

On the local square dance calendar dances to honor and elevate recent beginner graduates are interlaced with dances to celebrate Christmas, and since they're all open to guests, local enthusiasts can dance almost anywhere, any time.

The Lions Park square dance group will have a combined Christmas party and graduation party for the beginners group Friday, Dec. 19 at 8:30 p.m. in the Lions Park field house, Mt. Prospect. The beginners will be welcomed to the popular level group by the members and the callers, Tom Powers and Lou LaBelle.

THE ELK GROVE Bucks and Does and their president, LeRoy Froysland, will welcome six couples to the club membership at their semi-annual graduation dance, December 13 at the Elk Grove school, Higgins and Touhy. Guests are welcome and tickets may be had at the school doors which will swing open at 8:30 p.m. when the dancers swing out to the calling of Bob Kim. The club's holiday dance, same place, same time, will be December 27 and again guests are invited to join the membership.

THE SWINGING Squares had 15 squares going last Friday night at the club's open dance in the Recreation Park field house in Arlington Heights. Bing Bengson, alternate caller with Don Finfrock, and Mrs. Bengson regularly instruct the steady flow of newcomers and held their usual hour of teaching from 7:30 until the dance began at 8:30. The club, in its seventh season, will bring the year to a close at its third Friday dance, Dec. 19, at the field house with a combination graduation and holiday party. The customary Yule grab bag exchange will add to the fun and provisions are being made for the awarding of other gifts.

Plans for special events in the new year are already under way and recently a Swinging Squares committee of last year's officers and current officers met to plan the club's fourth annual jamboree. Co-presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brodnan of Arlington Heights, announce the date, January 31, and the place, South Junior High school in Arlington Heights, and report that further plans will be announced as they develop.

IT'S ANOTHER "guests are welcome" night tomorrow night when the Alumni Squares hold their Christmas party at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights with Walter Meier calling. There will be a late potluck supper and grab bag gift exchange. Veteran dancers report that some newcomers and guests have had difficulty in getting to Pioneer park and suggest a route via Campbell st. west to Kaspar ave., then down Kaspar to the park.

Further information about the Christmas party may be had by calling Mrs. Ben Cattani, FLanders 8-1181.

Town and Country Squares of Palatine, which meet the first and third Friday each month in Pleasant Hill school gym, will hold their annual Christmas party at the December 19 session. All square dancers are invited to join in the fun.

Each person attending the party is asked to bring a dollar grab bag gift. Refreshments will be served. (A-13

Santa's Helpers Again at Work

THE GLENVIEW Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment and Marine Air Reserve squadrons began their annual "Toys for Tots" drive Dec. 1. Pictured above, helping to get off to a good start, is Les Parker, owner and manager of the Shell Oil Station, Elmhurst and Dundee rds., Wheeling; little Claraette Frank, of 12 Crestview ter., Buffalo Grove; and Sgt. William J. Phillips, of the Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment, Glenview. (Official U. S. Marine Corps photo

Members of the Marine Air Reserve Training detachment and Marine Air Reserve squadrons at the Naval Air station, Glenview, and the Shell Oil company, again have volunteered their time to work as Santa's helpers on the "Toys for Tots" collection, which ends December 19.

The 1958 "Toys for Tots" drive was kicked off with a barrage of newspaper, television and radio publicity on December 1. The program is sponsored by the Chicagoland marine reserve units with the cooperation of Shell, which is again making their service stations collection points. The marines will play the role of Santa Claus as they collect and prepare the toys for distribution, but the original donation of toys is up to the public. Toys will be repaired by the marines with the necessary materials so that they will be suitable as gifts.

Lt. Col. G. E. Farrell, commanding officer of the marine detachment, said, "The marine reserves are pleased to play this small role in making children happier on their day—Christmas. It is also a pleasure to receive the splendid cooperation of the Shell Oil company in this most worthy project."

Persons wishing to assist the Toys for Tots program should take their toys to their nearest Shell station. Marines will collect the toys and then distribute them to needy children of the Chicagoland area. When toys are wrapped, the age and whether for a boy or girl should be noted on the wrapping. All Shell stations in your area are collection points. (B8

Drive slower, save gas

If today's motorist wishes to save gas he doesn't have to buy a small car, just drive his present model more slowly, according to a spokesman for the automobile industry.

This expert points out that a car going 80 miles an hour uses 50% more fuel than one going 50; an engine that idles for more than a minute uses more gas than is needed to start it again.

Faulty spark plugs, a dirty air cleaner or too heavy oil can add 10% to the fuel bill, car operators are told. Jack rabbit starts and slamming stops take their toll in fuel consumption.

The average person can cut his fuel bill by one-third, the expert declared, by watching gas-robbing driving habits.

Shopping Prospect Heights

by LIZ ALANNE

Shopping Prospect Heights—Stan Now is the time to begin preparing the home for the visits and parties which accompany the Christmas holiday season.

Wise hosts and hostesses will have drapes and slipcovers professionally cleaned at L'Nor Cleaners to insure a spotless home when visitors call. In addition to an improvement in appearance, a careful cleaning job on drapes and slipcovers will prolong the life and beauty of the fabric and will brighten up the whole room.

Drapes and slipcovers should be thoroughly cleaned periodically to remove accumulated dirt and dust and it is doubly important when the home is the focal point of holiday activities.

L'Nor Cleaners in the shopping center is equipped to make the Christmas season at your home that extra touch by cleaning your drapes and slipcovers so they look their best.

FORMAL GOWNS and cocktail dresses are all-important during the Christmas holidays, too. Usually they are seldom used and, even if protected in a closet, need a professional cleaning to bring out their beauty and remove dirt. L'Nor Cleaners will be glad to make holiday dresses look like new for the festivities just ahead.

A fine selection of distinctive jewelry, lingerie and dressy blouses are featured at Olson's in the shopping center for holiday giving to every woman on the gift list.

Coeds should be delighted to receive one of Olson's pure silk blouses, either in a solid pastel color or smart print, or one of the dacron classics, with three-quarter roll-up sleeves. Olson's has a large selection of styles, sizes and colors available but encourages shoppers to make their choices early while the inventory is complete.

HOSTESSES and guests alike will find a lovely group of dressy blouses available including nylon, nylon chiffon, silk and dacron styles in every size. Tastefully trimmed in a variety of materials, including satin appliques, irridescent sequins and "crystal," these blouses are ideal for topping a full skirt for wear with a dressy suit. Also featured are a number of blouses in shimmering lame.

Beautiful lingerie is a hit with every woman and Olson's has slips, half-slips and gowns in nylon with elegant trim, including lace and appliques. Olson's fine lingerie is available in classic white and fashionable pastels of aqua, amber and moss green.

A new shipment of distinctive jewelry has just been received by Olson's. In addition to a stock of classic pearl and rhinestone accessories, the store has several jewelry ensembles in gold and silver mesh which should be especially appealing to the lady who prefers a tailored wardrobe.

A BONUS for men shoppers - Olson's will handle the gift wrapping for the man of the family after he has selected his gifts.

Top gift ideas for the children are gay red and white striped flannel pajamas and the ever-popular stuffed animals.

Olson's carries a good selection of women's better after-five dresses, and other gift ideas might include one of the collection of classic leather handbags, a sweater in wool or orlon or indispensable white gloves. For the youngsters, dresses, scarves and accessories are always a welcome gift.

PERSONALIZED Christmas cards are still available for those who have not had the opportunity to order yet and Scott's carries a full line of fine Hallmark cards for people to choose from. Scott's does its own printing which insures prompt delivery.

A complete line of Hallmark gift wrappings, tags and decorative seals and centerpieces is on display at Scott's. Notable is a new roll of Christmas paper in a cutter edge box, insuring the perfect size piece for every package without bothersome cutting and waste.

The record and phonograph department of Scott's offers a varied and interesting selection of records, including a rare opportunity to order a Limited Edition Glenn Miller album, which are in short supply.

'Anguished' Home Owners Sue Tollway for $50,000

Home, sweet home isn't what it used to be, Richard and Lucy Golze, who reside on Rand rd., near Des Plaines, complained in a $50,000 lawsuit filed against the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission.

In fact, it hasn't been the same for a long time — 19 months to be exact, according to the Circuit court complaint which also named several tollroad construction companies as defendants.

Construction work on the tollroad is blamed in the suit for making "life unbearable" and "sleep impossible."

AN EARTHEN embankment for the tollroad has been under-construction within 20 feet of the northwest wall of their one-story brick home.

And since May, 1957, according to the suit, the Golzes have put up with heavy, roadbuilding machinery that scrapes, levels, and compresses dirt for the embankment, often 24 hours at a crack, subjecting the plaintiffs to "constant irritation and anguish of noise, vibration, dust and dirt."

"Tremendous noise" made by gasoline motors of the machinery in an "incessant stream" past their windows has made "life unbearable, sleep impossible, and injured their health," according to the suit.

Movement of machinery and dumping of dirt has caused a "constant pall of fine dust particles to hang over and sift constantly into their home," it added.

Vibration touched off by heavy machinery caused the walls of their home to shake, caused dishes, vases, pictures and other art objects to tumble from walls and shelves, and is blamed in the suit for plaster cracks in walls and ceilings and cracked foundation walls.

ERECTION of barricades and destruction of a bridge have "isolated" the Golzes "socially and commercially from the rest of the world," the suit charged.

Easy access to Des Plaines for them has been cut off, the suit said, ever since a bridge on Rand rd., one-half mile from their home, was destroyed by the contractors. Barricades prevent any outlet to the northwest in Rand rd. and their trip into Des Plaines now by detour is five miles longer, the suit said.

Mail delivery, too, has been cut off. The suit said the U. S. post-office in Des Plaines cancelled their home mail delivery. The Golzes said they now must drive into Des Plaines and pick up their own mail.

Visitors have been discouraged from reaching their property, the suit said. It blames this turn of events partly on barricades bearing signs, "Road Closed, Bridge Out," posted at Rand and Potter rds., several miles southeast of their home.

RAND ROAD in front of the house has been converted from a public highway into a construction camp and vehicle parking area, the suit reported.

It said the highway is a "regular depot" for work vehicles and is cluttered night and day, with huge, gasoline driven, earthmoving machinery, tractors, jeeps, dumptrucks, and other work vehicles. Sometimes, all this has prevented the Golzes from entering their own driveway from Rand rd., the suit said.

Fumes "frequently" are blown into their home from gas and oil stored in a fuel supply depot behind their property, the suit said. It charged there's an open latrine area used without cover or concealment, adding to their discomfort an ddisgust.

The toll highway work, relocation of Rand rd., the destruction of the bridge, construction of cloverleaf highway areas and other accessory construction — all this, the suit charged, has left them literally surrounded "as a small island in a tremendous sea of construction activity."

It has resulted in an extensive loss of their property value and "loss of peaceful possession and enjoyment" of their land, the suit said.

It continues to list more complaints, including:

The construction work has blocked and filled a drainage ditch, creating flood danger for their property.

The sewer line has been cut off and blocked, depriving them of a sewer outlet.

Their fence, which had protected shrubbery and flowers from damage, was crushed by unloading pipes, lumber, and other material against it.

THE DEFENDANTS, without permission, allegedly shut off the gas main leading to the plaintiffs' property, leaving them without gas for heating and cooking for several days.

Count one of the lawsuit, drafted by Attorney F. Dennis France of the firm of Howard, Howard, and Hofert, asks $25,000 in damages. In Count two, Lucy Golze seeks a $25,000 judgment, saying she has suffered a nervous breakdown because of the defendants.

Other defendants include the C. K. G. Associates and the firms that formed it: Contracting and Material company, Kenny Construction company and Louis Garavaglia company, the suit said.

The embankment, the suit said, will create a permanent wall 25 feet high, cutting off light and air for the Golze property.

In summarizing the allegations, the suit said all this has amounted to a "constructive taking and damagin gof their property for a public purpose," for which the Golzes are entitled to receive just compensation in Article II, Section 13 of the Illinois Costitution.

Take Stronger Steps To Curtail Dutch Elm Disease

Trees and roadways will be getting more attention from subdividers in Bensenville as the result of an amendatory ordinance passed by the village board last Thursday.

The amendment to what was adopted in 1947 as Bensenville's official plan adds to the requirements for roadways to be installed by the subdividers the increased width of "not less than 32 foot" for the roads, all of which must be paved, and the construction of curbing at all edges.

In the matter of street trees required in parkways the village has eliminated elm trees from the list of species permitted in an effort to eliminate planting in the future of the tree that is seemingly getting into more trouble yearly with Dutch elm disease.

Melquist Fate In Hands of Grand Jury

The fate of Charles Melquist, 23, Villa Park, was placed in the hands of the December term of the DuPage grand jury as it convened in Wheaton Wednesday at 10 a.m.

At that time the 23-member panel was slated to begin hearing testimony linking Melquist to the slaying of 15-year-old Bonnie Leigh Scott, Addison. He twice confessed to the murder, but then repudiated the 47-page confession he had signed when he secured the advice of an attorney.

Jack Bowers

The hearing behind closed doors is expected to include testimony from a large number of persons—detective and police who worked on the case as well as friends and relatives of both the dead girl and the accused who remains confined in the county jail at Wheaton.

SERVING AS prosecutor on the case after what must have been a hectic week of gathering and studying information on the murder charge is State's Attorney Jack Bowers, Downers Grove, who was appointed to the post by the DuPage county board December 1.

He is being aided by one of his assistants, Erv Wilson, Elmhurst. The courtroom scene will thus include only these two as prosecutors, the grand jury and the witnesses as they are questioned one by one. It is expected that the gathering of the testimony will take until at least Friday noon.

While the names of the witnesses have been kept secret, it is known that the Addison police department will be represented by at least Sgt. William Devaney and Mrs. Gerry Garland, radio operator. They were directed to report to the courthouse at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

THE STATUS of Thomas Smith, who had been considered an important witness, now looms as uncertain. He last week resigned as Cook county's chief deputy sheriff after being indicted by the grand jury there for perjury. He headed the Cook contingent of investigators on the case.

Not in on the prosecution of Melquist although he participated in much of the earlier phases of the case is Attorney William Bauer, Elmhurst, who was chief assistant state's attorney until Bowers' appointment. The two were rivals for the top job.

Bowers is said to have offered Bauer an assistant post, but the latter declined because of the conditions of the offer. The conditions reportedly had to do with assurances from Bauer that he would not oppose Bowers should elections be held to elect an interim state's attorney in April.

District 3 Election Saturday

The some 800 voters in the Churchville grade school district will Saturday vote on the disposition of a $128,000 loan that has been offered district 3 by the state.

Offer of the money under the state's aid to distressed school districts program came earlier this year after it was applied for by Supt. Arthur Adelberg. "If the voters turn the proposal down such an offer will not be forthcoming again," he has been quoted as saying.

THE LOAN, which would be retired in three equal payments with only a small maintenance charge and no interest, would be used to finance the construction of six classrooms and a multi-purpose room at the Conrad Fischer school which serves the approximate east half of the district.

It is in this part of the district that growth is currently proceeding most rapidly. Polls at the Fischer school will be open from noon to 7 p.m. A special citizen's advisory committee has been hard at work explaining the proposal and urging citizens to vote.

Garden Club Christmas Party

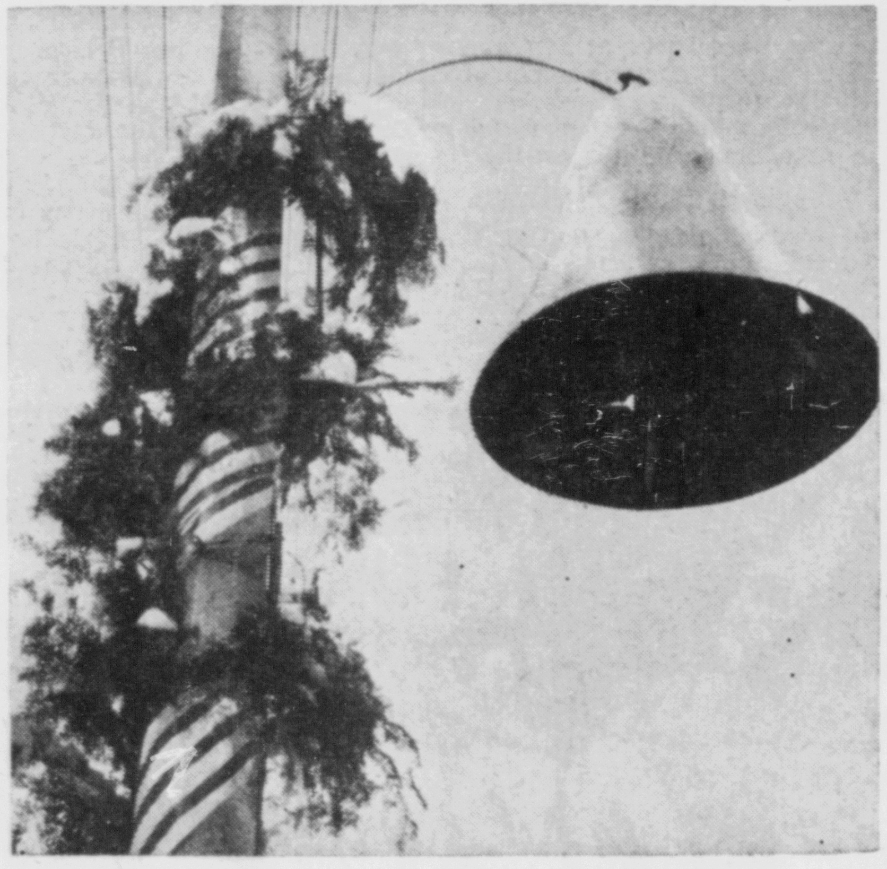
Thursday, Dec. 11, is the date set for the Bensenville Garden club's Christmas party, to be held in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Rickel. A film, "How To Be a Successful Hostess," will be shown.

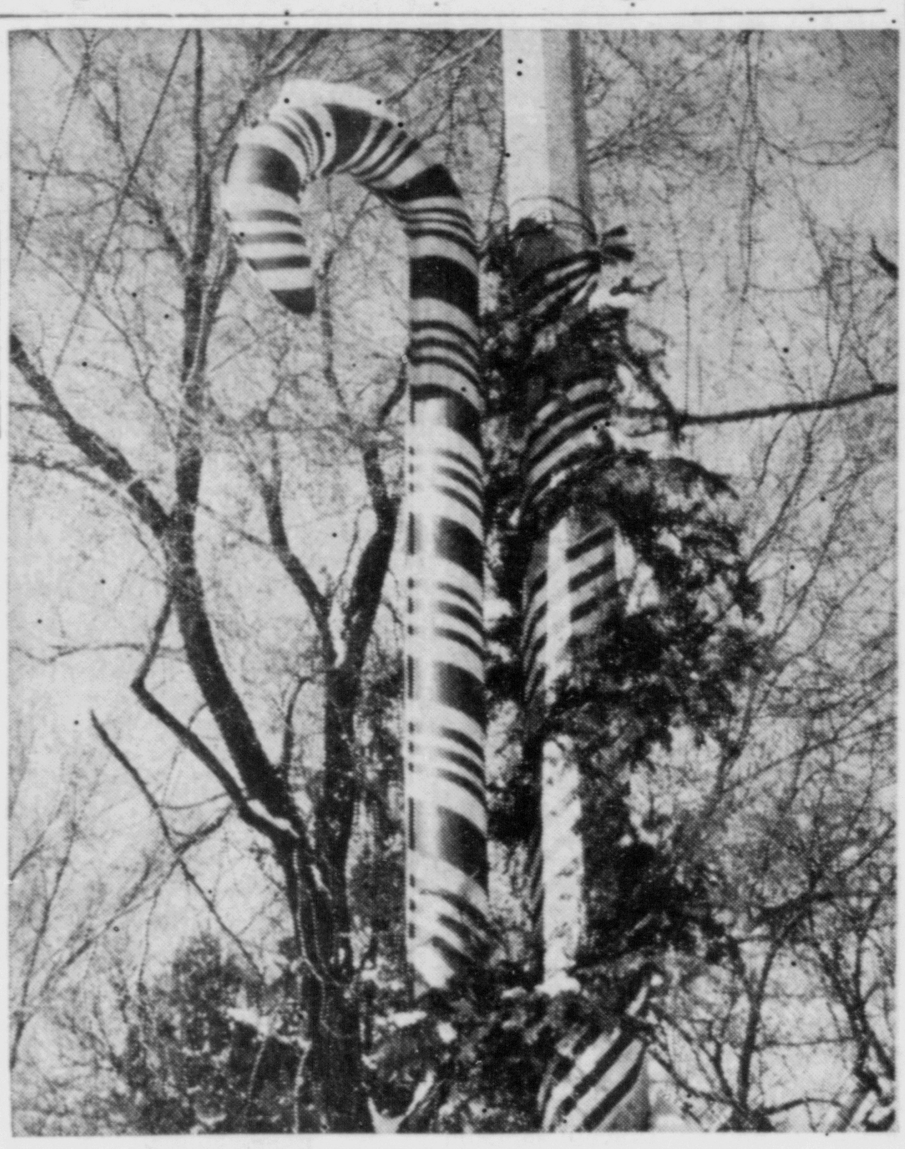
Plan Holiday Decorating Competition

The Garden club of Bensenville will again hold its annual outdoor Christmas Decorating contest this year and all residents are urged to participate.

There will be two classes of home decorating to be judged, religious and artistic, with prizes awarded in each grouping.

In order to be eligible for the judging, which will take place between Christmas and New Year's, it is necessary for those interested to contact Mrs. Charles Madden, PO 6-1053, or Mrs. Robert Bilhorn, PO 6-5554, in advance of the judging.





THE BENSENVILLE chamber of commerce draw rather meager response when a special plea to the public was made to provide adequate funds for holiday decorations in the downtown section of the village, however, the businessmen went along as best they could and produced rather nice results throughout their area as these photos show. Fenton Christmas Concert Is Sunday

The music and art departments of Fenton high school will combine talents to present the annual Christmas concert Sunday, at 3:30 p.m. in the Fenton gymnasium.

Among the participating music organizations will be the combined freshman boys' glee club, freshman girls' glee club, and mixed chorus; the girls' advanced chorus; the a capella choir and the concert band.

Scenery and decoration of the gymnasium will be handled by students in the art department under the direction of Miss Florence Fischer. Many weeks of planning and preparation have gone into this project.

A FEATURED NUMBER of the program will be the combined choral union performing the Hallelujah chorus from "The Messiah" by Handel. It is becoming a tradition to perform this number as a finale to the Christmas program and each year alumnae of the Fenton a capella choir return to sing this chorus with the choir.

Stratton Outlines Local Road Plans At Meeting Tuesday

Gov. Stratton will outline Illinois' 1959 road program for district one at a special press conference Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the district offices in Elgin. District one takes in DuPage, Boone, DeKalb, Kane, Kendall, Lake, McHenry and Will counties.

D. S. Magowan, district one engineer, says that the '59 state highway program will be the largest in history. The details will be disclosed for the first time at the press confab.

Toil 5 Hours in Zero Cold To Fix Roselle Water Leak

The emergency created by a cracked water main connection forced workers to endure sub-zero temperatures for five hours in Roselle Tuesday evening.

Water that bubbled and then spouted to the surface in the afternoon brought the leak to light just off Ardmore ave., between Pine and Catalpa in the Ridgeview subdivision. The water flowed over and quickly became ice in several backyards as the call for an emergency crew went out.

Responding about 4 p.m. was the Preston Plumbing co., Northlake. Stammered one worker as he shivered while unloading equipment, "What's the matter—this is just another job for us." Later he waded into water up to his waist that was even colder than the frigid air.

ASSISTED BY Al Botterman and Fred Haberkamp, village public works employees, the emergency crew dug and probed into the freezing and frozen mess to find a crack at the point where the main was connected to a nearby home.

A metal sleeve was installed over the crack and other repairs were completed by 9 p.m. Houses on Ardmore from Catalpa to Locust were without water for most of the repair period, but service elsewhere in Ridgeview was not curtailed.

Bensenville Driver Hurt In Accident

A Bensenville man was treated for minor injuries at Memorial hospital in Elmhurst following one of two traffic mishaps reported on icy village streets Monday.

Suffering bruises was Arthur Koziarski, 36, 220 Barron, Bensenville. His auto collided with that of May A. Lopatka, 48, Elmhurst, at York st. and Memorial dr., village police stated.

SOME 200 DEMOCRATIC leaders and friends of Bensenville's William Redmond turned out at a dance at the Itasca country club Friday night to offer their congratulations on his election as state representative. Among those on hand were, front row —Mrs. Walter Krush, Bensenville; Mrs. L. C. Froelich, Wood Dale; Mr. and Mrs. Redmond; Mrs. Ruth James, Bensenville; John Mears, Bensenville; Walter Kehoe, Bensenville, and, back row — Norman Bickel, Bensenville;; Joseph Mello, Bensenville; Pete Flynn, Addison; John Christoi, Bensenville; Arthur Hurley, Addison; Henry Fletcher, Wood Dale, and not quite visible behind Kehoe, Tom McMahon, North Elmhurst. Freddy Wants a Happy Christmas

Three-year-old Freddy Dixon hopes to have a happy Christmas, but it's not going to be easy for him or his folks, the Joseph Dixons of Indiana st., North Elmhurst.

A brave little guy whose upper lip has never faltered, Freddy has spent most of his life in Shriners hospital in Chicago suffering from osteogenses imperfecter — an incurable bone disease. Unfortunately, he'll be confined to his hospital bed at Christmastime too.

Cards from friends and anyone who would like to bring cheer into his bleak life, his parents feel, would help a great deal. His address is: Freddy Dixon, Boys' Ward, Shriners hospital, 2211 N. Oak Park ave., Chicago, Ill.

Dems Ask Special Election

County Clerk Clarence V. Wagemann is expected to wait until the December 12 deadline to file his reply to a petition for a writ of mandamus that seeks to have him call a special election to fill the post of state's attorney.

The position was vacated last week when William Guild resigned upon his induction as county judge. His term runs to late in 1960. County supervisors last week appointed Jack Bowers, Downers Grove, to serve as interim state's attorney.

THIS MOVE was contested Friday by Joseph Tumpach, head of the DuPage Democratic party, who filed his petition for the writ in Wagemann's office. Should more than one candidate enter the race from each party, both a primary and general vote would be required, both in the spring.

Bowers has already indicated he will run if a special election is called. So will William Bauer, Elmhurst, former chief assistant to Guild. Both are Republicans. The Democrats are said to favor a young Wheaton lawyer, Prentice Marshall, but he may also have opposition.

Sanitary District Vote January 17 In North Elmhurst

A circuit court hearing Friday in Wheaton set January 17 as the date for a special referendum on a proposal to create a sanitary district for the North Elmhurst unincorporated area that stretches north and east from Lake st. and York rd.

Entering the order after presiding over the hearing was Circuit Judge Earl Shopen, Elgin. Serving as the consultants on the bench were Circuit Judges Bertram Rathje, Wheaton, and Mel Abrahamson, Naperville. Future issues of the Register will carry complete details on the election.

While Jack E. Bowers of Downers Grove definitely has the job until at least next year, the whole picture surrounding the remainder of the unexpired term of DuPage state's attorney has become quite a controversial and confused isue.

The several factions involved all have their own (and mostly different) reasons for the feelings they hold and, even if we run the danger of adding still more to the confusion, we want to put down the major contentions right here and now . . .

Bowers, as many know, was appointed to succeed William Guild, now county judge, by the DuPage board of supervisors last week and most of the trouble officially began then. Nominated to compete with him for the appointment was William Bauer of Elmhurst.

In earlier stating he would like to see Bowers get the job, "Bud" Waterfall, county board chairman, mentioned such preference with the mere explanation that it would be nice to see a Downers Grove resident in the spot.

There are many who immediately offered, however, that it was more a case of seeing to it that the post wouldn't go to Bauer. He, after all, was chief assistant to Guild earlier this year when the latter was virtually pushed into an expenses probe of the board.

This, it's contended strongly, was the main reason that in the county board vote last week Bauer got only eight votes to 15 accorded Bowers. This came desipte the fact that Bauer seemingly had the better experience for the job with five years as an assistant.

We commend at least two of north DuPage's count board members who said they voted as they did in consideration of qualifications of the two candidates and not with thought of the grand jury investigation to which the body was subjected.

These, then, were the several reasoning explanations offered by the factions within the county board. Politics, or at least the Democratic party, entered on the scene as many had expected as soon as Bowers' appointment was announced.

Some say that the DuPage Dems may not have acted so quickly and perhaps not at all had the appointment gone to Bauer since his solid background in the job would have doubtless made him practically a cinch in an election to name the man to complete the unexpired term.

An election, of course, is what the Democrats are pointing at and they cite a section in the constitution which states that a vote is required wherever the length of an unexpired term to be filled is longer than a year.

The Dems, rather naturally, remain quite enthused over what party leaders considered was a strong upswing away from the GOP in November. The Republicans are naturally denying such implications, but the Democrats feel they have a good chance of improving all the way to victory in the near future.

They thus consider an election for interim state's attorney as an added chance to add further to their DuPage strength. Amid all such meanderings within the county board itself and on the political side too we note one rather important fact that may have been missed.

Such a special vote would or will cost the county and taxpayers between $70,000 and $80,000.

Hi There Teens!

Winter has really arrived no more running around in Bermuda shorts, girls.

Now that it's getting colder, everyone should be a little more careful walking and driving.

The team lost the game against Wheaton last Friday. This Friday, Dec. 12 they go to North Chicago at 6:45 and are hoping to win.

The wrestling squad will be there at 7 p.m. for their meet.

The Teen Center dance last Wednesday was a sample of the coming busy holiday season. It's time to get ready for lots of fun and good times with old friends.

Since there aren't many days of school left, students should try to do their best and end this year on a good note.

The program will be opened with all the children singing "O Come, All Ye Faithful" and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear." The story of "The Christmas Star" will be read by James Medziak, a fourth grade pupil.

THE FIRST GRADE pupils will play rhythm instruments for "Jingle Bells" and "The March of the Three Kings." They will sing "Christmas Bells" and "Little Jack Horner." The first grade teachers are Mrs. Margery Johnson and Renee Kaufman.

The pupils in Mrs. Ruth Lundy's second grade class will dramatize "The Christmas Tree." The carol, "O Christmas Tree," will be sung by the group. With the manger tableau for the setting, the pupils of the second grade in Inez Rachau's class will sing "Away in a Manger" and "O Come, Little Children."

Rita Kruce's third grade class will give a choral reading of "The Night Before Christmas." They will sing "The First Noel."

Pupils from the fourth grade will sing and dance "Jingle Bells and "Deck the Hall." Dorothy Bernhard is the fourth grade teacher.

To close the program all the classes will sing "Silent Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas," "Santa Claus" and "Joy to the World."

VFW Entertains Hospitalized Vets at Elgin

The DuPage County council of the VFW gave a party for World War I and II veterans at Elgin State hospital November 28.

The entertainment was furnished by Emil Fivek of Bensenville and was sponsored by the Ardmore Community club of Villa Park.

THE COUNTY council distributed 1,200 packages of cigarettes and the veterans at the hospital saw an hour and a half of entertainment.

The show was handled by J. A. Jelley, Elgin State hospital chairman of the DuPage County council, VFW, department of Illinois.

Tioga VFW Auxiliary

December 8, 1958, a welcome is extended to Arleen Kruger, Helen Bathgate, Leona Gertz, Wanda Roest, Lucille Kaecker and Jean Whitney, new members as of last meeting. Joining the Auxiliary by transfer were Betty Waldall and Pearl Sanders.

The Apron social at the December 4 meeting was a big success. Many donations and many types were available. Gloria Buttens and her Jr. Activities committee thank one and all for helping on this project.

The Auxiliary has received a request for a child's wheel chair to be loaned or donated to a family in need of this item. Julia Gunther, PO 6-0873, who received this call, asks anyone who can aid this family to contact her.

All Post or Auxiliary members planning to attend the VFW New Year's eve party are urged to get tickets as soon as possible at the bar in Tioga Home. The number of tickets is limited to 250.

Tioga Post's first scheduled skating project was a wonderful success and all who worked so hard on it were rewarded by the delight of the 55 children who participated. Many parents were also on hand to witness an afternoon of planned entertainment.

Exhibitions of figure and speed skating were performed and hot coffee, hot chocolate and music were provided by the group of workers.

The Christmas parties are just ahead: Children's party, December 13 at Fenton High with Santa making an appearance at 12:30, and the adult party at the Tioga home December 20 at 9 p. m. with potluck supper and a grab bag.

At the next meeting, Community Service committee will be accepting jewelry, in good condition, for the jewelry sale to be held January 15. There will be no January 1 meeting so donations should be made now at the Post home.

Donations for the Retarded Children's home in Elgin are still being accepted. Furniture, mattresses and suitable items are needed. For further information contact Katherine Whalen, PO 6-1293.

The advisory committee on education, "ACE," formed in November by the Board of Education of school district 3, has been working for the past several weeks on a program to inform the community of the building program in district 3. Churchville school recently was granted building funds in the amount of $128,000 by the State of Illinois under a recent act of legislature. School district 3 must accept this money by favorable referendum to be held Saturday in the Conrad Fischer school from noon till 7 p.m. The advisory committee, composed of citizens living in all areas of the district, have been working in support of acceptance of these funds. The school district has been broken into areas with block workers used on a voluntary basis to contact voters. Earl Phillips, member of "ACE," is acting as training chairman and will be co-ordinating the election campaign. "ACE" is expecting a good turnout for the election and hopes a favorable vote will permit the addition of six classrooms, a multi-purpose room and attendant facilities at Conrad Fischer school.

HOW'S YOUR AIM?

The game is what you make it, and the score is highest for those who draw a bead, and hit where they aim.

Day to day living is a lot like that. Aiming at life's objectives and hitting them according to plan brings a satisfaction and security given only to those who play the game for keeps.

The objective of financial security, for instance, is worth aiming at. For most of us this goal can only be obtained through systematic, planned saving. Saving is an important habit to cultivate, and its merits are recognized by long range thinkers—people who are willing to forgo the fleeting pleasure of immediate spending for the deep satisfaction of future security.

Take a little time right now to think about your savings program. What are you doing about it? How much time do you have to do something about it?

Roselle Library Notes

The sight and smell of the small pine tree at the library says Merry Christmas. People dash in, return their books with cheery greetings and dash out again. There is no time for browsing and little for reading in the holiday rush.

However, those wishing to share a Christmas poem or story with the family, seeking a last minute how-to-do-it, a decorating idea, a skit that doesn't need rehearsing or a reading of the Christmas story, will find books at the library to fit the Christmas season.

Lake Park Gets $1,860 for Driver Classes

Nine DuPage high school districts have received $46,638 as their share of the statewide claim of $625,262 for the new Illinois reimbursible driver education program.

This announcement came recently from Vernon L. Nickell, superintendent of public instruction, who said the claims cover the 1957-58 school year, the first under which the new program was effective. Over 22,000 students took driver education in 388 high schools, he disclosed.

The DuPage districts included Lake Park 108 which received $1,860. Monies to other county districts ran as follows: York 88, $11,100; Downers Grove 99, $7,440; Glenbard 87, $8,460; Hinsdale 86, $6,690; Wheaton 95, $3,750; Naperville 107, $3,558; West Chicago 94, $3,360, and Lisle 109, $420.

Work on Fair Hall Underway

DuPage county's newest and one of its largest buildings — will be started this month when construction begins on the $160,000 DuPage Fair exhibit building.

Due to rise from the 40-acre fair site west of Wheaton, the 24,000 square foot modern exhibition structure will be completed during the winter and spring and will be ready for the 1959 version of DuPage's annual county fair scheduled next summer.

BOASTING THE largest unobstructed floor space of any hall in the county, the new building will be especially wired to accommodate heavy commercial exhibits and will provide a stage and seating space for over 3,000 spectators.

The brick and block exhibition hall will have concrete floor, and will house the offices of the DuPage County Fair association, owner and builders of the structure.

Financed by an appropriation from the state fair and exposition fund, the erection of the centrally located show plaza is the latest step by fair officials in making the DuPage fair the most progressive and attractive exhibition in northern Illinois. The date of the 1959 fair — the fifth presentation since its inception in 1955 — has been set for July 31 through August 2.

THEY ARE NOT!

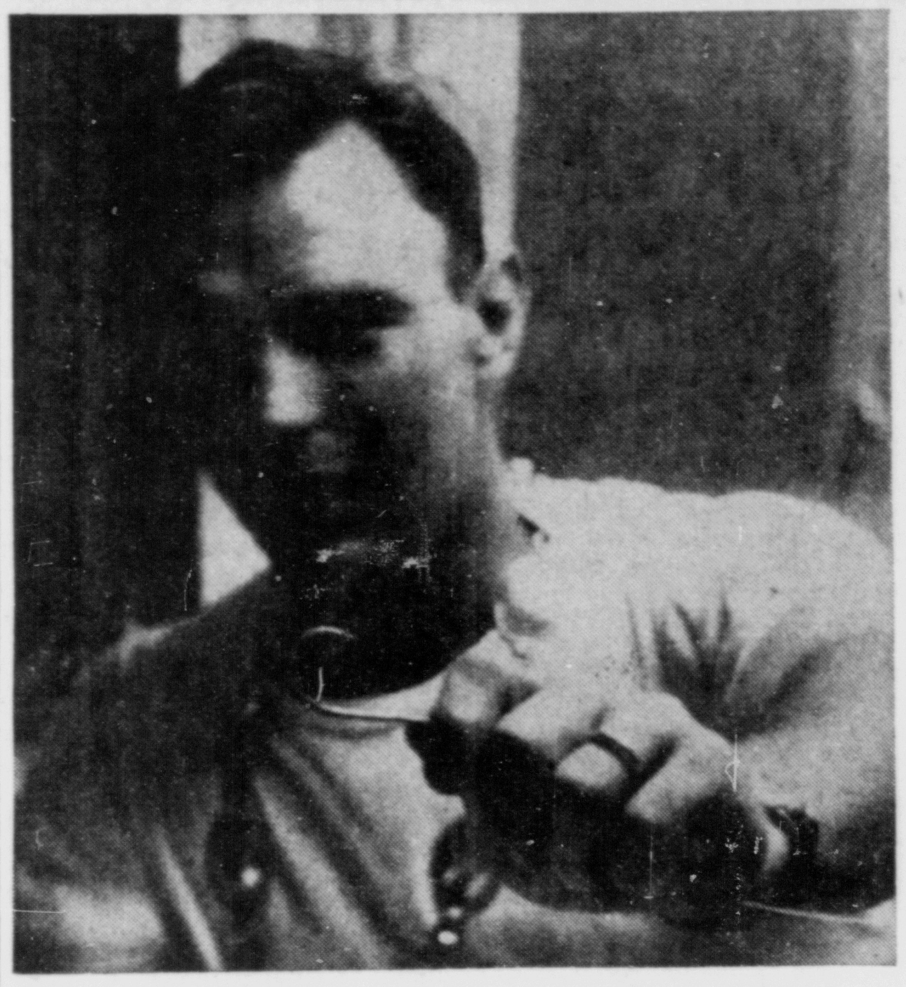
"Old Blue"

by ROY E. PETHERBRIDGE

(Petherbridge, a patent attorney who lives in Itasca, wrote this personal account of his big (fish) story just after it happened—June 28, 1958.)

Copyrighted 1958



"Here's the book that did the job," shows Roy Petherbridge

Part Five

The instant the gaff hook hit Old Blue he took off and the 30 odd feet of gaff rope paid out from the boat. All eyes were on the rope to see if the hook would hold. When the rope went taut the fish never even slowed down and tore the gaff hook completely through his flesh.

Old Blue had been hit by something on the boat, there was but one thought in his mind. He sounded straight to the bottom — one hundred fifty feet away.

We all knew that no sane fisherman has the right to get two opportunities to gaff a fish of this size and yet, through all this, the hook had held. The line had not become fouled and a myriad of other things had not happened so that Old Blue and I were back at our personal battle.

FOR A SOLID half hour, pump as I might, the closest we could get the fish to the surface was 50 feet. The mates and captain knew that the fish had been gaffed and was bleeding and sharks could attack him and the fish could die on the bottom never to be seen again.

As I lay in the chair exhausted and ready to give up the fight, ever present Al, recognizing that this couldn't go on much longer, decided to try a new tactic. He loosened the drag on the line which Old Blue felt immediately and began to swim away.

When he had swam out from the ship 150 or more feet he would slowly come up to the surface in order to rest. At that time Capt. Calvin would back his boat toward the fish while I took in line until we got within 30 or 40 feet of him.

Immediately Old Blue would sound to escape the wrath of our boat. This took his strength and allowed me to regain mine. Eight times this some maneuver was made in about half an hour and Old Blue would sound less and less each time.

On the ninth try he started to move down but stopped and again the end of the 11 foot leader showed above the water. Al's hand wrapped around the leader. Leaning far out from the boat, George made a forceful thrust with the gaff. It went in close to where he had been gaffed before, through a circle of flesh as big as a telephone pole.

THE SCREAM of delight George emitted broke the silence and seemed to be a signal to depart post haste. He swam quickly to the end of the gaff rope. The rope went taut, sagged for a moment to our despair and then held.

Old Blue came to the surface, laid full length out in the water and threshed and turned and twisted violently about.

Captain Calvin's watchful eye had seen the gaff hook hold and he immediately started forward slowly to drag the fish by the rope in an attempt to drown him.

Suddenly, with a mighty lunge, Old Blue tore the gaff hook from his side and laid quietly for an instant in the water. To my amazement, I found the hook still held and he was still on the line but, the gaff hook and pole were hopelessly wrapped around the line. Al and George distinctively knew that one swish of his tail with the 54-pound line held by the gaff rope would be the end. Leaning further out of the boat than the laws of gravity should allow, they frantically tried to unwind the gaff from around the line.

After what seemed like hours — really less than a minute — Al shouted, "Just one more time around."

While Al pulled the wire leader to add to the force I was exerting, George carefully lowered the gaff below the fish and swung it into him.

Rather than risk a repeat of the previous experience, George and Al exerted super human strength on the gaff pole and bodily pulled the fish against the side of the boat. Captain Calvin shut off the motor, bent over the side of the boat, grabbed the snout of the fish and bodily pulled his head out of the water.

Others were scurrying around, sinking smaller gaffs into the fish and attempting to hold him. Al grabbed a length of heavy rope that was already hanging over the stern, attempting to tie it around the fish's tail.

Literally hanging by his toes with his face on the ocean surface, Al succeeded in getting the rope around his tail. He then, like a kid, jumped across the boat, threaded the rope through a block and tackle and four pairs of hands eagerly grabbed the line.

Being faithful to my shouted instructions, I sat throughout this time with the line held taut. Suddenly Al reached up with his snippers, cut the wire leader, grabbed my hand and said, "He's yours!"

Ordinance No. 128-58

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ITASCA, ILLINOIS, as follows:

Section 1: It shall be unlawful for any person to make an opening in any public way or other public place without first obtaining a permit therefor from the Superintendent of Public Works.

The Superintendent of Public Works shall not issue any permit for the opening of any public way or public place until he shall have been fully advised of the time, place and character of such opening and the purpose thereof. All applications for permits shall be accompanied by a plat or pencil tracing or sketch showing the location, character and dimensions of any proposed opening for the installation of new work, or the location and character of any alterations involving changes in the location of pipes, conduits, wires or other conductors.

Before a permit shall be granted to open any public way or public place for any purpose, the Superintendent of Public Works shall make an estimate of the cost of inspection and restoring the said pavement and surface to a condition equally as good as before it shall have been so opened with a fair additional sum as margin for contingent damages.

When a permit shall be issued, it shall be transmitted to the Village Clerk, and he shall collect the amount of the said estimate and the fee for the said permit before delivering the same.

Section 2: No permit shall be issued permitting or allowing the tearing up, removing or repairing of any public way, or any part thereof, until the applicant for such permit shall first have executed to the Village a good and sufficient bond, in an amount to be fixed by the Superintendent of Public Works and in no case to be less than ten thousand dollars, with sureties to be approved by said Superintendent of Public Works, conditioned to indemnify, save and keep harmless the Village from any and all loss, cost, damage, expense or liability of any kind whatsoever which the Village may suffer, or which the Village may be put to, or which may be recovered from the Village, from or on account of the issuance of such permit, or from or on account of any act or thing done by virtue of the authority given in such permit, or for any damage, loss or expense to any person caused by the tearing up, removing or repairing of such public way or part thereof.

Section 3: All work done under authority of such permit shall be supervised and inspected by the Superintendent of Public Works.

Immediately after the completion of the work done under such authority, the Superintendent of Public Works shall forthwith cause to be put back and restored and replaced in proper shape and condition any pavement displaced by reason of such work, and shall cause to be restored and replaced the surface of any public way which may be opened or otherwise disturbed. All of this work shall be done in such manner as shall be satisfactory to the said Superintendent of Public Works, and as will leave the said public way in a condition equally as good as before it was opened or disturbed under public authority.

Section 4: The cost of such supervision and inspection, and restoring the said pavement or public way shall be determined by the Superintendent of Public Works, and shall be deducted and paid into the Village Treasury from the amount deposited with the Village Clerk as hereinbefore provided.

After completion of the work to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Public Works, he shall certify to the Village Treasurer the amount of any surplus remaining from the amount deposited in such case, and said surplus shall thereupon be paid over to the proper claimant. If for any reason the amount of such deposit shall be insuffcent to cover the cost of such work, or if any damage shall have been done to any underground work or connections, or otherwise, which shall have caused increased expenditure, the amount of such deficiency or damage shall be certified to the Village Treasurer, who shall collect the same from the person to whom the permit was issued.

Section 5: Any person who shall injure or tear up any pavement, side or cross walk, or any part thereof, dig any hole, ditch or drain in, or dig or remove any sod, stone, earth, sand or gravel from any public way or public ground in the Village without having first obtained written permission from the Superintendent of Public Works, shall be subject to a penalty for each offense of not less than one dollar nor more than two-hundred dollars for each offense; and a separate offense shall be deemed committed on each day during or on which a violation occurs or continues.

Section 6: All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 7: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect immediately after passage and approval and publication according to law.

Tollway Property Offered for Sale

More than 150 parcels of real estate totaling some 70 acres which are no longer needed by the Illinois State Toll Highway commission will be offered for sale to the public.

This was announced last week by Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the commission, who said that the properties will be sold either through competitive bidding or through direct negotiation with the commission, depending on the valuation of the properties.

"Parcels which have an estimated value of $2,000 or more will be advertised," Dearing said. "Those valued at less than $2,000 will be sold through negotiation between interested persons and the commission."

DEARING SAID that exceptions of the policy of competitive bidding will be made in cases where former owners of individual parcels have expressed an interest in reacquiring them from the commission.

George W. McGurn, chief of the Legal department, estimated that the commission would receive about $400,000 from the sale of the properties no longer needed by the commission. McGurn said that the total amount received to date from property rentals and disposals amounts to $417,520.

"These parcels being offered for sale were acquired principally in cases where the commission was faced with the alternative of acquiring only part of a property and facing a high claim for damage to remainder, or of taking the entire property at a lower net cost," McGurn said.

McGurn said that complete lists of the properties no longer needed by the commission are available upon request to the commission's legal department. Copies of this list and copies of the advertisements for bids on individual parcels will be sent to the Chicago Real Estate board and to other real estate boards in the counties in which the properties are located.

THE PARCELS range in size from very small slivers of land of nine square feet to one tract of 26.8 acres, located at the southwest corner of the intersection of the East-West Tollway and route 31 near Aurora. This large tract is especially desirable for use as a motel, service station, or restaurant site. With appropriate zoning changes, several others of the properties will be suitable for business sites or home sub-divisions.

Terms of the policy announced by the commission require that property advertised for sale shall be sold to the highest responsible bidder submitting a bid at least equal to or greater than a specified minimum acceptable amount listed in the advertisement. Sealed bids will be required and will be opened publicly. Each bid must be accompanied by an earnest money deposit of ten per cent of the bid amount in the form of a certified check made payable to the commission.

In the event of a tie in the highest responsible bids, the successful bidder will be determined by drawing lots.

Hospital's Family Contribution Plan

Chairman of Memorial hospital's family contribution plan, William F. Meyer, Elmhurst, is informing area residents of this program through the mailing of a hospital brochure and letter.

Long of the opinion that the financial needs of the hospital, which is a community-owned, non-profit organization, could best be met through a family contribution plan rather than thorough door-to-door solicitation, Meyer has underwritten the cost of the brochure so that the current Memorial hospital story could be told.

He has been a member of the hospital board of governors for several years and is now a member of the Board of Trustees.

Since 1956, the hospital, through a $2,500,000 expansion and remodeling program, has not only increased its bed capacity from 187 to 325 beds but also provided larger and more complete facilities in many of its departments.

"If the hospital board of trustees," said Meyer, "had ignored the community demands due to tremendous population growths and had not authorized these additions, Memorial Hospital would have no indebtedness today.

"However," he continued, "they decided that the health needs of the communities should be met and, as a result, the hospital now has a $1,200,000 mortgage on which it is making principal and interest payments.

"Other urgent needs are still with us, especially new facilities for an expanded laboratory. With the addition of up-to-date, expanded laboratory facilities, a true medical center would be available and ready to aid patients were we to have needed space to provide isotope diagnosis and therapy and to provide a cardiac catheterization laboratory," he concluded.

Memorial's expansion program was undertaken late in 1956 and it was the cooperative aid then of area citizens, organizations and businesses, together with a grant from the Ford Foundation, which permitted the 2½ million dollar project to get under way. All of the new bed facilities are now in use, and the entire project is in the final building stages. (D

North DuPage Continues to See County Business Pace

Late summer business activity in north DuPage continued on the increase and well ahead of the gain posted by the county as a whole.

This is disclosed in the report from State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoffman to do with disbursements of retailers' occupational taxes to municipalities covering the business activity reported by the business people during August.

Allotments to Du Page municipalities came to $78,464 — a 3.2 per cent increase over the same month in 1957 when the figure was $76,066. The gain in north DuPage was a much heftier 10.2 per cent from $8,434 up to $9,291, according to the Hoffman bulletin.

Here is the picture in the local villages with Bensenville, Addison and Roselle showing the way:

(Jenart Studio

A couple who met while students at Arlington high school chose October 18 for their wedding day, repeating their nuptial vows at 11 a.m. mass before Rev. Harold O'Hara in Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights. The former Elaine Boehmer, 415 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Robert Schaefges, 4 N. Schoenbeck, Prospect Heights, in a setting of amazon lilies and white satin bows decorating the altar and pews.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boehmer, came down the aisle in a chantilly lace over satin gown which had a square neckline embroidered in sequins and a full 4-tiered skirt ending in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, a white orchid and amazon lilies.

HER MAID of honor was Miss Corinne Clesen of Wheeling, who was gowned in a princess style, french blue, crystallette dress trimmed with a bow and streamers at the back. She wore a blue velvet matching headpiece and carried a cascade of shaded pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Arlene Dresmal and Mrs. Sharon Walter, and junior bridesmaids were Miss Joanne Boehmer and Miss Joanne Schaefges. All dressed in gowns identical to the maid of honor's, and they carried cascades of deep pink and white carnations.

Four-year-old Christine Schmidt, the bride's cousin, was flower girl wearing a dress similar to the other attendants. She also wore a pink carnation headpiece and carried a basket of pink and white carnations. Another cousin of the bride, 5-year-old David Batt, was ring bearer.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schaefges of Prospect Heights. His brother, Joseph, served as his best man in the wedding party, and ushers were Neil Walter and Wendell Schoenbeck.

ORGANIST FOR the double ring ceremony was Mrs. Richard Drolet, and soloist was Mrs. Howard Jack.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Boehmer chose a pale blue crepe sheath dress with blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in a blue lace semi-sheath dress, and both mothers had a corsage of yellow pompons and fugi mums.

A reception for 325 guests was held in the Des Plaines VFW hall with a buffet supper served at 6:30 p.m. The couple then left for a 2-week honeymoon at Miami Beach, Fla.

The young couple is now residing in Wheeling. The bride is employed in the accounting office of Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights and the bridegroom by Weber Addressing in Mt. Prospect.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Husbands Can Be Sneaky

Men continually make bad jokes about women always having the last word. I have been busily collecting data which proves beyond a doubt that this is a fallacy. Men not only get the last lick in but they are, in many instances, mighty sneaky about it.

Of course, once there was the woman who looked me right in the eye and said that she and her husband had never, ever, ever had an argument. This woman doesn't count. She either has a poor memory or she and hubby are just too lazy for speech.

I am not speaking about such paragons. It is the nice common garden variety brand of marriage that I have scouted. At discussion time in my own family, my loudest arguments are met with stony silence. Nothing could be more maddening and more unfair, and while I may be permitted the last vocal word, in the last analysis, the lord and master wins the bout.

As a friend of mine, whose spouse uses the same tactics, says, even if you do have the last word where is the glory? They certainly remain unconvinced. And they also remain so silent. But, there is an even cagier group that doesn't even fight.

One husband pranced himself off to work one bright and sunny day after a heated discussion and left behind him something which caused his wife untold agonies. In a rather prominent place on her desk, he deposited a booklet entitled "How To Improve Your Personality." What a low blow.

Another benedict had the temerity to leave a similar item entitled "How Well the Chinese Wives Treat Their Husbands" or "How To Keep A Husband Happy" by a Burmese or such. This made her seethe all day and, after she had read all the blah about knuckling under to dear heart, she finally blasted off.

However, by that time, he was well on his way to work and definitely out of earshot. So, I ask you, who had the last word? The great big male crumb.

Junior Women's Club Has Special Talk; Guest Night

The Itasca Junior Woman's club met in the Village hall November 25. After a brief business meeting, the program, "Christmas Decorations You Can Make" by Faye Bramer was presented. The entertainment was informative and of interest to all.

This meeting was also reciprocity and guest night. The presidents and their guests from the eleventh district and Du Page County Federation were invited. There were 33 members, a prospective member, Mrs. James Caldwell, and 21 guests. The guests were as follows, Mrs. V. E. Prior, Mrs. Robert Geist's mother from Massachusetts; Mrs. M. Ervin Bradshaw and Mrs. R. L. Goding, Downers Grove Woman's club, Mrs. F. J. Carnahan, Du Page county recording secretary, Mrs. Melville Modjeska, president of Du Page County Federation, Mrs. Floyd Van Schaych, president of Community Woman's club, Villa Park, and Mrs. Robert Konopasek, her guest.

OTHERS WERE: Mrs. Robert E. Fittin, president, and Mrs. R. C. McMillan, recording secretary, from Village Woman's club, Mrs. Roger W. Lund, Wheaton, Mrs. Hans Seifert, president, and Mrs. E. W. Woods from the Elmhurst Evenings Woman's club, Mrs. J. R. Warnock and Mrs. D. W. Smith, president, from the Itasca Senior Woman's club; Mrs. I. Baldus and Mrs. W. Field Itasca Garden club, Mrs. L. E. Jones, president, and Mrs. W. I. Madden, program chairman, from the Lombard Woman's club; Mrs. Thomas Burke, eleventh district Junior Director, Mrs. John Jones, eleventh district Junior secretary, and Mrs. Donald Nichols, eleventh district project chairman.

W. C. Wolf gave a brief talk about the high school bond issue and urged all to vote December 6.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

A recent telephone call from my good friend, the principal of our school, went something like this: "Mrs. McArdle, you said some time ago that I should call on you if there were anything you could do for me. Well, there is something, dear. As you know, each year the eighth grade presents a Christmas program for the Parents Guild at the time of their December meeting. Well, this year they're giving an operetta—a very unusual and lovely little thing that their teacher had seen another group of children do. Now, I wondered if you would be willing to teach the dances to the girls."

"Why certainly. I'd be glad to; I think it'll be fun. Do you have the instructions and music?" I asked.

"I have the instructions and music for one of the dances but I'm afraid there are none for the opening number and the water carriers' dance. You can just make up a little something, can't you?"

"Oh sure," I agreed (I must have been in a state of shock). After four or five nights of concentrated effort (after the children were in bed), I had "made up a little something" for the opening number and asked the eighth grade girls to meet with me after school.

Under the impression that they were trying out for the dance numbers, they were quite nervous. I think I was expected to eliminate those girls who couldn't dance well. Had I done this, as you might expect, there would have been two girls left to do the dance. Besides I just couldn't do it. They all wanted to dance so badly—especially the girls with the least experience!

They were overjoyed when, after letting each one try a couple of simple steps, I announced that they all would be able to dance in at least one of the dances. After all, no matter how they dance, their parents and relatives will think they're every bit as good as Markova.

I told them we would have rehearsal every afternoon after school, since there is so little time before the program and to come the next day with a pair of shorts or slacks. They were so excited and happy. Such chatter and giggling as you've never heard (unless you own an eighth grade girl) when they thanked me and left that afternoon.

There are very few more pleasant experiences than working with a group of children who are doing something they enjoy—and certainly most little girls (from 6 to 60) love to dance. As I was leaving on that "try-out" day, I met the eighth grade teacher in the corridor.

"Do you have anyone left to do the dancing?" she laughed.

"Yes, a few" I laughed.

My love,
Patty

Story Behind Itasca Community Calendar

Because of little interorganizational cooperation in our village, it was decided that a calendar of events would solve this problem. Itasca, being a small community of approximately 2,500 could not properly support more than one activity on a specific date. Therefore, the Itasca Junior Womans club, as a community service project, sponsored a Calendar of Events chairman, Mrs. Wesley Usher, who for nearly four months, worked and ironed out all the problems that go along with making a successful calendar. A list was compiled of all the 51 clubs and organizations in Itasca and its immediate vicinity.

Over the summer, a letter was sent to each organization asking for a complete schedule of the coming year's events, including regularly scheduled meetiings, board meetings, and public money making events, which were to be returned by September.

AS EACH organization returned their "calendar of events," they were put on a month by month master calendar. If two events were scheduled on or near another, the program chairman of those organizations involved were contacted and given suggested alternate dates. The calendar, being on a month by month basis, made it easy to note at a glance if similar functions were scheduled too closely together.

After the master calendar was composed, a duplicate was put on a bulletin board in the bank for the use of everyone and a weekly list of events was submitted to the local paper. Any additions or changes are submitted to the Calendar chairman, Mrs. Wesley Usher, and she in turn corrects the master calendar in the bank to agree with her original calendar.

Besides having a calendar of all events the chairman has a list of all the officers of the different organizations. This is also a great advantage for now only one telephone call (to the calendar chairman) is necessary to find out the officers of any organization.

* * *

VILLAGE organizations now have extra newspaper publicity for their functions, they are ensured full support by not having more than one function on a particular date, and they have information about other organizations and their officers readily available. We think these benefits, brought into being by the Jr. Woman's club and the Calendar of Events chairman, have more than justified the time, effort and money spent on the project.

Opening Tri-County Encounter

Coach Jerry Carpenter is looking for the right combination to give Lake Park its first basketball victory of the season Friday night.

Friday night would be an especially good time since the Lancers host Elmwood Park's Tigers in the opening Tri-County conference game.

CARPENTER, whose Lancers have dropped three straight games, two of them by two points or less, hopes to get more aggressiveness among his starters.

Rebounding is one of the missing factors, the Lancer coach remarked, and he hopes that Dennis Hanson may help Lake Park in that category. Hanson was listed by Carpenter as a possible starter.

Then too, Carpenter pointed out that Chuck Reeves is the only Lancer scoring. The team wasn't moving last Saturday against Carl Sandburg, Carpenter remarked, and this hurt Lake Park defensively.

ELMWOOD PARK has a good team, Carpenter said. The Tigers use only one guard, Terry Ray on the outside. Bob Plache and Bob Pfister are the team's shooters in the keyhole and John Hansen and Bob Dein are the boys under the basket.

Plache in the first four Elmwood Park games has scored 86 points to lead the team. The other team member have not averaged over eight or nine points a game.

Tiger Coach Jim Smith claims his team is missing one big man. He noted that Elmwood Park has been behind every team early in the game.

EXPECTED TO SEE action for Elmwood Park besides the starters are Jay Trungale at forward, 6-3 Dan Luse at center, and speedy Frank Caliendo at guard.

Thus far, the Tigers have defeated Riverside-Brookfield, Lisle and Marmion. Evergreen Park handed Elmwood Park its lone setback by six points.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

PALATINE RECEIVED ANNOUNCEMENT this past week that it has been assigned a sectional wrestling tournament, a repeat from last year. Arlington gets the state again and Palatine the tournament for this section which qualifies grapplers for the state events, giving the local area the best two week wrestling card in the state of Illinois. Anyway, three-fourths of the wrestling in the state is done in the Chicago suburbs where practically all schools have taken on the fast growing mat sport. Palatine also had big gate receipts for a sectional and like Arlington is centrally located in the north and west suburbs.

Wrestling a Big Drawing Card

A FEW YEARS AGO a dual wrestling meet at Palatine took in a gross of from $10 to $15. Now home meets are running from $50 to $100. Probably no sport has a better following of parents than wrestling due to the individual competition involved. Track would have the same situation but for the fact that the meets occur in the afternoon when commuting fathers cannot attend. That Palatine will have good representation in tournament wrestling this year is assured by the fine showing of the Ellis coached team in their opening meets. The Pirates have beaten Libertyville, Wauconda, and York and lost to Niles while wrestling to a 21-all tie with Waukegan's defending state champs. Palatine's boys in the lighter weights are quite outstanding and except for Captain Bill Sweet, are underclassmen. Watching the Pirates pile up a 17-2 lead and then have to settle for a tie with Waukegan, we were much impressed with the wrestling of Brad McCreery at 120, Chuck Conley 112, Bill Sweet 127, and Lloyd Roberts 175. Some of these boys may wrestle at lower weights come tournament time, but Coach Ellis, unlike some coaches, does not want his boys to diet and maintain weights at a level which might endanger their health. This weight angle of wrestling is one which is often open to criticism.

Palatine Fans Pull for Grapplers

NEXT SATURDAY PALATINE'S BIG wrestling meet of the season will occur at 2 p.m. in a matinee performance at Arlington. The Pirates are accorded an even chance of coming out on top in both varsity and frosh-soph divisions. Pirate fans would like very much to have the boys come through with victories to avenge the humiliating varsity basketball defeat the night before Thanksgiving. Arlington caught the Pirates at a low point and handed them their worst defeat, 68-25, in the long series dating back to the early twenties. When Palatine scored its first point in this game, after Arlington had run up a 23-0 lead, Arlington fans stood and gave the Pirates a hand. This is the first occasion in our memory dating back 28 years at Palatine that Arlington people ever cheered the Pirates and we hope that the situation which brought this applause does not occur again.

North Chicago a State Possibility

LAST SPRING WE HEARD a rumor from a student council meeting that North Chicago students were doing some real wishful thinking that their War Hawk cagers would go to the state tournament. This is a worthy ambition but a real long shot for any team in the suburban area leastwise a school of North Chicago's size since so many fine teams have to be eliminated to reach this goal. However, since last Friday night North Chicago's chances of achieveing this goal have jumped about 50 per cent. North Chicago beat the towering Elgin team which was rated by most authorities as the No. 1 team in the state. Elgin was at full strength for this game with their big 6'10" center, George Clark, back in action after being suspended for disciplinary reasons. Clark did not play against Arlington. North Chicago lost to Highland Park for its only setback but is coming along fast. Bob Armstead who stands 6-4, on his play at Elgin, is definitely of all-state caliber. North Chicago has a 6-4 center in Bob Armstrong and a 6-6 forward in Jerry Bernardi. It would appear that the biggest season handicap the War Hawks have in developing to state tournament standards is their Tri-County Conference schedule which will be strictly a no competition proposition.

Recommend Field Event Blacktopping

BLACKTOPPING OF SHOT and discus rings and high jumping and pole vaulting take off areas is becoming the practice in many schools of the suburban area and may be a universal idea in the future. The state track games committee recommended this for the state meet at Champaign next spring but the Illinois High School Association Board of Directors decided to defer action for another year. Palatine has had a problem for a number of years at their April relays meet of either having the high jumping take off area too wet or the ground too loose for good jumping. These areas were dug out and filled with crushed stone as a base for blacktopping to be done in connection with driveway repairs required of the contractor doing the building addition. These repairs were not made before freezing weather came, so Palatine will have to get the track areas surfaced in a hurry as soon as the frost goes out of the ground next spring. This change may mean some new records in the Palatine Relays.

This is a year of exceptionally tall players in the Chicago area in basketball. Elgin has 6-10 George Clark, Bloom has 6-6 Homer Thurman, one of the best players in the state, and a 6-8½ center in Bill Woislow. Thornton has 6-7 Bill Lentfer. North Chicago has 6-6 Jerry Bernardi and of course Marshall's state champs of Chicago have all-state center, George Wilson, who towers 6-7 and is only a junior.

Fenton at North Chicago Friday

Bisons Face Best Test This Season

Coach Charles Cole's Fenton Bisons have their work cut out for them Friday night when they meet one of the toughest teams in the state, North Chicago.

What will make it even tougher for the Colemen is that the game is the opening Tri-County conference test for both teams and will be played on the War Hawks' floor.

NORTH CHICAGO brings an impressive 4-1 record into the game. Coach Ed Woods' lads have defeated Zion-Benton, co-leaders in the North Suburban, York which won its opening West Suburban game from Maine, Elgin, No. 1 ranked in the state last week until they met the War Hawks, and Antioch by a 69-45 count.

The War Hawks' only loss was to an outstanding Highland Park quintet, 66-51.

Fenton will be playing its first road game of the season Friday night. The Bisons dropped their opener to Batavia, then rallied to beat Leyden by a point, and last Friday fell victim to Wheaton.

COLE IS STILL wondering how the Bisons can get off to a good start. Against Batavia, Fenton fell behind 27-6. Against Leyden, the visitors had an 18-2 lead before the Bisons began working. Against Wheaton, the Colemen fell behind 16-2.

"Once we get rolling," Cole remarked, "we're okay. The boys are in good shape and they're not a bit discouraged by last week's loss.

"Look at us against Wheaton Friday," he pointed out. "In the second half we outscored them. Only when we lost Hohman, Dierking and Spiroff on fouls, did they begin to pick up on us."

COLE NOTED one of his big problems Friday is how to stop North Chicago's Bob Armstead. Against Elgin's 6-10 Center George Clark, Armstead scored 20 points while holding Clark to seven.

"All he'll (Armstead) have to worry about Friday is a 6-1 boy," Cole quipped.

Woods' only worry is that his squad will be at full strength. Forward Jerry Bernardi, who goes 6-6, was out Monday with an irritated corn. Last year Bernardi lost half the season due to a foot infection. Maurice Guins has not dressed for the past two games, having had a bad chest cold.

THEN TOO, Jimmy Jones also has not dressed. He has complained of a stiff right knee.

The starting War Hawk team of Dave Bolger and Bernardi at forwards, Armstead at center, and Wendall Hall and Alex Phillips at guards have been hitting 38 per cent of their shots. Saturday against Antioch, North Chicago made 46 per cent.

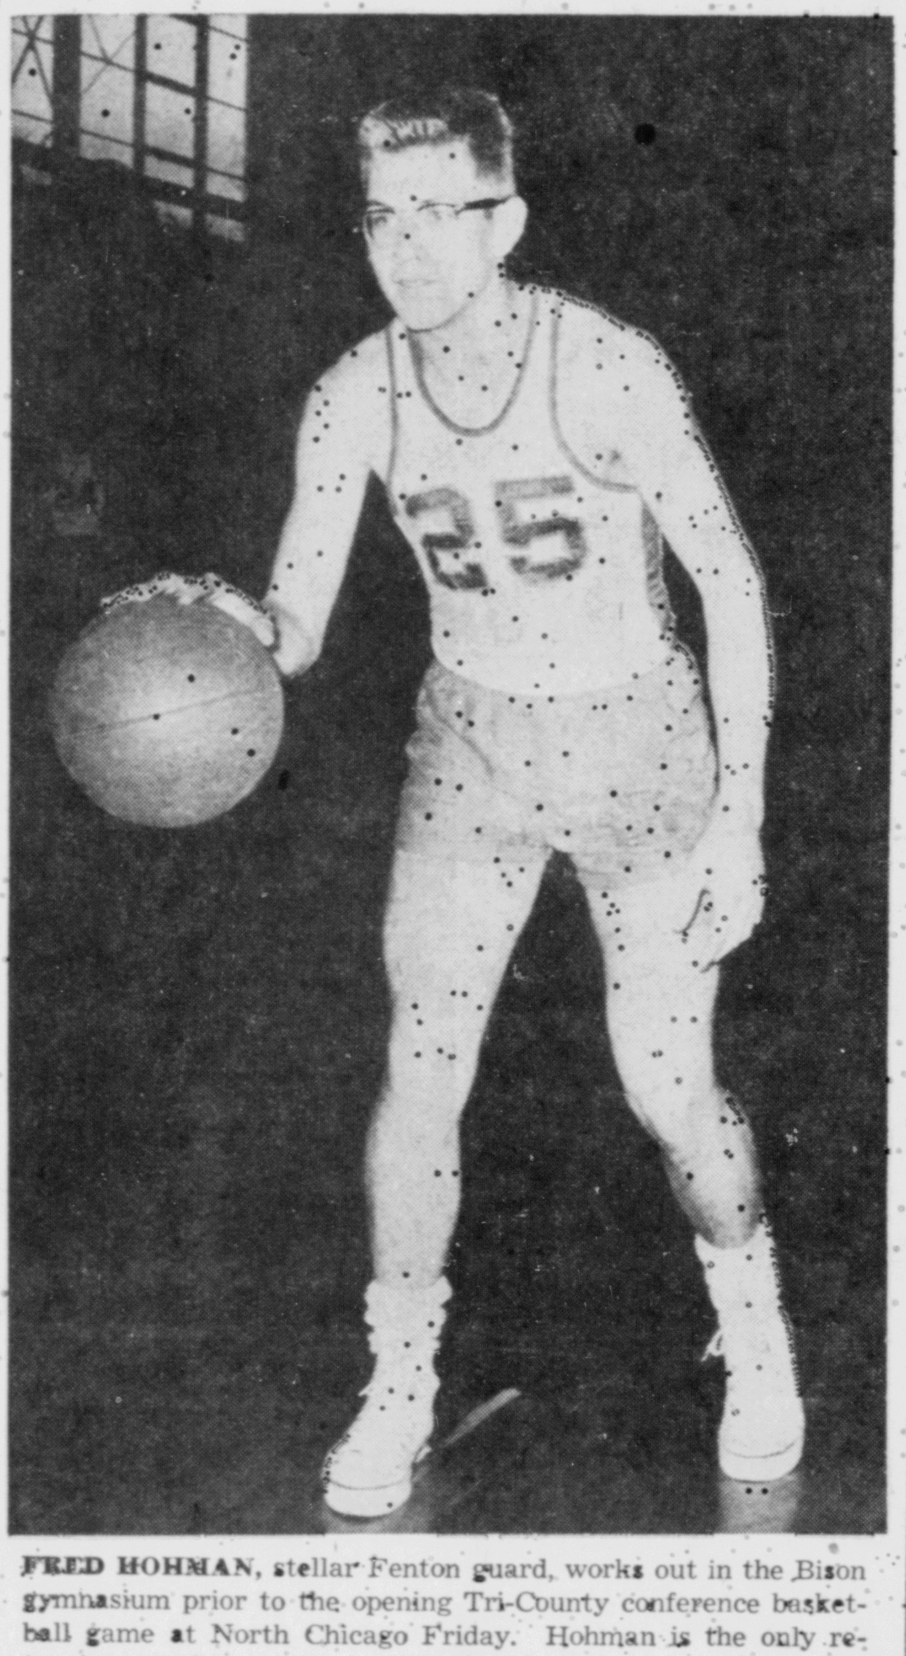
To Return Shortly

John (Jocko) Giannini, 4N642 Church rd., Bensenville, coach of the Bears, champions of the league, is expected to return from Hines hospital shortly in time to coach in the Bensenville Basketball Little league.



FRED HOHMAN, stellar Fenton guard, works out in the Bison gymnasium prior to the opening Tri-County conference basketball game at North Chicago Friday. Hohman is the only returning regular on the scrappy Fenton team.

Wheaton Beats Fenton

For the third time in as many games, Fenton high school's cagers were plagued with the first quarter blues. This allowed a good shooting Wheaton team to take a 25-6 lead which the Bisons could not overcome even though they hustled their way to within 12 points midway in the fourth quarter.

A large partisan Bison crowd, gathered for the Friday night contest, found it hard to believe as Coach Chuck Cole's boys were stone cold in their shooting, and were just ragged generally while Wheaton took advantage of every mistake, covering it into two points. The Wheaton club actually ran the lead to 42-10 at one point and left the gym with a 42-14 half-time bulge.

Playing inspired ball during the third and early part of the fourth quarter the Bisons were able to chop away at the big Tiger edge and closed the gap to 62-50 with four minutes remaining. The majority of points in this comeback, however, were made while the Wheaton regulars rested on the bench.

When Coach Jim Longacre restored his starters to the hardwood and Bison scoring leaders Fred Hohman and Ken Spiroff both fouled out of the contest, the Tigers again pulled well out of reach.

Top scorer in the game was Fred Hohman with 26 points for the Bisons while Schiek netted 17 for Wheaton. Balanced scoring told the story for Wheaton however as five boys tallied in the double digits.

Fenton JV's Triumph Over Notre Dame

The Fenton junior varsity basketball squad evened its record at 1-1 Tuesday afternoon as it came from behind to deal Notre Dame of Niles a 44-40 defeat in the Fenton gym.

Playing against a tight zone defense in the first quarter, the Bisons were unable to hit and fell behind, 10-5, at the quarter.

At this point diminutive Ted Cechota entered the ball game and cracked the defense wide open with three long field goals. From there on it was George Brown under the boards along with Cechota from the outside that spelled defeat for the Dons.

Brown scored 18 and Cechota 13 for Fenton. McMahon's 16 markers were tops for Notre Dame.

Fenton Freshmen Fall To Notre Dame, 53-28

The Fenton frosh basketball team went down to their second defeat in as many outings Tuesday afternoon to a very good Notre Dame team, 53-28.

The Dons capitalized early on a host of fouls committed by the Bisons and jumped to a 19-9 lead at the quarter.

As Coach Art Dietz poured his entire bench of 17 players into the game the Notre Dame squad increased its margin, though they too played their entire bench.

Don Gustafson and Don Adis, each with six points led the Bison scoring.

Technical With 2 Seconds Left Causes Lancer Loss

The varsity Lancers from Lake Park high school lost a heartbreaking battle to the Carl Sandburg Eagles. With the score tied at 46-46 with two seconds to go, a Lake Park player requested the sixth time-out for the Lancers. This was an infraction and the Eagles were awarded a free throw on a technical foul. Jerry McBride calmly dropped the ball through the net. That was the winning point.

The contest was nip-and-tuck all the way. Lake Park scored first and moved out to a 14-11 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Eagles fought back to move within one point of the Lancers. Lake Park left the floor leading, 24-23, at half-time. The Eagles broke the Lancer zone in the first half by hitting uncanny set shots from the corners. Jerry McBride and sophomore Duayne Erickson were the key men in this offensive surge.

BOTH SQUADS were cold in the third quarter. Lake Park secured only five points while Sandburg garnered nine. This put the Lancers behind, 32-29.

The Lancers started to hit in the fourth frame. The lead changed hands several times. The Lancers were hurt defensively and under the boards when center Dale Hacke fouled out midway in the final stanza.

Chuck Reeves tied the score at 46-46 wies less than a minute to go. Inspired defensive play by all five Lancers helped them steal the ball from Sandburg with 15 seconds to play. The Lancers tried to hurry, and in an effort to calm them down a Lancer asked for a time-out. By the time an official could stop the clock, there were only two seconds left. The official scorer informed the referees that this was Lake Park's sixth time out. As a ressult, a technical foul was charged to the Lancers.

JERRY McBRIDE, driving senior guard, calmly sunk the toss that gave the lead to the Eagles. As a result of the technical, the ball was awarded out-of-bounds to the Eagles at mid court. Steve Whipple stole the throw-in, but he missed a hurried 10 foot jump shot as the game ended.

Both teams dunked in 18 baskets. The Lancers took 50 shots and ended with a .360 average. The Eagles required three less attempt and finished at a .383 pace. Th eEagles won the game at the charity line as they converted 11 of 19 attempts, for a .579 average. The Lancers continued their poor showing from the stripe as they found the range 10 out of 24 times. This gave them a .417 percentage.

CHUCK REEVES led the Lancers as he sunk nine baskets and six of nine free throws. No other Lancer scored over seven points.

The Eagle attack was paced by Jerry McBride. The quick guard totaled 23 points, including the Eagles big final point. Don Arnold and Duayne Erickson each dealt 10 points.

University of Illinois inaugurates a new starting time for Saturday basketball games when College of the Pacific appears in George Huff Gymnasium Dec. 13. All Saturday games are set for 1:30 p.m. (CST), with the exception of tilts which will be televised on the Big Ten network. The new time permits out-of-town fans to drive home in daylight, and clears Saturday night for other campus events.

No. Chicago Nips Elgin Maroons

The North Chicago Warhawks rose to great heights last Friday as they tumbled the top ranked Elgin Maroons, 50-45. Played on Elgin's court, the game gave indications that the War Hawks will be a state power when tournament time rolls around. Even more amazing was the fact that North Chicago was playing without the services of two top boys, Jimmy Jones and Maurice Guins. Jones was resting an injured leg, and Guins was nursing a cold.

Elgin's offense was stalled by the combination man to man and zone defense the War Hawks used. North Chicago kept three men under the basket surrounding George Clark, the 6-10 Elgin pivot man. The Maroons could not break this defense all evening.

Both teams were very cold at the outset of the contest. After Elgin opened with one free-toss neither could score until Wendell Hall, 6 foot 1 inch North Chicago guard, stole the ball and dribbled the length of the court with 2:30 left in the first period. This broke the ice, but neither squad could hit well. The first quarter ended with the Hawks holding a 7-4 edge.

The shooting picked up a little in the second stanza. Big Clark dunked in his first two baskets for the Maroons and Bernardi notched 2 goals and a free throw for the War Hawks. The Red and White of N. C. picked up two more points than Elgin and left the floor at half-time with an 18-13 advantage.

Behind, 18-13, Elgin opened the action-packed second half with a full-court press that knocked North Chicago on its heels. Stalling the ball time after time, the Maroons pulled up to a 22-22 tie in less than three minutes. DeWitt Phillips, diminutive War Hawk guard, finally solved the press and saved the day for North Chicago. Bob Armstead started to find the hoop, and he dumped in 10 of the 14 points accumulated by the Hawks.

The fourth quarter was a real see-saw battle. A jump shot by Bazsali gave Elgin a 39-38 lead with 5:18 left. Little Phillips canned a jumper with 5 minutes to go to put N. C. back in the lead, 40-39. The War Hawks were never behind after that.

With a 43-42 lead the Hawks started working a stall. Armstead was fouled as he broke the stall with three minutes to play. He netted one of his two charity tosses. Elgin became desperate and North Chicago slowly widened the gap. Two free throws by Dick Bernardi were the clinchers as they gave the Hawks a 48-43 lead with a minute and a half to go. Dave Bolger hit his lone basket of the night at the horn. This brought the N. C. total to 50 points.

Armstead led the North Chicago attack with 20 points. Phillips and Hall were next in line with nine and eight points, respectively. Flynn Robinson tallied 14 points to aid the Elgin cause. Clark was held to seven points by the N. C. defense.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB BUCHANAN

THE WEST SUBURBAN CONFERENCE kicked off its 1958-59 basketball season Friday and three games turned out to be dog-eat-dog affairs. Only one was a runaway. In this corner, we expect the entire WSC season to be a close one on a game-to-game basis.

With winter having set in, the leaves having fallen, and a few basketball games under our belt, we'll take our crystal ball out on a limb, hope the sap hasn't gone back into the ground, and issue a few predictions.

West Suburban Predictions

"KICKIN' IT AROUND'S WSC Prognostication:

Place	Team	Record	Place	Team	Record
1.	Hinsdale	12-2	5.	Glenbard	6- 8
2.	Maine	11-3	6.	Downers Grove	5- 9
3.	York	9-5	7.	LaGrange	3-11
4.	Arlington	8-6	8.	Riverside-Brookfield	2-12

Cardinal fans will immediately send up a howl, that "Kickin' It Around" is not supporting the home town team. That ain't so. We support them. This is what we term an "objective" prediction. It is designed to neither put the Cardinals on a pedestal nor take a pessimistic attitude about the home town team.

It Will Be Tough to Win on Road

WE FIGURE ONE THING. It's going to be mighty tough winning on the road. In fact, we think only slightly more than a quarter of the West Suburban traveling clubs will come home victorious and most of those wins will be centered in Hinsdale and Maine. In the opening week, the four home clubs took it all. Three times this season, WSC games are on consecutive Fridays and Saturdays. Quintets will have to go all out for two days and this will have a bearing on the race. York, we think, will find it rough Dec. 12-13 at Downers and Arlington. On the Jan. 16-17 weekend, it looks like Hinsdale may suffer its first WSC loss at Maine. The night before Hinsdale hosts tough York while Maine is toying with Riverside-Brookfield. But then Feb. 6-7 we look for Maine to have it rough with a scare by Downers and a setback at Glenbard.

Cards Have Strong, Weak Points

LET'S DELVE INTO THE TEAMS for a minute.

Coach Frank Bohac's Arlington team is a good starter. This team has its strong points and its weak points. A better individual may come along, but it is doubtful if there'll be a better pair of WSC guards than Lee Magnuson and Dave Varnado. They're scrappers from the word go. Magnuson can kill you with his jump shot and Varnado can kill you wil his hands and feet on defense. Defensively, the Cards are top drawer. Before the season is out, they'll make their opponents commit a lot of floor mistakes. Shooting is a big question mark. The Cards have been both hot and cold and this will be one factor Bohac must battle all year. But what hurts Arlington most is rebounds. The Cards, we believe, will get their knocks on the boards more than any other place.

Rebounding May Oust Arlington

THE LACK OF REBOUNDING is why we believe Arlington will fall to both Hinsdale and Maine twice each. Both Coach Larry Hoff's Red Devils and Coach Bernie Brady's Blue Demons have the big boys. They'll be the reasons, we think the two clubs will battle to the wire with the final game Feb. 27, 1959, going to Hinsdale on the Red Devils' court. Behind 6-8 Center Steve Goulding, 6-5 Forward Kurt Hofmann and 6-3 Forward Bill Harlow, Hinsdale has a 4-0 record and shows no signs of weakening. Maine has its big boys in Center Tom Gebbie at 6-7, and Forwards Tom Mahon and Rich Peterson at 6-5 and 6-3, respectively. Despite a 47-46 setback at York, Maine showed it could come back after being down 19-13 at the quarter. And considering Gebbie was not at his best—he got just five points—Maine is expected to retain its spot as No. 1 contender to the champ.

Glenbard Hurt by Inexperience

YORK, LIKE ARLINGTON, will show its class but will also be spotty. Coach Dave Koch has some tall boys in 6-5 Bruce Minier, 6-4 James Boling and 6-2 Pete Voss, but none has shown he is a consistent high scorer.

Lack of experience is what may keep Bob Metcalf's Glenbard ball club in the second division. With no lettermen back from last year's WSC co-championship club, Metcalf has to start rebuilding. However, he has good material in 6-6 Center Dennis Hansen and Bob Early, Joe Kelly and Bob Finch, all 6-3½ forwards. Guard Dick Chandler, out with a broken foot, could be the spark this team needs. A regular on the soph team last year, he is expected to be in the lineup after Christmas.

Lutgens Most Hounded Player

GUY WELLMAN WILL PROBABLY have the most outstanding WSC player in 6-4 Ken Lutgens but he may never reach his peak, being hounded by the opposition on the strength of his ability and press releases. Wellman has only one other 6-4 boy, Dave Current. Guard Dennis Hauflaire, a letterman, is not fully recovered from an ankle injury yet. Downers is expected to be an improved club over last season, yet may find it hard due to the improved caliber of ball in the WSC this year.

LaGrange's Lions have shown little in losses to Morton and Oak Park and a five-point win over hapless Riverside-Brookfield. The one bright spot for the Lions was Gordon Titus' 26 point effort Friday against R-B. With Rich Jarom leading the way, Coach Chuck DeWild's R-B team may be able to halt its WSC winless streak. Though R-B has no man over 6-3, it does have five lettermen in addition to Jarom. Then, too, the crying towel should be handed to DeWild. He lost his No. 2 scorer last week when 6-3 junior Forward Bruce Jablonski transferred to a Wisconsin school.

Come On Cards, We Too Like a Winner

WITH ALL THIS IN MIND, "Kickin' It Around" thinks the eight WSC teams will finish in the order picked. Arlington Coach Frank Bohac won't agree. He thinks his boys are No. 1. We agree with him in order to be a champion, you have to think like a champion. We wish Bohac would prove us wrong and bring home a West Suburban title. We, too, like winners, especially when it's the home team.

Sandburg Sophs Win At Medinah

Lake Park's fighting frosh-soph bucketeers threw a scare into Carl Sandburg last Saturday evening. The Lancers were nipped at the wire, 35-33, but they showed that they were an improving ball club.

The Lancers started slowly and fell behind 9-4 after the first quarter. The second period was closer as the Lake Park press started to have results. The half ended with Sandburg holding 17-11 advantage.

Lake Park demonstrated its typical third-quarter spurt. The Lancer's press caused the Eagles to lose the ball time after time. Outscoring the Eagles 17-10 in this stanza, the Lancers pulled into a 28-27 lead as Gene Kropacek hit a long set sot at the end of the quarter. George Stump hit a basket and four free throws in the third quarter to pace the attack. Larry Wheelwright poured through five points and Dick Raney got four.

The Eagles came back in the fourth to pull the game out of the fire. The Lancers could only find the hoop for five points in this frame while Sandburg finally broke the press and garnered eight points on four baskets.

Lancer scoring was led by freshman center George Stump. George had one basket and 11 out of 12 free tosses for 13 points. Dick Raney and Larry Wheelwright both picked up 8 points. Eagle scoring was well-balanced as Ted Levine, Ron Lindgen, and Lance Roberts all picked up 8 points.

The Lancer's free throw average was very much improved. They connected on 17 of 27 for a .630 average. The Eagles averaged .474 as they found the hoop only nine in 19 tries.

Bison Sophs Lose Third Straight

Coach Bill Jonkheer's Fenton soph cagers went down to their third consecutive defeat Friday night as the Wheaton high school sophs, led by Paul Pfund's 22 points, stormed to a 54-39 victory.

The first half of the contest saw the hosting Bisons hang right in there largely on the fine shooting of Wayne Finke who poured in five baskets in his first starting assignment. The Bisons, not running as well or as much as they had in their first two games, trailed 28-23 at the intermission.

Wheaton began out-rebounding the Bisons in the third quarter and pulled away to a 43-31 lead at the quarter and then coasted to the final 54-39 count.

Pfund's 22 points were high for the game while Finke led Fenton with 12.

Ten Pins Over Average All Is Needed

Ten pins over average, per man, per game . . . that's all i usually takes to win the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournaments.

The men's event Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 10 and 11 at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine, will include first place teams of all local men's leagues as of Saturday, Dec. 20.

The women's tournament Sunday, Jan. 18, at Pioneer Lanes, Addison, will pit first place teams of all local women's leagues as of Saturday, Dec. 27.

WINNING the tournaments has been the goal of hundreds of squads and thousands of bowlers, but it takes "just a little above average" kegling to make the winners' circle. Any team that can have each bowler hit just ten pins over average each game can usually start counting its money.

That adage holds true in both men's and women's tournaments. Some teams with low averages often feel they have to be "hotter'n a pistol" in order to take home first place money, but it doesn't work out this way. Handicaps tend to even the odds in the big meet to make it possible for almost any squad in the tourney to have a good chance of winning.

MEN'S HANDICAPS will be 70 per cent of the difference between a team's average and 1,000. Women's handicaps will be 70 per cent of the difference between a team's average and 875. Thus, a men's team that averages 780 will receive a handicap of 462 pins. A women's team that averages 655 will also receive a handicap of 462 pins.

Winning totals have ranged from 2508 to 2603 in the women's event in the six years of the tourney. For the men the gross has varied from 2899 to 3036. Here's a record of past winners with year and gross scored indicated:

54—Reid's Apparel	2603
55—Riviera	2508
56—Lange Pharmacy	2533

58—Lohr Drug Store	2637

Men's Tourney

52—Haseman Truckers	2979
53—Black's Funeral	3036
54—Len & Sev's IGA	2899

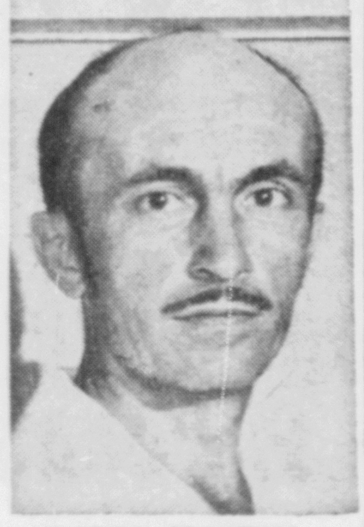
Johnson Beats Victor 3; Flood Moves 5 Games Up

J. T. Flood Engineering of Barrington increased its margin in the Paddock Classic Traveling League to five full games and almost assured itself of a berth in the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament the second weekend in January.



HARRY CLINTON

Flood's won three games from Beverly with 940, 980 and 984. Top bowlers were Casper Dewitz 649, Chris Pulos 602, and Leroy Papineau 601. Victor Electric dropped all three games to Johnson's Sporting Goods of Des Plaines, the latter shooting 1039, 1006 and 921. Harry Clinton shot 638 to lead the 10 men.

N.R.G. Construction copped three games from James Stavros with 921, 963 and 924 with Al Parkhurst leading the parade with 602. N.R.G. and James Stavros are now tied for third place, and just one game behind them are Johnson's Sporting Goods.

This week it will be Johnson's Sporting Goods meeting N.R.G. Construction at Hi-Way, James Stavros traveling to the Ten Pin to meet Flood Engineering, and Victor Electric hosting Beverly at Gunnell's. Final night of the first half is slated for Saturday, Dec. 27.

Casper Dewitz has now moved his average up to 201, one of the top figures in the suburban area.

Other leaders in the Paddock Classic include Leroy Papineau 197, Irv Hahnfeldt 195, and Tom Kouros 195.

For the first time in many years, the freshman class at Palatine township high paced the 'A' honor roll for this past six week grading period.

Generally speaking, the high school's scholarship dropped in all departments compared with the first six week grading period, with a larger number of failures, and a great increase in the number of students with incomplete work brought down class averages, according to the school.

FIFTEEN freshmen with averages of 4.50 or better made the A roll as compared to 14 seniors, 13 juniors and 12 sophomores.

Sophomores easily led the 'B' honor roll with a total of 59, while the freshmen claimed 41 and the juniors and seniors 33 and 24 respectively.

Five students carried a straight A or 5.00 average for the second six weeks. They are William Coates and Carolyn Olles, seniors; Curtis Marker and Bonnie Mastin, sophomores and Thomas Sabin, junior.

Bonnie Mastin, who is carrying one couse over the normal load scored the best average in the school with straight A's. She is enrolled in the accelerated English II course and honors geometry, which includes both plane and solid geometry in one year.

JUST DOGS

Christmas Pup

Here it is again, that time of year when everyone starts the mad rush to buy a tie for Uncle Slug, that he himself would not go out and buy, or perhaps the apron for Aunt Matilda that is something out of this world as far as colors are concerned.

Such goings on when it comes to a Christmas puppy should be carefully considered. Puppies make wonderful Christmas presents, but should not be spur-of-the-moment gifts.

A loud tie or ill-fitting hat can be exchanged or passed along to the local charity bazaar or PTA sale, but the wrong puppy is quite a different matter. Therefore, make your selection early and make sure it is the right dog for your family.

Such things as size, how much does he have to roam in, who will take care of him and such should all be taken into consideration. Regardless of the breed which seems to take the fancy of the family at the moment, remember that such things as that long coat that has to be brushed daily or who is going to take him out are important matters to be decided.

Above all, bring the pup home a few days before Christmas so that he can get used to his new surroundings before the big day, especially if there are children in the family. Youngsters get carried away by the day and sometimes will forget the new pup among all the other gifts if received the same day. Your editor punds out the same advice each year and hopes at least for the pups benefit that some people will take heed.

Good Ambassadors

Dogs seem to make good ambassadors and are quite capable of hurdling the barriers of language and ideologies in the quest for peace. At this time of year when the holiday season seems uppermost in our minds such a topic as dogs throughout the world seems perhaps a little off the subject. Unless, however, you start thinking about why we do celebrate Christmas.

Men and dogs have a natural affinity for each other and this relationship goes back many thousands of years. It is significant to note that both dogs and men are among the most widely distributed beings on earth. Dogs and men are found in both hemispheres and in all zones and climates. The exact number of dogs in the world is not known, but there is no country—behind or in front of the Iron Curtain—which does not have at least one breed or kind of dog.

An exchange of dogs and doggy information, particularly in relation to dog shows, field trials and obedience trials, is important in the relationship of men and nations. It is because the dog is a universal animal that he can fit into the role of "go-between" in the attempts of countries to understand each other. Dog owners in all countries have a common bond: their love of dogs. This common denominator can be a means by which men and nations learn tolerance and mutual understanding.

So you think it has been cold the last few days. In case it will make you feel better, remember that sled dogs sleep outside in temperatures as low as 60 degrees below zero.

Grid Fans Take Heed

"We get so many wonderful suggestions from alumni and all our great fans," Duffy told the Lansing grid bust after State's losing football season. "There are new plays and fancy strategy. The only trouble is it takes a long time to organize and catalogue all these ideas. So we hit upon the plan of using them one season every four years. The first was in 1954 (State won three, lost six), and the next was this fall."

The TV score

The United Kingdom is next with 9,313,800; Canada, third, has 3,075,000.

Television Digest estimates that the Soviet Union has 2,500,000 sets in use, though no accurate figures from behind the Iron Curtain are available.
